ASK CONGRESS TO OUST MYER AS WRA CHIEF

Blamed for Riots in Dies Report.

BY LAURENCE BURD.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 28.—The removal from office of War Relocation Administrator Dillon S. Myer was demanded today by a house investigating committee, which charged that his policy of "appeasement" was largely responsible for destructive Japanese riots at WRA's Tule Lake, Calif., internment camp last November.

Dillon S. Myer.

The committee, a subgroup of the Dies committee on un-American activities, also urged the dismissal of Ray R. Best, Tule Lake project director for WRA. It further proposed that administration of this camp, where disloyal Japanese have been segregated, be transferred to the department of justice.

Protests against WRA bungling of the supervision of Japanese internees led President Roosevelt last week to transfer the previously independent agency to the supervision of Interior Secretary Ickes, but this action did not affect the positions of Myer and Best. Both are former employes of the agriculture department.

Review Seizure of Camp.

In its report, devoted largely to the Tule Lake riots, the committee cited testimony that a Japanese mob in the camp last Nov. 1 seized control for several hours, destroyed government property, beat and severely injured the hospital director, and insulted and abused Caucasian employes held as virtual prisoners.

"The fact that disgraceful incidents occurred is evidence," the committee said, "of the complete incompetence of National Director Myer and Project Director Best for the responsible positions they now have.

"The committee's hearings and investigation have established that this riot was prearranged and well planned by the Japanese leaders and was carried out with complete surprise to Director Myer and the WRA staff."

Find Guards Inadequate.

The report observed that altho Tule Lake contained 15,000 "avowedly disloyal" Japanese, the WRA sought to supervise it with a "definitely inadequate" security staff of only six unarmed Caucasian officers and 101 Japanese wardens.

The report recommended that the duty of policing all Japanese relocation camps be placed in Caucasian officials with enough force to protect all persons and property involved. It also called for a report to congress by WRA listing the Tule Lake internees responsible for the riots and the attack on the hospital director, Dr. Reese M. Pedicord, together with information as to what disciplinary action, if any, has been taken.

Commenting on the "appeasement and coddling strategy" of Myer, the committee said he and Best carried on negotiations with the internees over the latter's alleged grievances while the Japs were in control of the camp on Nov. 1.

Failed to Restore Order.

Myer, the report said, left the camp the next day, without restoring normal order, but after having acceded to the principal Japanese demand that the entire Caucasian staff be removed from the hospital.

It was not until two days later that Director Best called on the army to restore order, when several hundred Japanese marched on his home with cries of "Get Best," the report said.

The committee said testimony submitted by Myer showed Japanese made "hundreds of knives" in the Tule Lake machine shop.

Today's report to congress was made by Rep. Costello [D., Cal.], subcommittee chairman, and Rep. Mundt [R., S. D.], Rep. Eberharter [D., Pa.], the third committee member, is preparing a minority report.

Keep Riches, Give Me Son, Lonergan Plea

New York, Feb. 28 [Special].—An offer by Wayne Lonergan, former R. C. A. F. aircraftsman and playboy, to renounce any claim to his slain wife's $6,000,000 fortune if their young son were placed in the custody of his Canadian relatives, was disclosed today at the tardy opening of his murder trial.

Wayne Lonergan.

In a letter written Jan. 25 in his Tombs cell and sent to the New York county surregate, the defendant declared the fortune had proved "unlucky for every one connected with it, including myself."

He told the surrogate he had read in newspapers that he was gambling his life against a chance to acquire a one third dower right in the huge brewery fortune.

Offer Conditional.

He then made his conditional offer to waive all rights to the estate of his wife, Patricia, 22, whom he is accused of strangling and bludgeoning to death with a pair of antique candle sticks in their apartment in fashionable Beekman Hill last Oct. 24.

A copy of his letter was produced in court by his counsel, Edward V. Broderick, and tho an attempt to read it in open court was blocked by Assistant District Atty. Jacob Grumet, General Sessions Judge John J. Freschi allowed prospective jurors to read it.

It was learned the letter contained an offer by Lonergan to surrender the inheritance rights of his 22 months old son, Wayne Jr., but it was pointed out that a father cannot legally do this. It was also noted that Lonergan's own dower rights will end if he is sent to the electric chair or given a life sentence.

No Jurors Selected.

The first day of the trial ended with five talesmen having been interrogated and all excused—three by the state, one by the defense, and one by mutual consent. The trial was adjourned to Wednesday at Broderick's request on a reason explained to the court but not made public. Grumet said the delay had nothing to do with the case.

The defendant was dressed in a blue pin striped suit and had his hair neatly combed when he entered the courtroom. He smiled faintly and took his seat. During the proceedings he listened intently and calmly conferred with his attorneys in the questioning of the jurors who will decide his fate.

Fiery bickering between defense and prosecuting attorneys marked the morning session. Broderick, returned from a Canadian trip in search of evidence which delayed the trial five days, sparred with the judge over his threatened contempt of court citation.

Motions Overruled.

In maneuvers for a further delay Broderick made motions that the judge disqualify himself, dismiss the present jury panel and order a new one, determine now rather than after the trial his action on the contempt matter, and adjourn the trial until March 15.

The attorney claimed Judge Freschi could not free himself from the emotional impulses he voiced last week when he had to postpone the trial because defense counsel was not present, that there is "great danger that prejudice has taken root in your subconscious." However, the judge overruled all his motions.

Broderick tonight repeated an earlier assertion that he knew the identity of a lawyer, who, he has said, was in the room of the murdered woman on the morning of her death. He said the attorney "has disappeared since we got close to the trial but we are still looking for him." Grumet has declared there is no basis for the contention that such a witness exists.

GREEN ALIGNS NEW DEAL WITH FASCIST FRONT

Calls 1944 Election Crucial Test.

Gov. Green last night boldly invited Americans to consider what progress toward fascism has been made within this country by the New Deal. His remarks recalled the prophecy made by the late Huey Long: "When fascism comes to America, it will be called anti-fascism."

The Illinois Republican leader spoke on a nation-wide radio hookup under sponsorship of the G. O. P. national committee. He called upon the party to put up a fearless battle for American freedom at home.

Defining the 1944 issue as between representative government, with the will of the people truly expressed in law, and totalitarianism—regardless of the name given it by the New Dealers—Green saw in the election a crucial test of the vigilance of the people.

Fascist Trend Charged.

"No thinking Americans can ignore the trend that our government has taken toward a form of fascism in the last decade," he said. "They have witnessed the insidious encroachment of burocracy upon two branches of our government in the effort to place under executive 'bossism' the legislative and judiciary powers upon which we must depend for an equalized system."

Gov. Green had a hot retort for Vice President Wallace, who charged recently that native Fascists are opposed to burocracy.

"Even the starry-eyed first lieutenant of the New Deal—and the New Deal is a mark they cannot efface—seeks to place upon the people of America the stigma of fascism," Gov. Green said. "He has stated that while democracy abroad is menaced, American Fascists are seeking to enslave us here.

Conspiracy Against Free People.

"Let us ask him what constitutes the American brand of fascism—and let us give him the answer now. The answer is that no more definite conception of totalitarianism ever came from the mind of a Hitler or a Mussolini than the political conspiracy to trick a free people into the bondage of a ruthless burocracy."

Countless attempts have been made under the New Deal to push aside the Constitution and impose the whims and will of executive authority upon the people, he said. Too many of these have been successful.

Under the false label of "liberalism," the New Deal has handed over every function of public welfare to the most infamous brand of burocracy, the governor said. The result is such a snarl of our do-

THIS TIME WONG MAKES IT RIGHT

Go Back, Lieutenant; Even Chow Mein's Forgiven.

Lum Fook, waiter in a restaurant at 18 N. Clark st., hovered solicitously about the table where an army lieutenant and a woman companion were seated last night. Lum harbored a fear that perhaps the couple had wined too well, but he dutifully brought the chicken chow mein they ordered.

As he set the food upon the table the lieutenant leaned toward him and requested two Manhattans.

Lum Goes to See Wong.

Lum was dubious. He felt the couple would get more benefit from their dinner. He equivocated politely with the lieutenant, then shuffled away to consult with Wong Hing, the manager. Wong, after listening to Lum's account, agreed that food, not drink, was indicated.

The two moved over to the table, where Wong smiled and bowed with elaborate politeness. He murmured a suggestion that perhaps the lieutenant and the young lady would prefer eating their chow mein first.

The lieutenant did not react kindly to this suggestion. He wavered to his feet and announced: "This is a fine restaurant, this is. I refuse to eat here." He grabbed his companion's wrist and left.

Wong Remembers the Bill.

Wong suddenly started in pursuit. He had remembered that the two orders of chow mein were still unpaid for. Halfway down the stairs Lum yelled at him.

Wong looked back. Lum stood at the top of the steps, frantically waving an object in his hand. It was the lieutenant's wallet, which had been left forgotten upon the table. In it was $35.

Wong said last night that if the lieutenant will return for the wallet he will even forget the cost of the two orders of chow mein.

U. S. Jap's Dash Thru Sniper Fire Saves Wounded Major

WITH THE 5TH ARMY AT CASSINO, Feb. 29 [Tuesday]—(AP).—The major was lying in the rain on a rocky hillside between Cassino and the abbey of Mount Cassino.

Every one knew he was badly hurt, but between him and the nearest man was 18 yards of open ground under fire of German snipers and a German tank which was on the road to the abbey.

The major had gone forward with one of the most advanced units attacking a castle above Cassino and had gone too far over the lip of a gully. Snipers pinned him down there. His head and the upper part of his body were protected by a little rock shelter he had piled up, but his legs protruded and he was hit several times on his legs so that he was helpless—unable even to try a desperate dash to safety.

Into Army from Hawaii.

The nearest man happened to be Sgt. Gary Hisaoka, an American of Japanese descent from Hilo, Hawaii, who came into the army directly from the University of Hawaii.

Hisaoka was almost beside himself with rage at the Germans, according to the story told today by Lt. Paul Froning of New Bremen, O. Every time Hisaoka would raise his head to look out at the major a sniper would chip away a rock a few inches from his head.

"Hisaoka began digging a shallow trench toward the major, hoping that he would be able to slide thru it and drag the major to safety," Froning related.

Hisaoka had a trench about eight yards long when he suddenly threw down his shovel. There was still 10 yards to go.

Sprints Last 10 Yards.

"Hell, I'm going now," the sergeant said. "It's getting late and I won't get there till night at this rate."

Hisaoka crouched down, slid out to the end of his trench, then sprinted across the 10 yards intervening to the officer.

"Major," he said, "I'm going to have to drag you in."

"That's all right, boy," the major replied, "get me back any old way."

Hisaoka then grabbed him by the arms and dragged him across the open space to the trench and saw him placed on a litter. The major is going to be all right after a spell in a hospital. Hisaoka is all right, too. He was away on a short leave today.

Neutralizes Mines

WITH THE 5TH ARMY IN ITALY, Feb. 28 (AP).—Crawling thru the muddy mine field on hands and knees, and removing fuses from mines with his bare hands after his mine detection equipment had failed, Tech. Sgt. Calvin K. Shinogaki, a Honolulu American of Japanese descent, blazed a trail of safety for his company during a night attack on the Cassino front.

Shinogaki's company had advanced only a short distance when mines began to go off. The men were floundering in knee-deep mud. Sgt. Shinogaki got down on his hands and knees and began to crawl. Soon he whispered over his shoulder, "Okay," and tossed a defused mine to one side. Three times in the next 50 yards the column lay panting in the mud while Shinogaki neutralized the death traps planted by the Germans. The column then worked its way out of the flat to a stone wall.

Shinogaki has been recommended for the legion of merit and the distinguished service cross.

School Children Protest Price of Candy to OPA

New York, Feb. 28 (AP).—Forty children, from 8 to 13 years old, paid a serious business call on Regional OPA Administrator Daniel P. Woolley today. Indignantly they declared they "did not understand" why, in view of ceiling prices, they were forced to pay five or six cents for candy which formerly sold for a couple of cents. Woolley said he would look into the matter immediately.

Extra Gasoline Allotted Dry Party Candidate

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 28 (AP).—An application for 10,000 gallons of extra gasoline for campaign purposes today was allowed Claude A. Watson, Prohibition party Presidential candidate, after the OPA reversed a previous rejection.

10 Hour Battle Called Worst Since Tarawa

BY HAROLD SMITH.

ENIWETOK ISLAND, Marshall Islands, Feb. 22 [Delayed].—Behind a storm front of falling steel, the 22d marine regiment swept like a tornado over Parry Island in 10½ hours today, but the Japs came up out of their cyclone cellars as the marines passed and hit them from behind.

I was one of the few war correspondents, perhaps the only one, to get ashore today. Our boat touched after the beachhead was secured, but many sniper bullets still whizzed overhead.

It was by all odds the hottest single engagement of the central Pacific war since Tarawa. As at Tarawa, the Japs shook off the stupor of the punishing preparatory bombardment and met our boys at the beach. Our dead and wounded lists grew to keep pace with our slashing advance.

The attack hour was 9 o'clock this morning. The first wave of hell-bent attackers hit headlong, thinning before a sheet of bullets that hit them the moment they landed. Parry was reported to hold more enemy troops than Eniwetok Island, where the 106th infantry, backed by marine elements, took more than three days for the job.

Hit Before They Land.

Enemy machine guns, set up on a pier nearly half way down the west beach, made this the deadliest landing spot. These guns began spraying the first waves before they hit the beach and kept up the murderous fire until they were silenced.

But the eight foot sand bank, just back from the beach, held more death. The Japs, the moment the preliminary barrage lifted, moved down with heavy weapons, setting them up in shell holes gnawed in the summit of this low sand ridge.

These Nip gun crews lived briefly, for the marines were on them like snarling wildcats, but they took a toll. The surviving marines swept on, just inland meeting small knots of the enemy trying to gather their wits after the stunning effect of the shells and bombs that tore the entire island into rubble.

Our boys killed and passed on, but more Japs came out of covered foxholes and many a charging marine was shot, bayoneted, or grenaded in the back.

Tanks Take Over Job.

Light and heavy tanks that landed just behind the assault waves roared thru the line and took the lead, the infantry plunging after, one of their missions to keep the Jap foot soldiers from swarming over the turrets. In short order the tanks negotiated the 500 yards to the east beach, where they ran into anti-tank weapons and heavy mortar fire that gave the lumbering vehicles a busy and costly go.

Despite the losses, the tanks kept on, extracting from the Nip a fearful price for his fleeting successes. The grimy tank boys, high among the heroes of this island-hopping campaign, earned their encomium today over and over.

But the tanks were not many, and the infantry didn't wait for them. One unit of 38 marines, after suffering 25 per cent casualties at the beach, charged on across the island, shooting, knifing, bayoneting and throwing grenades as it went. Only nine of the 38 were left when it reached the east beach, but these nine kept on fighting.

McNUTT DECREE DRAWS TIGHTER CURB ON LABOR

Promises to Obtain Workers Ignored.

Chicago was designated "an acute labor shortage area" last night by Paul V. McNutt, chairman of the war man power commission, in an order that freezes war contracts of Chicago industries at March 1 levels and clamps strict burocratic controls over the employment rights of labor.

McNutt made his decision despite assurances which had been given him during an afternoon conference in Washington by a committee from this city that Chicago will be able to supply the workers needed by its industries to fill all contracts.

Order Called Unnecessary.

Leading spokesmen for the city government, manufacturers, business men, and organized labor had protested to Washington that the severe order would not be necessary, and would not assist in obtaining fullest production of war goods.

The No. 1 acute labor shortage classification provides that:

1. Procurement agencies will not place new contracts with Chicago manufacturers if they would require additional workers to fill them.

2. They will not extend, or renew, existing Chicago contracts, if the contractors would require additional workers, unless existing facilities cannot be found elsewhere in the country.

3. Many prime contractors probably will have to release some of their work to subcontractors, if they do not have enough employes to handle more than their essential prime contracts, the WMC predicted.

4. The labor stabilization program announced last October, requiring essential workers to get permission to change jobs, will be enforced more strictly. It will be more difficult for the employes to obtain certificates of availability. "The program will become 'more alive,' and there will be less 'lip service' given to its observance," a WMC spokesman said last night.

Tighter Program Planned.

A more intense program will be followed by the WMC to eliminate absenteeism and labor waste in Chicago plants, and to recruit more women workers and part time employes. The labor demands of all plants in the city will be scrutinized closely.

On the Chicago committee that conferred with McNutt were Sen. Lucas [D.] and Representatives Dewey [R.], Rowan [D.], Busbey [R.], Dawson [D.], Gordon [D.], Gorski [D.], O'Brien [D.], and Sabath [D.].

WMC officials, who pointed out that Chicago is one of the last industrial cities in the country to be designated a critical labor shortage area, asserted that Chicago probably will be able to revert to a group II. classification by April or May, depending on the city's recruiting campaign for war workers.

Recruiting New Workers.

James M. Cleary, chairman of a committee representing Mayor Kelly, said 100,000 blanks to enlist new workers are being distributed, and that a $150,000 advertising campaign will start shortly.

Sen. Lucas said WMC officials told him Chicago would not be hurt by the new order, and Congressmen Sabath and Dewey agreed that the new classification would not impair the city's war production. Sabath said McNutt had informed the delegation that Chicago needed 47,000 war workers and could supply about 15,000 to 17,000.

A deficit of only 2 per cent of the community's 2 million gainfully employed persons has brought on the new classification, Leverett S. Lyon, chief executive officer of the Chicago Association of Commerce, said.

Manufacturers Object.

Objection to the designation of Chicago as a No. 1 labor shortage area was made in a telegram sent to congressional delegates from here by James L. Donnelly, executive vice president of the Illinois Manufacturers' association.

"The great number of war production industries in the Chicago area are conforming to production schedules," Donnelly wired. "We believe that in exceptional instances, where production may be curtailed by man power shortage, that the situation will not be corrected by placing Chicago in a critical area.

"Moreover such action will involve added and unnecessary controls over employer and workers, will place substantial and unjustifiable burdens on smaller manufacturers, and will not tend to promote the war effort."

Victor A. Olander, secretary of the Illinois State Federation of Labor, said: "It seems to me that a grave mistake is being made. I am puzzled as to how the labor situation can be improved with WMC labor policies as they are now."

Labor Leaders Puzzled.

Other labor spokesmen also said they were puzzled that the WMC should find an acute labor shortage here this late in the war, when many plants are laying off workers.

Daniel D. Carmell, attorney for the Chicago and Illinois federations of labor, said, "It is hard for the WMC to justify its drastic order in the face of the latest report from Secretary of Labor Perkins that layoffs and voluntary quitting have resulted in decreased employment in many war industries."

Other areas put in the No. 1 classification are Chicago Heights-Harvey; Lima, O.; Rockford, Ill.; Somerville, N. J.; Wilmington, N. C.; and Ventura-Oxnard, Cal.

The following areas were transferred from group 2 to group 3, which consists of areas in which slight labor reserves are expected to remain after six months: Columbus, Ind.; Evansville, Ind.; Lafayette, Ind.; Omaha, Neb.-Council Bluffs, Ia., and San Bernardino-Riverside, Cal.

Moved from group 3 into group 2, showing a tightening of the labor supply, were Galesburg, Ill., Quincy, Ill., and Toledo, O.

Minneapolis and St. Paul, Minn., and Williamsport, Pa., were moved from group 3 to group 4, which consists of areas in which substantial reserves are expected to exist after six months. Bloomington, Ill., was moved from group 4 to group 3.

Spencer Explains Case.

William H. Spencer, regional WMC director, said a critical classification might not have been necessary if the nation's need for immediate production of additional war materials had not forced government procurement agencies to load an increasing number of contracts on Chicago. He said that since Pearl Harbor more than 6½ billion dollars in war contracts have been awarded to Chicago, with weekly awards averaging 6 million dollars, and that manufacturing employment has increased 70 per cent since 1940. The expansion included the hiring of 630,000 additional workers, he estimated.

"Our most optimistic estimate of the potential labor supply consists of 5,500 men and 9,000 women," Spencer added. "The result is a minimum shortage of 32,500 workers, or 22,000 men and 10,500 women. By June 1 the deficit will increase to at least 30,500 men and 10,000 women. The normal influx of youth into the labor force during the summer months may be expected to reduce this shortage temporarily to 30,000 by Aug. 1."

LYLE ASSAILS GREEN, DEMPSEY IN PRIMARY BID

Gov. Green and John T. Dempsey, regular Republican organization candidate for state's attorney, were assailed last night in the first primary campaign speech of John H. Lyle, a former Municipal court judge now running against Dempsey. Lyle sought the G. O. P. mayoralty nomination several times, last year getting 5 per cent of the Republican vote.

Lyle charged Gov. Green with dictating the selection of Dempsey. He said Dempsey's many duties within the party precluded his successful management. Dempsey is G. O. P. county and city chairman.

"My campaign is based on my record in the state legislature, in the city council, and my experience of 12 years as a judge," Lyle said. "It was I who issued the warrants and designated the '28 public enemies;' I initiated the practice of setting $100,000 bail bonds for criminal gangsters."

ANTI-4TH TERM DEMOCRATS PICK TREASURY CHIEF

Edward F. Judge of St. Louis, executive vice president and treasurer of the Scullin Steel company, was named national treasurer yesterday of the American Democratic national committee, a group opposed to a fourth term for President Roosevelt.

Judge is to meet in Palmer House headquarters later this week with Chairman Harry H. Woodring, former secretary of war, and Robert E. O'Brian of Des Moines, former Iowa secretary of state and secretary of the new organization.

Meanwhile State's Atty. Courtney, Democratic candidate for governor, prepared to open headquarters tomorrow in the Burnham building and accepted tentative dates for several downstate speeches. He will attend a meeting Thursday of all members of the Democratic state ticket in the St. Nicholas hotel in Springfield.

ROOSEVELT AID DEFIES SENATE IN REA INQUIRY

I'm Answerable Only to F. D. R., Says Daniels.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.

Jonathan Daniels.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 28.—Bluntly informed by an administrative assistant to President Roosevelt that White House activities in connection with government agencies would not be disclosed to congress, a senate investigating committee today debated possible punitive action.

Forty-one year old Jonathan W. Daniels, one of Mr. Roosevelt's corps of private secretaries, incurred the ire of senators by refusing to answer questions concerning attempts of the White House palace guard to oust Harry Slattery, head of the rural electrification administration.

Contempt Action Possible.

A decision on filing contempt charges against Daniels may be reached by the committee tomorrow.

Daniels, son of Josephus Daniels, secretary of the navy in Woodrow Wilson's cabinet and former ambassador to Mexico under Mr. Roosevelt, had been revealed in previous testimony as the White House hatchet man assigned to rid the REA of Slattery. Slattery has told of conferences in the White House at which Daniels handed him a prepared letter of resignation.

4 Million Votes at Stake.

The committee, headed by Sen. Smith [D., S. C.], is inquiring into political control of the REA by the administration with a view to manipulating 4 million farm votes in the Presidential campaign.

Daniels' defiance of the committee was obviously inspired. He appeared with Ugo Carusi, executive assistant to Atty. Gen. Biddle, with whom he frequently conferred.

Committee Counsel Carroll Beedy read to Daniels section 102 of the revised United States statutes which provides that persons wilfully refusing to answer questions put by congressional committees pertinent to any inquiry are subject to a maximum penalty of a year in prison and $1,000 fine.

Trying to Protect REA.

"In this investigation, we are trying to protect REA from political control," said Sen. Gillette [D., Ia.]. "Evidence has been presented here that groups supported with government funds are trying to do that. There is testimony that you tried to get Slattery to resign, offered him another job.

"Do you want to let it stand in the record that you attempted to subvert this investigation?"

"I cannot testify in regard to my activities as Presidential assistant," insisted Daniels.

Advised by Carusi.

"Where do you get the idea that you can do this with impunity?"

"I have so been advised by Mr. Carusi."

"This committee stands in a confidential relationship to the people of the United States. The executive branch is assumed to be a coöperative branch of the government, not an impeding, interfering branch. You've been trying to get Slattery out. Have you in your possession any evidence of misfeasance or nonfeasance by Slattery?"

"I refuse to answer."

Evidence Refused.

"You refuse to give this committee any evidence which might be helpful to the inquiry?"

"If it came to me in connection with my duties—yes. I refuse to break my confidential relationship with the President."

Slattery was called to the witness chair and repeated his story of the conferences with Daniels while the latter listened. He was then recalled and asked:

"Is the testimony you have just heard true or false?"

"I refuse to answer," said Daniels.

Three women were among the 312 meteorologists graduated yesterday from the University of Chicago's Institute of Meteorology. They were Miss Harriet Rodebush of Urbana, Ill., who is taking her newly acquired knowledge to the WAVES, the women's reserve of the navy; Miss Irene Gibbons of Winona, Minn., who will be a forecaster-in-training at Municipal airport, and Miss Charlotte Russ of Rock Island, Ill., who will serve on the institute's faculty. Army air force cadets and naval ensigns comprised the rest of the graduates. Ceremonies were held in Rockefeller Memorial chapel.

mestic economy that the people are justly bewildered.

Huge National Debt Cited.

After 12 years of the New Deal, he said, our national debt is the greatest ever run up by any nation. No one begrudges the necessary funds of war, but all have a right to resent a "made throw-it-away spree of wastrels," he said.

The governor took up the soldier vote to illustrate the manner in which New Dealers ignore the Constitution.

"If we need to cite any glaring example of insolent disregard of the Constitution and of state's rights," he said, "we need go no further now than the executive effort to deprive American men and women in service of their full right to vote for all candidates of their choice at the election.

"The Constitution vests in individual states the authority to determine and set up ballot regulations and machinery. By so doing it has outlawed any such selfish scheme as the so-called 'bob-tail' ballot, which has been proposed in the most amazing piece of executive effrontery ever attempted.

Illinois Guards Rights.

"I am proud to say that, by recent special legislation, Illinois has guaranteed the full ballot to her 700,000 fighting sons and daughters. We are determined that they shall enjoy this rightful privilege—'bob-tail' ballot or no 'bob-tail' ballot."

Analyzing the blessings of the Constitution, Green defied those who assail it as old fashioned. There are millions of Americans who are "old fashioned" enough to be on the march right now to restore fully the American system of government, he declared.

New Deal Faces Test Today in N. Y. Election

New York, Feb. 28 [Special].—The first sharp reaction in terms of popular voting to the revolt this week of congress against Presidential dictation will be reflected tomorrow in a special congressional election in the 21st district in Manhattan. Reports today indicated that the blowup in Washington had measurably increased the prospects of William S. Bennet, Republican, carrying a strong Democratic district, which includes part of Harlem, over his Tammany opponent, James H. Torrens.

Landlady's Screams Rout an Attempted Attacker

Mrs. Mollie Lammersen, operator of a rooming house at 19 E. Grand av. yesterday reported to the E. Chicago av. police that her screams had frightened away a man who attempted to attack her after gaining entry on the pretext of looking for a room.

REP. FAY QUITS DEMOCRAT POST FOR N. Y. COUNTY

New York, Feb. 28 [Special].—Rep. Fay [D., N. Y.] who lost to Edward V. Loughlin last month in a contest for Tammany leadership, today resigned as chairman of the New York county Democratic executive committee, reportedly at Loughlin's request.

Loughlin, who was elected leader with 175 votes to 119 for Fay, previously led a successful movement in the committee to force resignation of the leadership by Michael J. Kennedy after the scandal arising from the Tammany nomination of Magistrate Thomas Aurelio for the Supreme court. Both Aurelio and Kennedy were accused of getting political aid from Frank Costello, slot machine racketeer.

Fay's retirement leaves Charles W. Culkin as the only holdover from the Kennedy regime among the committee's appointed officers. Loughlin is said to have asked also for Culkin's resignation on the grounds he wants a free hand in reorganizing the committee, but to have met with a refusal in this instance.

PRESIDENTIAL POLL BEGUN BY 5TH WARD G. O. P.

John Leonard East, Republican committeeman of the 5th ward, last night had his precinct captains start taking a Presidential preference poll among ward residents eligible to vote Republican at the April 11 primary.

The sample lists eight possible candidates alphabetically—Bricker, Dewey, MacArthur, MacNider, Stassen, Taft, Warren, and Willkie—and asks for first, second, and third choices. A printed explanation says the results will be given to the two national convention delegates from the 2d congressional district "for their guidance."

East called the 5th ward ideal for such a poll, because "it is widely representative of racial and economic groups."

BAR SEES NEW FETTERS ON U. S. IN MEDICAL BILL

The American Bar association's house of delegates late yesterday held that the Wagner-Dingell medical security bill now pending in congress would put all the American people "in a medical straitjacket under government supervision for an alleged service which the vast majority either do not require or are able to provide for themselves."

The bill was introduced last June by Sen. Wagner [D., N. Y.] and Rep. Dingell [D., Mich.] and would set up a program for socialized medicine which, if enacted, would result in collection of 3 billion dollars annually thru additional pay roll taxes.

Action on the bill came after the 200 lawyers from all sections of the country, meeting in the Edgewater Beach hotel, had decided the association will ask congress to pass a law guaranteeing fair hearings and the right of appeal to the courts to all citizens who get into controversy with government agencies. Draft of such a law, providing also that all federal bureaus except the war agencies adopt a uniform administrative procedure, will be sent to congress.

Death Rate Now Lowest.

The committee which studied the Dagner-Dingell measure said the "only plan comparable to the one proposed here is the Russian system, which involves the complete socialization and regimentation of medicine."

"Such a system, if followed in this country, will inevitably produce a like result," says the report. "The physician will become merely an unambitious federal employe or a politically ambitious doctor."

The report deplores that such action is contemplated at a time when "this country has the highest health level and lowest death rate ever known."

It points out also that many plans for medical care are being developed "without paying the price of socialized medicine." The American lawyers object to the law because it would:

"Give the surgeon general, not an elected servant of the people amenable to their will, the power arbitrarily to make rules and regulations having the force and effect of law.

"Furnish the instrumentality by which physicians, hospitals, and citizens can be made to serve the purposes of a federal agency.

Provides No Appeal.

"Fail to provide for a court of appeal from the action of the surgeon general. The indigent, most in need of free medical care, are not covered by the bill."

Some of the 200 lawyers from every state in the union who make up the house of delegates said the proposed law to insure a fair trial by government agencies would make impossible such "tribunals" as the so-called kangaroo courts of the office of price administration.

They added, in fact, that it was the widespread protests against the arbitrary rulings of OPA's "administrative courts" which first interested the bar association's committee on administrative law in the subject more than a year ago. They said the present action is the result.

Joseph W. Henderson of Philadelphia, president of the association, said the suggested bill will provide full hearings before any decision is made by the government bureaus and agencies, that no information used or to be used against a party's interests be withheld from his scrutiny,

"The bill would further require that nothing used in arriving at a decision be withheld from the record for review," Henderson said. The committee asked that the bill require specific findings of facts, demand a record showing the evidence upon which findings are based, and provide a simple procedure for a complete review.

LOUISIANA GOES TO POLLS TODAY IN RUN-OFF VOTE

New Orleans, La., Feb. 28 (AP).—An estimated half million Louisianans are to select a governor and anans are to nominate a governor and four other state officials tomorrow in a run-off Democratic primary winding up one of the bitterest campaigns since the tempestuous days of the late Huey P. Long.

Charges and counter-charges characterized the run-off race, an offshoot of the Jan. 18 first primary in which James H. Davis, Shreveport song writer-actor and public service commissioner, and elderly Lewis L. Morgan, Covington attorney, and former congressman, were top men.

On the stump Morgan said that if elected he would bring about a return "to the liberal government instituted by Huey Long." He has as his running mate, Earl K. Long, Huey's brother, who seeks the lieutenant governorship.

SURVEY STADIUM TODAY TO PLAN FOR G. O. P. MEET

Walter S. Hallanan, chairman of arrangements for the Republican national convention, and R. B. Creager, national committeeman for Texas, will study the interior of the Chicago Stadium today to aid their planning for the big show starting June 26. Mrs. Bertha Baur, Illinois national committee woman, will accompany them.

Creager interviewed several manufacturers in his role as chairman of the subcommittee on badges for the convention.

"Metal badges are out because of the war," he reported. "We will be glad to think we are saving a good deal of metal for our fighting forces. We will have badges of plastic or fiber, which are perhaps not as attractive, but will cost less."

N. Y. Republican Leader Asks Dewey Nomination

HOUGHTON RAPS TREND IN U. S. TO STATE SOCIALISM

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

Foggy thinking by propagandists and politicians who do not see the difference between state socialism and democracy was arraigned yesterday by Dr. Will H. Houghton, president of Moody Bible institute. He told the 1,200 members of staff and student body that many have been misled to believe that Russian and British political systems approach American democracy.

Dr. Houghton asserted the constitution of the United States "was given for an hour like this," to point out the kind of democracy the country is sending its fighting men out to defend. He asserted that the idealists' talk about fighting for "the four freedoms" is often muddled, and asked if "our sons are fighting for the America of our fathers or the America of the experimenters."

Washington or Stalin?

"We shall not embarrass our leaders by asking them which brand of 'democracy' is to be given to the nation," said Dr. Houghton. "Even the schoolboy should know that the political systems of Russia, Great Britain, and America are poles apart. There is much muddled thinking in this realm. Are our boys giving their lives merely to decide what form of state socialism is to obtain in the world? Are the specifications for tomorrow to be taken from Washington, Lincoln, and Jefferson, or from Stalin and Marx?"

Dr. Houghton declared the essential principle of the Constitution—that the derivation of governmental powers is the consent of the governed—is in eclipse in most countries of the world, with general denial of Blackstone's view that the primary end of the state is to maintain personal and civil rights.

Many Don't See Difference.

"This idea," said Dr. Houghton, "cuts across the thinking of most governmental leaders at home and abroad. So far astray are they that the majority of these leaders in other lands, and many in our own country, are in a fog as to the difference between democracy and state socialism.

"The only safeguard is not in demagoguery, not in experiment, but in careful adherence to the Constitution. Only a fool would claim that our Constitution has given us a political economy without fault or flaw. Representative government will not iron out all inequalities, but it will do more to reduce them to the minimum than any other system ever devised."

DEMANDS ARMY EASE PHYSICAL BARS TO DRAFT

Requirements Too High, Says Rep. May.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 28.—Congressional hopes of easing the draft of fathers by inducting a large proportion of those now in 4-F were blasted today by a five man medical commission appointed by President Roosevelt in a report opposing the lowering of physical standards for the army and navy. The commission said that the induction of family men is necessary.

The report met with immediate congressional opposition when Rep. May [D., Ky.], chairman of the house military affairs committee, asserted that the army should "lower its physical requirements, reclassify those who have been rejected, and quit rejecting men because of illiteracy."

May Call House Hearings.

A statement in the report that between 250,000 and 280,000 men now classified as 4-F in the draft might be found fit for general military duty if a review of the whole 4-F group were undertaken brought a threat from Rep. Costello [D., Cal.], chairman of a house military affairs subcommittee, that hearings may be called to study the classification of an estimated 3½ million men as 4-F.

From Sen. Wheeler [D., Mont.] came the comment that "You don't have to be an expert to know that there are many thousands of men classified as 4-F for some minor defect who could be used by the army."

The commission, which said army-navy efficiency would be lowered if physical requirements are relaxed, disclosed that it had recommended certain changes in physical standards for induction, but did not describe their nature.

Present Draft Status.

The report included a statement on the distribution of draft registrants as of Dec. 1, 1943, prepared by the selective service system, indicating that 11,836,000 men were deferred because of physical, occupational or dependency reasons on that date. Distribution was as follows:

|---|---|
| Total living registrants | 22,138,000 |
| In the services [inducted] | 6,540,000 |
| In the services [enlisted] | 2,430,000 |
| Disqualified after physical examination | 3,357,000 |
| In process of classification, examination or induction | 1,090,000 |
| Deferred [occupational reasons] | 3,834,000 |
| Deferred [dependency reasons] | 4,645,000 |
| Deferred [other reasons] | 152,000 |
| Unclassified and unknown | 90,000 |

Two days ago President Roosevelt requested a review of occupational deferments, with special emphasis on an estimated 930,000 childless married men under 26 years of age.

Doctors' Conclusions.

Conclusions in the commission's report were:

1. Physical requirements for induction cannot be reduced below the recommended changes without impairing the efficiency of the army and navy.

2. The saturation point has been reached in the number of men inducted for limited service because needs in this category are being met by men already in service who are no longer fit for general duty.

3. The urgent need of the army and navy is for men physically qualified for general service.

4. Man power needs cannot be met by lowering physical standards.

5. There are not sufficient men in 1-A to meet the needs of the services, so selective service must turn to family men or "other available sources."

LONDON PAPER PLUGS F. D. R. TO YANKS ABROAD

BY WALTER TROHAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 28.—New evidence of British campaigning for a fourth term for President Roosevelt reached the capital today with the arrival of a copy of the Jan. 30 issue of the London Sunday Chronicle.

The publication seized upon the President's 62d birthday to plug for votes among soldiers stationed in England, Scotland, Wales, and Northern Ireland.

The paper carried a three column cartoon showing the President raising his hat and beaming upon large crowds gathered in front of the White House under banners proclaiming "Roosevelt Again" and "F. D. R. for Fourth Term." The cartoon was captioned "Many Happy Returns."

Has Million Circulation.

The Sunday Chronicle has a circulation of more than a million. It is read by American soldiers whose votes are being sought by the New Deal under the federal bob-tailed ballot, which is deadlocked on Capitol hill.

The paper is edited by James Gomer Berry, chairman of Allied Newspaper Ltd., who has been made a baron. He ranks with Beaverbrook as a power in British circles. Beaverbrook has boasted that his publications have a circulation of 500,000 among American troops. His boast carried the intimation that his London Daily Express is a power in molding soldier opinion.

Cabinet Linked to Drive.

It has been charged by Republicans that the British are conducting a heavy propaganda campaign among American troops for the fourth term. Direct evidence linking the British cabinet to the campaign was discovered in a British official publication welcoming American troops on their arrival in England.

The publication, printed by the British ministry of information, which is headed by Brendan Bracken, intimate of Prime Minister Churchill, charged that a 50 million dollar campaign fund was being raised to defeat Mr. Roosevelt. The article ignored the existence of the legal limit of 3 million dollars on Presidential campaign expenditures.

At the British ministry of information in London, it was said that the article was supplied by an American press service. The service denied that such an article had been sent out of this country.

Other campaign plugs for the 4th term have appeared in a number of British papers, including the Yorkshire Post, which is recognized as the mouthpiece of Foreign Minister Anthony Eden, and the Church of England Newspaper, one of the publications of Britain's established church.

Gets $11,200 at Bank; Inquiry Ordered.

Joseph Diller, 95, who made thousands of dollars operating cheap hotels, was found dead in bed yesterday. His 14 cats and four dogs were sleeping nearby. His bank book showed a balance of $13,600. Coroner Brodie ordered a chemical analysis of his vital organs.

Diller had lived in a 12 room flat at 702 S. State st. several years. He paid $23.50 a month rent and shared the space with his pets, his housekeepers, Mrs. Marie Ruehl and Mrs. Cora O'Neill, and Mrs. Ruehl's husband, Elmer.

Weekly appearances for the last eight months of Diller, riding in a wheelchair pushed by his housekeepers, at the Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust company had interested police and bank officials because Diller withdrew $200 or more on each visit.

$11,200 Drawn in 8 Months.

He withdrew $9,000 in the last six months of 1943 and had withdrawn $2,200 this year when police took up his passbook and the bankers urged him to be more conservative with his savings.

Mrs. Ruehl said there was nothing mysterious about the withdrawals. She bemoaned her bad luck because, she said, Diller died before getting around to making a will in which he had indicated he would leave most of his money to her and to Mrs. O'Neill.

"Saturday night he told me to get him a lawyer to draw his will," she said. "I told him it was too late and he said to get him one Monday morning. And look what happens. When Cora goes up this morning to make the fire for him, he's dead."

Tells How Money Was Spent.

Mrs. Ruehl said the weekly withdrawals were used to keep the household going and to pay up old bills, explaining:

"There was 50 cents a day for coal for the four stoves and 15 cents a day for kindling. I guess those dogs and cats cost him about $3 a day to feed, and he ate heavily himself. Liked his beer, too, and drank a lot. At 25 cents a bottle. Last thing Sunday night he had beef stew and five bottles of beer. He came from Germany and always liked his beer."

Coroner Brodie was asked by Jack Rubens, chief investigator of the public administrator, to inquire into the death. Attorneys said that if Diller left no will and no relatives were found his estate would revert to the state after all claims were satisfied.

$249 TIRES STOLEN.

Peter W. Dargis, owner of a service station at 6532 S. Talman av., reported to New City police yesterday that thieves broke into his office in the week-end, and stole 22 tires, valued at $249.

SOFT BEDS, WATER IN FAUCET ENJOYED BY CARLSON RAIDER

Home after 22 months in the South Pacific with Carlson's raiders, Sgt. Edward D. Jones, 29, of 809 Burlington av., Western Springs, is pleasantly shocked to find hot water still comes from a faucet, beds are soft, that home cooking beats marine chow, and that night clubs and theaters are open on brightly lighted streets.

Sgt. E. D. Jones.

Sgt. Jones, who left the University of Washington to join the marine corps, is a son of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Jones. His father is an employe of the bureau of internal revenue in Chicago. Altho glad to be home, Sgt. Jones says he still misses the raiders of his platoon in which he was the leader of a machine gun section.

"With us," he said, "there was no class or racial distinction. When you see men of many beliefs working and fighting together as a smooth team you get a better idea of what you are fighting for."

SUPREME COURT SNIPED AT AGAIN BY FRANKFURTER

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 28.—Verbal sniping on the Supreme court front was renewed today by Associate Justice Frankfurter in a dissenting opinion in which he was joined by Justices Roberts and Jackson.

Frankfurter took to task the six other justices, headed by Chief Justice Stone, who delivered a majority opinion, dismissing for want of jurisdiction a suit challenging constitutionality of a clause of the 1942 revenue act.

Applies in 10 States.

The case was an appeal from a decision of the Louisiana Supreme court involving the inheritance tax on the estate of Sam Weiner Jr. The attorney general of the United States and the internal revenue bureau had held that the heirs owed an inheritance tax on the entire "community" estate rather than upon the ½ interest in the estate inherited by them.

The clause referred to in the revenue act applies to assessment of estate taxes in the 10 "community property" states of the country. The act provides that on the death of one spouse federal estate taxes are to be assessed on the total value of property held by both spouses at the time of the death of one of them. Louisiana's estate taxes are assessed at the rate of 80 per cent of federal taxes.

The Louisiana Supreme court ruled that any such finding would violate the due process guarantee of the 14th amendment of the Constitution of the United States. Today's action by the United States Supreme court allows the Louisiana court's decision to stand.

Uses 4,500 Words.

The 14th amendment provides no state may "make or enforce any law which shall bridge the privileges or immunities of citizens . . . nor shall any state deprive any person of life, liberty, or property without due process of law, nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws."

Frankfurter employed more than 4,500 words in lecturing his colleagues for not accepting jurisdiction in the case, laying down what he deemed the duties of the court to be.

"On no one I venture to believe has the conviction stronger hold than on me that it is important to postpone constitutional adjudications, and, therefore, constitutional conflicts until they are judicially unavoidable . . ." he said. "But the duties of this court do not hang on the thread of mere verbalism. . . .

Cite Numerous Precedents.

"We ought not to create a constitutional grievance which the parties themselves have never entertained in order to avoid adjudication of the only question which has been in the case from the beginning."

Justice Stone's majority opinion cited numerous legal precedents for the ruling that the high court lacked jurisdiction. The chief justice was joined in his opinion by Justices Black, Reed, Rutledge, Douglas, and Murphy.

Frankfurter, in his dissent, asked if there was any doubt that "everybody" knew what was at issue.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 28.—Eight Republican congressmen from Indiana today charged Democratic Gov. Schricker of Indiana with attempting to make a "political issue" out of soldiers' vote legislation in the state.

The congressmen protested in a statement against the "intemperate" reply last week by Gov. Schricker to a suggestion from Sen. Willis [R., Ind.] that the state legislature be convened as soon as practical to revise absentee voting laws to facilitate soldiers' balloting. Schricker told Willis the latter had sent a "political telegram" and said he would call the legislature "without Washington dictation."

The congressmen said they have frequently received requests and suggestions from Gov. Schricker and have honored them courteously, and hence were surprised at the governor's reply to Sen. Willis. The eight representatives are Halleck, Springer, Harness, Wilson, Landis, Grant, Gillie, and Johnson.

SENATORS OFFER ANOTHER ARMY VOTE PROGRAM

Washington, D. C., Feb. 28 (AP).—A federal service ballot, acceptable only if state legislatures authorize its use, was suggested today by senate service vote conferees—but nothing came of it.

Senate advocates of federal ballot voting made the proposition to house conferees in one more effort to overcome constitutional objections to a government distributed voting blank.

But state rights supporters from the house asked a day to study the proposal, obviously dissatisfied with anything that would send federal ballots to states which have their own absentee voting laws.

WAR CUTS MEAT RATION OF NAZIS IN HALF: DARRAH

Troops Still Well Fed; Food Prices Up.

BY DAVID DARRAH.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LISBON, Portugal, Feb. 28.—Germany is facing severe difficulties in producing and rationing food as the war advances into its fifth year. This statement is based upon information which I was able to assemble while interned 400 days in Baden-Baden.

In appearance the Germans do not look pinched or starved as they did in 1918, but their standard of living has been reduced sharply since the beginning of the war. The ration of meat, for instance, is one-half what it was at the beginning of hostilities.

While Germany may not be conquerable by blockade and famine, food and how to get more of it remain the preoccupation of every German. In what the Germans call the 59th war ration period, which is the period from Feb. 7 to March 5, there is especially a lack of fat material. Fruits and fresh vegetables are scarce.

In restaurants an average meal consists of a plate of soup, a meager portion of meat twice a week, cabbage or potatoes, and a heavy pudding lacking nourishment.

Get Black Bread.

Food priority is held theoretically by the army, by workers in heavy industries, and by children. Soldiers and favored industrial workers, needless to say, live on the fat of the land. Pre-war beer is brewed for soldiers, but the public gets only near beer.

The average German gets 80 grams of white bread daily which means about two thin slices, and 300 grams of composite or black bread. Some workers get nearly double this ration, and soldiers get about all they want.

The German adult consumer now is entitled to 250 grams of meat a week. At the start of the war he got 500 grams. This was decreased by 100 grams in 1941, and last June was cut to 250 grams. Pork constitutes two-thirds of German meat consumption. Great difficulties are experienced in getting animal food, and farmers often are ordered not to raise poultry so as to save the food for pigs.

Fats for average adults are rationed at the rate of 250 grams a week. This includes a small amount of butter, also lard and other such ingredients. The cheese ration is 125 grams a week, and sugar 250 grams a week. At this period potatoes form the staple food of all classes, but in recent weeks a shortage has been indicated.

Six Eggs Per Month.

The wine ration is about a quart a month. Eggs are rationed at the rate of four to six a month, but poultry, vegetables, and fruit are not rationed.

Coal is rigidly limited and houses may not be heated to more than 64.4 degrees Fahrenheit. Ration cards also call for such items as synthetic honey, and artificial cocoa powder which are distributed periodically in small quantities. Coffee and tea have disappeared but synthetic imitations of each are unrationed.

German prices, of course, are fixed and rigidly controled by price commissioners, tho they may vary slightly from region to region. Economics Minister Walther Funk admits a 10 per cent increase since the start of the war.

Meat 48c a Pound.

A pound of meat in Germany costs now 1 mark 20 pfennings or 48 cents. Officially the exchange rate is 2 marks 50 pfennings to the dollar, a pfenning being valued at .4 cent. An egg costs 12 pfennings, bottled beer is 80 pfennings. A German pays his barber 1 mark 35 pfennings for a haircut. Doctors charge 5 to 10 marks per visit. The average restaurant meal costs 2 to 3 marks.

A pair of shoes is 15 to 20 marks. Women's stockings are 2 marks 50 pfennings a pair. A German pays 70 marks for a hand-me-down suit or about 200 marks for a tailored suit. Shirts cost 5 to 15 marks. Nearly all materials are artificial textiles.

Theater and transportation prices are low.

GLOOMY NAZIS FROM U. S. CROSS FRENCH BORDER

IRUN, Spain, Feb. 28 (AP).—Three train loads of German wounded soldiers, diplomats, and officials from the United States crossed the Spanish frontier into German occupied France near here today. Observers said a gloomier lot seldom had been seen in these parts.

The party formed a contrast to the group of Americans who last week crossed the frontier into Spain, en route to Lisbon for exchange. The Americans were thin, but they were enthusiastic, happy, talkative, and cheerful.

In San Sebastian the local German Nazis came down to the station platform and stood stony-faced as they gave the Hitler salute to a train load of German wounded and diplomats. The wounded stared back from the car windows, and said nothing. Neither did the members of the local delegations.

DROP GAS COUPON CHARGE.

John Stopka, 33, of 2122 Schiller av., charged by the office of price administration with illegally selling 5,700 TT gasoline coupons, was discharged yesterday by United States Commissioner Walker on a motion by Assistant United States Atty. John McCormack.

SAMPLE INCOME TAX RETURN OF A MYTHICAL TAXPAYER, SHOWING HOW TO FILL OUT SIMPLIFIED FORM.

OPTIONAL FORM REPRODUCED TO AID TAXPAYERS

Tribune Prints 1040A Filled-In Sample.

The short or "optional" return form 1040A which some taxpayers are privileged to use in filing a return on their 1943 income and victory tax liability is reproduced today by THE TRIBUNE. A filled-in sample of the 1940 form was reproduced earlier, and a series of 28 articles explaining the income and victory tax was concluded recently.

Deputy Matt E. Lorenz on the staff of Carter H. Harrison, collector of internal revenue for the Chicago area, filled in the so-called simplified form.

Restrictions Are Outlined.

By comparison with the 1040 return form, the optional 1040A form is simple. Its use is restricted to individuals or married couples with total income of not more than $3,000, providing such income is derived solely from salary, wages, dividends, interest, or annuities. Any one receiving income from rents, royalties, or from the sale of securities or other assets must use the long form. Married couples may file a joint return on the short form if on July 1, 1943, they were married and living together.

Return for Single Person.

The filled-in 1040A return is for a single person who earned $2,475 in 1943. The taxpayer's employer withheld $231.25 from her 1943 earnings, and she paid one-half of her 1942 tax of $220.30.

Steps taken in computing the 1943 income and victory tax on the basis of these figures can be followed readily in the accompanying form.

2 RECORDS FALL IN CITY'S FOURTH WAR LOAN DRIVE

The 4th war loan drive yesterday had set records in both individual bond sales and in over-all total, as drive officials made plans to count an expected month-end flood of pay roll deduction purchases which, it was reported, may send the E bond total near the $130,901,300 quota for Chicago and Cook county.

Week-end reports of $3,710,000 in E bond sales raised the total to an all-time high of $103,002,000 and 78 per cent of the quota.

Total week-end reports of $8,294,000 raised the county's grand total to $919,453,000 or 127 per cent of the quota of $721,818,400, highest total and percentage for any war bond drive here.

The Filipino Guerrillas of Bataan association will seek to sell $1,000,000 in war bonds to buy two Flying Fortresses—one for Gen. MacArthur, the other for Gen. Eisenhower.

ANYTHING A G.I. DREAMS OF FREE AT LONDON CLUB

'Rainbow Corners' Is Popular Hangout.

BY ROBERT CROMIE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Feb. 27.—They call it Rainbow Corners and the name is well chosen. This huge club is one of the many sponsored by the American Red Cross and is in the heart of the dubious pleasures of Picadilly Circus. It serves as a clearing house for thousands of Yanks daily—providing advice, beds, loans, meals, recreation and information—in short, everything a lonesome visitor can dream of.

Rainbow Corners was started slightly more than a year ago and on the first day attracted only three curious G. I.s. A week later officials thought capacity had been reached. Rainbow Corners now occupies two complete buildings and portions of a couple more, and the cafeterias are capable of serving 2,000 single meals. When the first anniversary party was held Dec. 5, more than 70,000 soldiers, sailors, WACS and their guests were checked in.

Free Theater Tickets.

A visit to Rainbow Corners makes it easy to see why it is so popular. The ground floor offers an information desk where, it is estimated, 500,000 questions are answered monthly and a cashier where American money can be changed into English at a better rate than can usually be obtained.

There G. I.s on the prowl can check their watches and excess money. Free theater tickets, free tours of London, free arrangements for spending furloughs in private homes and free shopping service are offered.

One flight down a jam session is given by an English band. In one corner a volunteer mends clothing and sews on buttons and uniform stripes, while at a nearby desk Adele Astaire gives service in writing home letters. There is also a first aid room.

The second and third floors of one building are given over to cafeterias, which are used alternately. The top floors of an adjoining building house services such a place where "furlough loans" may be floated—usually limited except in emergencies to $2 a day.

Here a former banquet hall has been converted for dancing, movies and plays, a game room for ping-pong, billiards and pinball machines, and a juke box. There is a lounge where G. I.s may read, relax, write letters, listen to "long hair concerts," draw, paint, have pencil sketches of themselves made by Miss Ilse Schluter, a Brooklyn, N. Y., artist, or have photos taken.

Finds Beds for Yanks.

Verbon Gay, associate director, properly proud of Rainbow Corners, explains that one of his principal duties is assigning visiting troops to beds in the other numerous Red Cross clubs. Rainbow Corners itself has only 70 beds available and uses them only in an emergency.

Among the staff members are Helen Elting of Boston, Mass., Marguerite Tickle of Carmel, Cal., Josephine Sippie of St. Louis, Mo., Judy Underdown of Odessa, N. Y., and Elizabeth O'Connor of Montclair, N. J.

Finds Boys from Chicago.

Mrs. Harvey Gibson, director of Rainbow Corners, at the moment we saw her, was congratulating Staff Sgt. John Disher, 20, of Fredericktown, Mo., who had just completed his 25th mission as ball-turret gunner on a Flying Fortress. Disher stood at the head of the staircase and bawled in his best sergeant's manner:

That's how we met the following:

Corp. Charles G. Nickels, 1421 W. Gregory st., an air force mechanic, who, with Corp. Leonard Poplisky, 1225 S. Kolin av., a fellow mechanic, is paying his first visit to London; Sgt. Edward Drew of Rochester, Ind., gunner on a Marauder bomber, Staff Sgt. John F. Wojtowicz, 2128 S. Harding av., an amphibian engineer with service in Africa, Italy, and Sicily, Pvt. Edward Finder, 1809 W. 13th st., of the glider troops; Corp. Ralph Kaufmann, 221 E. 70th st., Harry M. Schuldt, 927 Wilson av., of the air force supply division, whose wife, Ruth, lives in Arlington Heights.

POLISH ENVOY TO U. S. ARRIVES IN LONDON; MEETS EXILED CHIEFS

LONDON, Feb. 28 (AP).—Jan Ciechanowski, Polish ambassador to Washington, arrived in London today with the latest United States government views on the Russian-Polish dispute and went immediately into consultation with Premier Stanislaw Mikolajczyk and Foreign Minister Tadeusz Romer of the exiled Polish government.

An early meeting of the cabinet was expected as the members were eager to learn if the United States was in agreement with Prime Minister Churchill's support of Russian views on the border question.

The exiled government meanwhile had learned of the distribution of leaflets in Warsaw telling of the appointment of a new commander in chief of Polish forces by the national council in Poland, as a rival to Gen. Kazinierz Sosnkowski, the commander appointed by the London group. The London Polish government regarded the new national council as fictitious.

EGYPT PROTESTS TO U. S. ON PALESTINE TALKS IN CONGRESS

CAIRO, Egypt, Feb. 28 (AP).—Mustafa Nahas Pasha, Egyptian prime minister and foreign minister, has written United States Minister to Egypt Alexander Kirk protesting against speeches made in congress favoring the recognition of Palestine as a Jewish nation and the unrestricted settlement of Jews there. The text of the letter was not made public and American diplomatic officials declined comment, but it was learned that Nahas Pasha said Egypt disapproved of such statements if they represent the official American opinion, and said Egypt would not recognize Palestine as a Jewish nation.

F. D. R. ASKS U. S. FAVOR RETURNED VETS FOR JOBS

Washington, D. C., Feb. 28 (AP).—President Roosevelt laid down today as a flat government policy the principle that ex-service men shall get preference in federal employment.

Furthermore, Mr. Roosevelt asked congress for legislation which would empower the President for the rest of the war and five years afterward to designate federal jobs which would be available exclusively to veterans.

Where nonveterans are not excluded from competition for employment, veterans, under this proposed legislation, would get special consideration thru a system of adding war service points to their other qualifications.

Set Out in Letters.

The President added that the record of the government as to veterans "must be one which will constitute an example for all employers."

The policy was set forth in letters to Harry B. Mitchell of the civil service commission, to the heads of all executive departments and agencies, and to Chairman Ramspeck [D., Ga.] of the house civil service commission.

Points in Program.

The main points on which the President asked legislation in addition to that giving him authority to designate jobs exclusively for ex-service men are:

1. Provision for the point system, which would give veterans a head start on other competitors for nonexclusive federal jobs.

2. Authority for the civil service commission to determine the validity of reasons given by government officials for passing over a veteran to employ a nonveteran.

3. Provision for special consideration for veterans whenever government agencies have to cut down their personnel.

YANKS BUILDING ARMY OF CHINA AS AID ARRIVES

Train Troops to Take the Offensive.

BY J. REILLY O'SULLIVAN.

WITH A CHINESE EXPEDITIONARY FORCE, Feb. 28 (AP).—The revitalization of Chiang Kai-shek's armies has begun with the arrival of concrete American aid. American army officers and men under the command of Lt. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell have started the job in southwest China in coöperation with commanders of Chinese expeditionary forces.

The entire program envisages the retraining of a score of divisions in critical areas where they will do the Japanese the most harm. Stilwell's "Y" force operations staff under Brig. Gen. Frank Dorn of San Francisco is making a real impression in its mission of increasing the fighting efficiency of this expeditionary force.

The program has reached the point where traveling American instructional groups and liaison teams are in the field with Chinese army groups. Front line troops in some cases have received American weapons and ammunition and learned their tactical use from Chinese officers and noncommissioned officers, who are recent graduates of American training schools.

Supply Job Ahead.

After seven years of defensive struggle some large units of the Chinese army are thinking in terms of the day when all will be able to turn to the offensive and drive the Japanese from the continent.

There still is a staggering job ahead. It hinges on opening a land supply route from India, for which a Chinese-American expeditionary force under Stilwell is fighting ahead in Burma. It also depends upon the eventual seizure of a seaport on the China coast. American personnel and material now are limited to what can be flown in, in addition to the needs of the 14th United States air force and the Chinese air force.

Aid has been extended in the following categories:

Anti-aircraft batteries, ammunition, including mountain artillery, machine guns, anti-tank guns, mortars and tommy guns, radio and signal equipment, motor replacement parts, trucks, gasoline; field hospital services, veterinary services, ordnance repair, engineering and road construction, field training in tactics, bayonet fighting, operation of signal equipment, care of animals, sanitation and preventive medicine.

Ready for Offense.

In a 1,500 mile trip thru southwest China, I have had the first opportunity to visit and talk to the Chinese and Americans working and living side by side.

American supplies have been obtained in quantities of such an amount that Gen. Shiao I-sy, chief of staff of the Chinese expeditionary force, could tell me: "We have enouh supplies and weapons on this front for both offensive and defensive operations."

American traveling instructional groups and liaison teams have been in the field nearly four months, carrying down to the lower units the training program initiated last April with the establishment of large infantry and artillery training centers in the rear.

Commanding the units are Colonels Walter Woods, Falls Church, Va; Reynolds Condon, Washington; Hubert Cole, Pelham, N. Y., and Phillip Enslow, Richmond, Va. The force in the forward echelon is commanded by Col. George Byers of Lafayette, Ind.

RUSSIA MAY GET 36 MILLION LBS. OF U. S. BUTTER

New York, Feb. 28 [Special].—Russia will receive 36,600,000 pounds of excess butter from the federal government's 130 million pound hoard if recommendations of its butter advisory committee are adopted by the war food administration. Reports from Washington today indicated the WFA was on the verge of approving.

The committee, representing the major creamery interests of the midwest and New England, opposed recently, with only one dissenting voice, a plan to release this butter to the domestic market.

Meeting with WFA officials in Washington last Friday and Saturday, the committee submitted its latest recommendations after warning the WFA not to release an avalanche of storage butter at a time when production is increasing with the approach of the annual spring milk flush. The flush will reach its peak in May and June.

12½ Million Chinese Slain by Japs, Counselor Asserts

Approximately 12½ million Chinese, including 5 million soldiers, have been killed by the Japanese in the current war and another 2½ million men, women, and children have been kidnaped and sent into Japanese war plants and brothels, A. C. Wang, counselor of the Chinese consulate in Chicago, said last night in an address at the Lawndale lodge of B'Nai Brith.

Japs' Burmese Drive Fails

Allies Destroy Task Force in Burma.

NEW DELHI, India, Feb. 28 (AP).—The allies have destroyed a task force of 8,000 Japanese in two weeks of confused fighting in the jungles of Arakan north of Akyab, the southeast Asia command announced tonight.

The Japanese "gradually were driven back, hemmed in, split up, hunted and killed. Most, with their accustomed tenacity, fought to the death. Some battered and wounded escaped thru the jungle to the south. A few surrendered."

A special summary thus pictured the end of an ambitious drive by the Japanese, who set out to isolate and destroy two Indian divisions, the 5th and 7th, and open the way for a "sweeping advance into India."

The drive began auspiciously from the Japanese standpoint. Some British units were cut off and attacked from all sides. The Japanese became "so sure of success they announced it," the statement said.

Japs Become Trapped.

But as the British counter-attack developed the Japanese became isolated and were encircled themselves. More than 1,000 of them were killed and about 2,000 were wounded. Today's regular bulletin said at least 500 were killed in the fighting for Ngaykedauk pass alone. Allied casualties were declared to have been about a third as high.

An even higher figure of Japanese casualties than that announced was given by a British spokesman, who said 1,500 Japanese had been buried and estimated that 3,000 were wounded.

Yanks Drop Supplies.

With the enemy threat to the pass dissipated, British and Chinese troops continued to press in upon the jungles on four battle fronts, stretching 500 miles from the area north of Akyab to the Ukawng valley in the north.

In the far north, where Chinese forces are clearing a corridor to China for the new Ledo supply road, Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell's troops surrounded Japanese units near Ritu, north of the Tanai river, crossed the Tawang river, a northern tributary of the Tanai, and pushed on eastward toward Mungwan on the Numgawn river.

American and R. A. F. transport pilots led by Brig. Gen. William Donald Old of Uvalde, Tex., kept the 7th Indian division supplied for three weeks until rescue forces broke thru, it was disclosed.

Japan's People Urged to Arise and Glare at Us

New York, Feb. 28 (AP).—Premier Tojo demanded at a conference of Japanese judges and public prosecutors today that resolute measures be taken against "persons who disturb solidarity within the nation," the Tokio radio reported tonight. Another broadcast, after recounting the American attack on the Marianas last week, said "now is the time that the 100,000,000 people of Japan should stand up with resolute determination, glaring at the enemy."

TARGETS IN FRANCE BLASTED BY 4 TEAMS OF YANK BOMBERS

LONDON, Feb. 28 (AP).—Heavy bombers of the United States 8th air force spearheaded a series of daylight assaults on enemy installations in northern France today, raising to 18 their record total of operations during February—six more than the previous record made last November.

Working as four separate teams, two formations of Flying Fortresses and one each of Liberators and medium B-26 Marauders were virtually unmolested as they struck at different places along the coast of France. R. A. F. medium bombers joined in the day's widespread blows against Nazi objectives.

Loss of six heavy bombers was the largest for operations against the Pas de Calais area since Jan. to return. The Marauder force, over 200 strong, struck the "rocket gun" sector and a Nazi air base near Amiens, 40 miles inland.

Tonight Berlin, Frankfurt, Cologne, Bremen, Hamburg, and other German radio stations went off the air, indicating the R. A. F. might be visiting Germany.

195,000 CITIZENS OF KIEV SLAIN BY NAZIS: MOSCOW

LONDON, Feb. 28 (AP).—More than 195,000 soviet citizens were "tortured to death, shot, or poisoned in murder vans" by the Germans during the occupation of Kiev, a commission investigating destruction of the ancient city said tonight in a report broadcast from Moscow.

The account held Erich Koch, German commissioner for the Ukraine; Field Marshal Von Mannstein, and other Nazi officers responsible.

Before evacuating Kiev the Germans demolished the whole center of the city and destroyed 1,742 communal dwellings and 3,600 privately owned houses, Moscow charged. Nearly a thousand state institutions were destroyed and 200,000 persons made homeless, and hundreds of thousands of citizens were transported to Germany, along with factory equipment, it was further reported.

STRIKES GROW IN PARAGUAY, REFUGEES SAY

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay, Feb. 28 (AP).—Paraguayan refugees here reported today that a general strike in Paraguay was spreading and that 1,500 workers left their jobs at Campo Grande, where they were building a military airport under the army's orders. One informant said a group of persons had asked President Higinio Morninigo to resign.

News from Asuncion thru underground means said that work had been stopped on river docks in the Paraguayan capital. More than 500 union leaders now are in prison, it was said, and striking railroad workers have destroyed four railway bridges.

Army forces were said not to be participating in efforts to suppress the strike.

RABAUL BOMBED BY U.S. 12TH DAY IN SUCCESSION

ALLIED HDQ., SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, Feb. 29 [Tuesday]—(AP).—Army and navy bombers and fighters hit the Japanese base at Rabaul, New Britain, Saturday with 164 tons of explosives, Gen. MacArthur announced today. It was the seventh consecutive allied raid drawing no enemy aerial interception. One attacking plane was lost to anti-aircraft fire.

More than 200 planes joined in hammering the most-bombed enemy strongpoint in the South Pacific, striking especially at Vunapope airdrome and the harbor area. There 14 barges and four jetties were destroyed or damaged and several houses and other buildings were flattened.

It was the 12th straight day of pummeling given the one time heavily defended enemy base by planes from Adm. William F. Halsey's command.

Other Fields Attacked.

MacArthur's bulletin told of intense allied aerial activity against Japanese bases, including the Admiralty Islands, where 36 tons of explosives were dropped on supply and bivouac areas.

Bombers pounded the enemy's important troop, air, and supply centers of Wewak and Madang on New Guinea. But Dagua air fields in the Wewak area caught 80 tons of bombs, which destroyed five parked planes. Tadji airdrome at Aitape, to the west, was hit with 73 tons, damaging or destroying 18 planes on the ground.

Yanks Gain 15 Miles.

Airdromes and installations at Madang and Alexishafen were blasted. Two bombers on the ground were destroyed, a gun position silenced, and a barge and coastal vessel were set afire in Madang harbor.

American soldiers of the 32d division have advanced 15 miles northwest of Saidor in their push up the coast toward Madang. The Americans are now about 37 miles from Bogadjim, Japanese subsidiary base 10 miles below Madang.

Australian soldiers participating in the advance are reported to be coming up from the interior south of Bogadjim.

Carrier Sunk, Says Tokio.

LONDON, Feb. 28 (AP).—The Tokio radio broadcast a bulletin today saying a United States aircraft carrier and three big warships were sunk east of the Marianas Islands, Feb. 22. The claims were without any allied confirmation. The broadcast said the fleet included more than 10 carriers and eight battleships.

Another Tokio broadcast said 20 American planes raided Japanese positions on Ponope Island in the Carolines yesterday morning. The Japanese asserted that anti-aircraft batteries had shot down one B-24 bomber and added th eusual "no damage was suffered by our side."

ALGERIA WACS DENIED DATES WITH OFFICERS

[By Wireless to the New York Times and The Chicago Tribune.]

ALGIERS, Algeria, Feb. 28.—The phase of the Algiers' social scene, which first developed in mid-August when enlisted personnel of the WAC—then the WAAC—were permitted to have dates with officers, has just ended, it was learned today.

WAC bulletin boards in this area yesterday carried notices beginning: "The customs of the service, relative to the off-duty association of officers and enlisted personnel, apply equally to male and female personnel." . . . The notices went on to say that company commanders might make exceptions in cases where a couple were engaged or were relatives.

Comment among WACs gathered at the Red Cross Allied Women's Service club last night varied from "I don't see why we can't go out with officers?" to "I never dated officers anyway." Most of the GI's were mildly amused.

CLAIM TITO'S FORCES BLOW UP FIVE RAIL TRAINS

LONDON, Feb. 28 (AP).—The free Jugo-Slav radio, broadcasting a war bulletin from the Partisan forces of Marshal Josip [Tito] Broz, said tonight that a Partisan detachment had blown up five enemy trains on the Belgrade-Zagreb railway.

The bulletin said that in fighting in the Glina and Petrinja sectors and in Herzegovina the Partisans killed 200 Germans and wounded about 400.

The British destroyers Tyrian and Teaser shelled German batteries at Vela Luka, on the island of Korcula, off Jugo-Slavia. Spitfires based in Italy shot up 20 railroad cars in Jugo-Slavia, in the region of Sibenik; Kittyhawks scored near hits on two vessels near Sibenik harbor, and coastal air force R. A. F. Spitfires bombed Corfu harbor installations.

REPORT SWEDEN TO AID FINNS IF THEY QUIT WAR

[By Wireless to the New York Times and The Chicago Tribune.]

LONDON, Feb. 28.—The Swedish government, in the hope of inducing Finland to get out of the war, has promised to do everything in its power to help feed the Finns if they break with the axis and thus lose their German food supplies, it was learned tonight.

This offer has been welcomed by the Finnish government which will decide tomorrow whether to accept the six point Russian peace offer recently transmitted to the Finnish emissary, Dr. Juho Paasikivi, in Stockholm.

[A Stockholm dispatch said a new German-Finnish trade agreement was signed in Helsingfors yesterday. This new accord provides for "in so far as it is possible" the same amount of German deliveries to Finland as before, notably grain and coal and gasoline for farm tractors. In return Finland promises to "do her utmost" to maintain exports to Germany.]

LEADER OF PARTY IN CANADA IRKED BY 'HITLER LABEL'

OTTAWA, Ont., Feb. 28 [Special].—Protest against being referred to as a "national Socialist" was made in the house of commons today by the Coöperative Commonwealth federation leader, M. J. Coldwell, on the ground that inasmuch as the country is at war against national socialism in Germany such a description of his party amounted to an accusation of disloyalty.

Coldwell declared the CCF philosophy was exactly the same as the Labor and Socialist parties of Great Britain and other countries.

Speaker J. A. Glen said that he could not rule that it was insulting to refer to any person or party as national Socialist, but Gen. L. F. La Fleche, war service minister general, withdrew the epithet.

RUSSIANS GAIN UP TO 25 MILES IN PSKOV DRIVE

LONDON, Feb. 29 [Tuesday]—(AP).—The Red army announced at midnight that its trip-hammer advance upon Pskov had reached to within six miles of that railway bastion of the Baltic region and that three enemy divisions had been routed by another Russian force advancing on Novorzhev, 70 miles to the southeast.

The continuing soviet offensive has gained up to 25 miles in a day's time, liberated 450 communities close around Pskov, and another 200 towns in the region near Novorzhev, the announcement said.

Capture Railway Stations.

The closest announced approach to Pskov came with the capture of Toroshino, railway station six miles northeast of the city on the Luga line. Due east, on the Staraya Russa line, the Russians were reported to have taken another station 10 miles from Pskov. In taking the station the Russians forced the defended river Cherekha. This stream meanders north and northwest into the Velikaya river five miles south of Pskov.

Southeast of Pskov, in the drive from the Novosokolniki area, the Russians announced that three defeated enemy divisions were being pursued along the highway to Novorzhev. Russian forces already are reported within three miles of that town, having stormed across the Lsta river and taken Sloboda, directly to the east.

In that sector, as around Pskov, many prisoners are being taken, the Russians said, and several thousand soviet citizens who were being taken off to Germany for labor had been rescued.

Propeller driven sledges aided the advance of Red army troops, and soviet commanders shifted the center of pressure from day to day to keep the Nazis off balance.

NAZI WAR BULLETIN

The German Monday war bulletin as broadcast by Berlin and recorded by the Associated Press said:

"Yesterday [Sunday] the soviets attacked thruout the day on either side of Krivoi Rog with strong infantry and tank forces. All attacks were repulsed and some penetration areas were sealed off.

"South of the Pripet marshes there was lively activity at some points.

"South of the Berezina [river] repeated soviet thrusts supported by tanks were unsuccessful.

"The German air force supported by Rumanian planes attacked enemy artillery positions and tank and troop concentrations east of Kirovograd with strong formations of bombers and battle planes. A bridge across the Dnieper was smashed by several direct hits."

POLES, MEETING HERE, DEMAND OLD BOUNDARY

Demands for the Polish-Russian border fixed after the close of World War I., which already has been crossed by Russian troops, were voiced last night in resolutions passed by nearly 200 delgates of the Polish-American council, No. 20, representing nearly 50,000 American citizens of Polish descent, who met at the Alma Mater hall, 1645 Milwauke av.

"We affirm that this boundary was not challenged by any soviet government, but was universally recognized and solemnized by a series of mutual agreement pacts," the resolution said.

The resolution added that the Polish government of Premier Stanislaw Mikolajczyk and the Polish national council "has the confidence of the entire people of this country and abroad; it directs both the battle of the military forces, fighting on the side of the allies, and the underground movement in the native land. This government alone is authorized to speak in the name of Poland."

WAR BREWING IN SO. AMERICA, URUGUAY TOLD

Action Urged to Halt 'Catastrophe.'

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay, Feb. 28, (AP).—Socialist Deputy Jose Pedro Cardozo declared before the Uruguayan chamber today that an atmosphere of war was developing between sister American nations and he proposed that all American legislatures denounce the situation.

"Without any justification," he said, "an atmosphere of war between sister nations is being prepared which may be the origin of an American catastrophe."

Asserts Clash Is Brewing.

He suggested that the Uruguayan chamber address a message to all national parliamentary bodies of the hemisphere seeking their aid. The foreign affairs committee took his proposal under consideration.

"The grounds for my proposition are facts which all are known," Cardozo said. "It is an open secret that close to us within our two big neighboring countries [Uruguay is hemmed in between Argentine and Brazil] some elements which I do not want to identify now are intensifying alarming preparations for a clash which would never be justified."

Urges American Unity.

The deputy said such an atmosphere of war was being felt in Uruguay as "We are in a situation—perhaps better than the neighboring countries themselves—to get every indication, every fact which is too disagreeable to mention now because the only thing I want at the present time is to call upon American unity."

Cardozo refused to elaborate on his statement.

Defends Argentine Policy.

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, Feb. 28 (AP).—Acting Foreign Minister Diego Mason declared today there would be no change in Argentina's foreign policy during the regime of Acting President Edelmiro J. Farrell.

Mason issued a press statement shortly after Col. Juan D. Peron had been sworn in as acting minister of war by Farrell in ceremonies attended by cabinet members and Giacomo Luigi Cardinal Copello, archbishop of Buenos Aires.

Argentina, Mason asserted, "intends to make a special effort to foster and consolidate relations with all countries which maintain friendly bonds with ours, thereby persevering in the task of eliminating definitively any factors which might disturb this solemn decision."

200,000 IRISH IN BRITISH ARMY OR WAR PLANTS

BY E. R. NODERER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

DUBLIN, Feb. 28. — With industries curtailed for lack of raw materials and a decrease in farm exports, more than 200,000 Irish men and women have gone to England to join the fighting services or to work in war factories.

No official figures are available but it is reliably estimated that approximately 100,000 are in the forces and 130,000 are in industry, including 40,000 women. The population of Ireland is about 3 million.

Send Back Many Millions.

Workers recruited here by the United Kingdom liaison office for labor send back the equivalent of 28 million dollars annually. This money is playing the same important part in the Irish economy as the remittances from immigrants to the United States once did.

As a result of the possibilities of working in Britain, Irish unemployment remains fairly constant despite the reduction in home industries.

There are now 73,000 unemployed compared with 88,000 a year ago. However, these figures include farm laborers who are jobless at certain seasons of the year so the actual unemployment total is said to be about 50,000.

Some Industries Active.

Industries, generally, are operating at about 66 per cent of capacity altho some firms are running at only 10 to 25 per cent according to the Federation of Irish Manufacturers. On the other hand, some firms, such as those producing canned meat and canned milk, are operating at capacity, their output going largely to Britain. Other domestic industries such as the manufacture of woolen materials are operating at a high rate because of the inability to import from Britain during the war. The British send the Irish sufficient tin to can products for Britain's markets. Imports from the United States have declined since America entered the war, but small quantities of raw materials are being obtained from Sweden, West Africa, Spain, Portugal, South America, and Britain.

Skilled Workers Retained.

In 1942, 20 Irish firms went out of business for a lack of raw materials. According to the manufacturers' federation a "few more" than 20 closed in 1943. Imports of steel are greatly reduced and coal, which comes from Britain is imported on about half the pre-war scale.

At the request of the government a number of skilled workers are being kept by some firms on their pay rolls, even tho there is nothing for them to do at present, on the theory that is is inadvisable to have all the technicians emigrate to England.

Six French "Terrorists" Executed—Vichy Radio

New York, Feb. 28 (AP).—The German controled Vichy radio said today that six French "terrorists" had been executed at Thonon-Les Bains in the Haute Savoie department after their conviction by a military court.

GLIDER SQUAD'S LEADER LAUDS RED CROSS AID

Hoosier Likes Service of Mobile Canteens.

BY JOHN THOMPSON.

Don B. Vynne.

AN AMERICAN INVASION TRAINING BASE IN ENGLAND, Feb. 28.—Sgt. Austin J. Small of Wheatland, Ind., mortar squad leader on a Waco glider, was talking today about the hazards of his war time trade, which didn't seem to bother him much, and then added: "But whatever you do, say a good word for the Red Cross. We sure enjoy their clubhouse hamburgers, sandwiches, and coffee. They are doing a grand job here."

Which is about as fitting a way as possible to comment on the Red Cross role is these airborne operations. Having seen the Red Cross field men advancing with shock troops across invasion beaches and having seen clubmobiles with Red Cross women arrive soon after a beachhead was taken, it was no surprise to learn that the Red Cross is planning to continue the work when the glider men and paratroopers land in Europe.

Follow Soldiers on Hikes.

Right now in this one area alone, the Red Cross is running three clubs. Two clubmobiles, operated by four women, follow the soldiers on 20 mile hikes, at the end of which they serve coffee and doughnuts.

It takes ingenuity to turn out American food from the limited British rations which the Red Cross is permitted to purchase. It takes ingenuity to make their clubs homelike for the soldiers, to arrange dances and get partners from nearby units of British military service women.

But the prime objective, according to Don B. Vynne, 4501 Clarendon av., Chicago, field director for the airborne area, still is morale, in particular handling domestic problems. To his job Vynne brings his experience of 15 years as recreation director of the Clarendon Community center.

"Our problems are much the same as those of any other unit," Vynne told me. "We check up to find out why soldiers aren't writing home or communicate with one of the local chapters to urge wives to write their husbands oftener. We arrange small loans for men going on a furloug, who may be short due to the large home allotments from their pay.

Meets Kids He Raised.

"Our best role is that of a friendly person to whom the boys can tell their troubles."

"But the biggest thrill for me," said Vynne, "is meeting the kids I raised on Clarendon beach.

"One of them, Wally Bishop, who had been up in Iceland a long time, telephoned the other day trying to locate his brother, who is a paratrooper. To his great surprise I answered the phone and later the two brothers had a reunion in my office."

Vynne has been with this group 14 months. When the invasion is ready he and the other field directors, Joe Blankenship and Ed Campbell, plan to go right along by glider.

Vynne wanted to jump, but was told that he is too heavy and over the age limit of 32 years.

ITALIANS PLACE WAR CASUALTIES AT 600,000 MEN

LONDON, Feb. 28 (AP).—The German news agency DNB, quoting the official agency of the puppet Italian government, Correspondenza Repubblicana, said today that Italian killed and wounded up to July, 1943, the month in which Premier Mussolini was deposed, totaled more than 100,000 men, with an additional 500,000 captured.

The German broadcast gave this breakdown of the casualty figures: Army, 50,641 killed and 20,345 missing; navy, 3,771 killed and 20,189 missing; merchant navy, 2,512 killed, and air force, 6,000 killed and missing.

A total of 342 units of the Italian navy, including 84 submarines, were lost, as was the greatest part of the Italian merchant fleet, which amounted to 3,500,000 tons at the beginning of the war, the broadcast said.

BRITISH CAPTURE TWO NAZI FORTS IN ANZIO BATTLE

Open Offensive After Week's Lull.

ALLIED HDQ., Naples, Feb. 28 (AP).—British troops, going over to the offensive on the Anzio beachhead, have stormed and captured two Nazi strong points southwest of the German held village of Carroceto after two days of sharp fighting, the allies announced today.

The scene of the British attack, which broke a week of comparative quiet on the beachhead, is near the headwaters of the Moletta river, a little stream that originates about a mile and a half southwest of Carroceto and runs almost due west to empty into the sea 11 miles up the coast from Anzio.

[The German high command, giving its version of what apparently was the same engagement, said that about two battalions of allied troops were wiped out after they had been encircled near Buon Riposo, a hamlet on the Moletta river about a mile and a half southwest of Carroceto and a mile west of the Carroceto-Anzio highway. The Germans claimed 650 allied prisoners were taken in the fight.]

New Intensity in Gun Duel.

Artillery duelling rose to a new intensity on the beachhead, with both sides hurling thousands of shells. American guns frustrated several enemy attempts to infiltrate thru allied lines south of Carroceto.

An American cruiser joined the big gun duel on the beachhead, swinging in close to shore and blasting away at enemy emplacements in the nearby hills.

Ground fighting on both the main 5th and 8th army fronts again was limited to patrol action.

Dive bombing attacks by A-36 Invaders on the Littorio and Guidonia airdromes near Rome featured yesterday's allied air operations. One hangar was destroyed. Continued adverse weather limited the number of allied sorties to about 400, while the Germans flew some 20 sorties over the beachhead. One Nazi fighter was shot down and two allied planes were missing.

[Germany's war bulletin said "German long range guns shelled the enemy during unloading operations and battle plane attacks on the harbor of Anzio caused great fires."]

Claim Allied Casualties 20,000.

LONDON, Feb. 28 (AP).—The Nazi controled Paris radio quoted a German military spokesman as asserting that British-American losses in the Anzio beachhead battle had mounted to 20,000, exclusive of those at sea. The broadcast did not break down the figure into killed, wounded, and captured.

STEAL AMMUNITION FROM SCHOOL.

Rogers Park police yesterday were seeking thieves who broke into the Sullivan High school, 6631 Bosworth av., over the week-end and stole a typewriter and 1,000 rounds of small caliber ammunition from the R. O. T. C. room.

TELLS HOW GUNS CARRY BAD NEWS TO NAZIS IN ITALY

BY WILLIAM STRAND.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

WITH THE 5TH ARMY IN ITALY, Feb. 26—[Delayed].—From its humble beginnings in the last war, the distribution of propaganda leaflets behind enemy lines via American and British artillery units has developed in this campaign into one of the foremost activities of allied psychological war makers.

A total of 3,000,000 leaflets, designed to shake the morale of Nazi fighting men, were showered over their positions in January alone from approximately 6,000 shells. In addition, this method of communicating propaganda material across no man's land is being utilized to send over a miniature sized German language newspaper, Front Post, now in its 15th consecutive week.

Enemy Given War News.

The paper is described as a strictly factual publication giving enemy soldiers the latest word in war developments thruout the world, specially emphasizing the Russian campaign. A single sheet about as big as an ordinary hand bill, it also carries news of political developments affecting German destiny. Included are facts of the Italian campaign known to enemy soldiers for the purpose of impressing them with the soundness of other news.

With the allies' first use of artillery—75s—to dispatch propaganda to enemy soldiers during the last war, according to Lt. Col. John O. Weaver of Washington, D. C., formerly of the Columbia Broadcasting system in Chicago, the problem of exploding shells tearing and consuming the leaflets plagued devisers of the scheme and never was completely solved.

Smoke Shells Do Work.

"Now we've found the answer," he said. "Smoke shells suit our purpose admirably. They're made so as to open in midair and drop smoke pots. All we've got to do is remove the smoke pots and substitute bundles of loosely rolled leaflets which scatter over a wide area as soon as the charge blows out the rear end of the shell."

Chief credit for the development of this system is given to a Britisher, Capt. Gordon Foster of Ipswich, England. In the early days of the African campaign Foster and a small coterie of assistants used to pack not more than 50 shells, load them on a trailer, and drive the jeep to allied artillery positions.

Commanders Sold On Idea.

"Then when we got to Sicily we managed to get our own field piece which we could haul around, set up a likely position to fire a few leaflet loaded shells, and move on to another position," Foster recalled. "That slow and unwieldy way of doing the job was changed in the Italian campaign."

Now, explained Lt. Alfred De Grazia, 5436 Ridgewood ct., Chicago, a former instructor at the University of Chicago, artillery commanders accept the firing of leaflet shells as part of their regular missions.

"We've already fired five times as many shells in Italy as in Africa and Sicily," said the lieutenant. "Until now the American 105 [millimeter rifle] is the largest we've used, but we soon expect to use the 155 which will carry more than 1,500 leaflets in every shell."

Printed in Captured Truck.

The shells are packed at a forward outpost. The leaflets are printed behind the front by a mobile press located in a captured German truck of moving van proportions.

The setup, known as a combat propaganda team, includes special radio facilities for broadcasts to the front to German troops as well as a loudspeaker system to enable allied officers and their spokesmen to address the Nazis and urge their capitulation. It is thought to be the first time that field commanders have received an opportunity to speak directly to the soldiers opposing them.

Eludes Abductor

DOLORES SCHOEN.

Police are hunting a scar-faced, middle aged, well dressed man who attempted to abduct Dolores Schoen, 12, of 7417 Washington st., Forest Park, in his automobile yesterday. Unharmed, the child eluded him by jumping from his car when he stopped for a traffic signal at Marion and Lake sts., Oak Park, three blocks from where he had forced her to enter it.

The girl ran nearly a mile to her home to report the incident to her mother, Mrs. Sophie Schoen, who called the police. The child said the man had a deep scar on his left cheek and that his left eye was bruised and puffed shut.

The man accosted her at a store display window on Harlem av., near Lake st. She had been sent to buy toys for a younger brother quarantined for mumps.

REPORT GERMANS RAZE 19 TOWNS IN SOUTH ITALY

ON THE SWISS-ITALIAN FRONTIER, Feb. 28 (AP).—The Germans have razed 19 towns in the rich Abruzzi e Molise district of South Central Italy as a part of a vast program of destruction of Italian property for military reasons, the underground Socialist newspaper Avanti said today. [The British 8th army front runs across the district.]

Once fertile areas have been reduced to deserts, the newspaper said. Inhabitants of towns doomed to destruction were given only an hour or two to vacate. Their live stock has been requisitioned. The city of Chieti, which formerly had 32,000 inhabitants, now has 120,000 jammed together without adequate food and medicine.

Avanti said the Nazis already have begun flooding the northern Adriatic coast line by smashing canals and dykes to permit the sea to run over reclaimed lands. The Germans are seeking to Germanize northern provinces by sending the population to other provinces or to forced labor in Germany.

2 NAVY PLANES FLY SHELLS TO ITALY IN 1½ DAYS

Washington, D. C., Feb. 28 (AP).—Navy air transport pilots who flew thru North African weather so bad that combat planes were grounded helped beat back the Germans in Italy with shells only 34 hours from the United States.

The navy, telling of the daring flight today, said the two planes carried the biggest load of shells ever transported by air. It started when French warships, bombarding German lines in support of ground troops, began to run out of ammunition. No shells to fit their guns were available nearer than America.

Emergency radio calls to the French naval mission in Washington set the naval air transport division in motion. One plane was commanded by Lt. J. D. Gillian of Norfolk, Va., who stumbled into a hole and broke a leg while superintending unloading at a darkened airport. Among members of the skeleton crew—reduced to save weight—were Skuli G. Paulson, 37, of Chicago, and Robert John Foss, 5401 Blodgett av., Downers Grove. Ill.

LEWIS CHARGES REDS DOMINATE CIO AND MURRAY

New York, Feb. 28 [Special].—Charging that "Communists dominate the Congress of Industrial Organizations," John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America and founder of the CIO declared in an interview today that "If I had my way not a single Communist would belong to any labor union in the United States."

Lewis also charged that Philip Murray, his erstwhile lieutenant in the mine workers' union and his successor as chairman of the CIO, and Sidney Hillman, president of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America and head of the CIO political action committee, were "prisoners" of the Communists.

Picked Up Lot of Them.

"When I was organizing the CIO we picked up a lot of Communists in one unit after another as we grew—including Harry Bridges," Lewis said.

"But if I had not resigned the chairmanship and left the CIO in 1940, I can tell you the Communists would have been weeded out of the CIO long before now. Instead, as any one might expect who has seen them throw their weight around inside labor organizations, the Communists dominate the CIO today.

Murray Denies Charge.

"Philip Murray is today the prisoner of the Communists in his own union. They control him and the CIO thru their seats on his executive committee. And there isn't a blessed thing he can do about it.

"Sidney Hillman is just as badly off. Both of them have got to play ball with the Communists now, or die."

Murray, president of the Steel Workers of America, CIO, and head of the CIO, said in Washington he is "neither a prisoner of Lewisism nor communism."

ODT ADDS TWO TRAINS OUT OF FLORIDA DAILY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 28.—Relaxing its rules conserving rail equipment, the office of defense transportation today added two all coach trains daily to the Florida to New York run to evacuate thousands of vacationists stranded by a critical transportation shortage. The extra trains will carry passengers northbound only, returning to Florida empty.

The northbound traffic jam has been aggravated by the OPA's refusal to grant gasoline to motorists for return trips.

With all available rail and bus equipment taxed to the limit, ODT said it was taking the emergency action to provide return travel for tourists, but would not permit the extra trains to carry more vacationists to Florida.

WAHOO BANKER, BALKED IN BOND DRIVE, RESIGNS

Emil Placek.

Wahoo, Neb., Feb. 28 (AP).—Emil E. Placek, the small town Nebraska banker whose plan to compel purchase of war bonds by threatening punitive action from ration and draft boards brought a sharp reprimand from Treasury Secretary Morgenthau, said today he has resigned as Saunders county war finance committee chairman.

In a letter of resignation sent to W. Dale Clark, Omaha, state war finance committee chairman, Placek quoted from the closing paragraph of the Declaration of Independence:

"We mutually pledge to each other our lives, our fortunes and our sacred honor."

Clark said tonight that he had answered Placek's letter and had asked permission to hold the resignation in abeyance.

Placek's letter added "some people prefer their neighbors' lives and fortunes, but not their own. My views do not appear to harmonize with the policy of the treasury department and I therefore send in my resignation as chairman of the Saunders county war finance committee."

GERMANS USE NEW 6.69 INCH RAILWAY GUN NEAR CASSINO

WITH THE 5TH ARMY ON THE CASSINO FRONT, Feb. 25 [delayed] (AP).—The Germans have a new 17 centimeter [6.69 inch] gun mounted on a railway car that outranges any allied artillery pieces in action here, an allied officer said today.

This gun has a high muzzle velocity but its shell is not so heavy as those thrown by larger allied guns, he said, adding that the allies have superiority over the Germans in artillery on the Cassino front.

The Germans also apparently have developed a new powder that is said to give off practically no flash—an advantage at night when gun flashes reveal location of artillery. The German powder does give off a maximum of smoke, however, and has no more power than ordinary powder.

Coca-Cola
ICE COLD

. . . a way to say "Pardner" to a visiting Pole

When a Polish flyer says Hallo, Bracie, he greets you as a brother. The American host means the same thing when he says Have a "Coke", whether he offers it away from home or at home from his own family refrigerator. Everywhere the enjoyment of Coca-Cola is the pleasant expression of friendly comradeship. Around the world, Coca-Cola stands for the pause that refreshes,—has become the global high-sign of the kind-hearted.

ADMIRALS AND OLIVES.

The navy and war departments, which have afoot a scheme to create some five and six star admirals and generals, should take warning from the labels on olive jars. No one ever sees a jar labeled small olives, or medium olives. Large olives are like Jack Benny potatoes, and if you are after size, you have to look for mammoth or colossal grades.

Rep. Schafer of Michigan suggested that with the expanse of stars and gold lace provided for the proposed new ranks, our higher commanders will have to be built on five by five principles in order to carry their insignia. An admiral of the navy [six stars and two broad bands of gold lace, with a narrow band between] might not go down with his ship, but if he fell overboard would certainly go down with his blouse.

Our history does not indicate that fancy rank is necessary to military accomplishment. Grant, a lieutenant general at Appomattox, accepted the surrender of Lee, a full general, and a half dozen lieutenant generals whose Confederate commissions outranked his own. Pershing was only a general in a galaxy of field marshals, but there was never any doubt who ran the American expeditionary force. Nor would an officer of weaker will have been able to do what Pershing did merely because he wore six stars and was called general of the armies.

The ostensible excuse for the new ranks is that we now have no ranks to correspond to those of British field marshals and admirals of the fleet. What of it? If command of joint forces is to depend upon rank rather than ability, we had better fight in one sector and leave the British to fight in another. As a matter of fact, higher commands in European operations have not been based on strict rank or seniority. And if we are going to start competing with the British in matters of rank, what are we to do when the proposed Mexican expeditionary force takes the field? What would we do on the arrival of a Bolivian contingent, in which every captain wears the three stars that we reserve for lieutenant generals?

The proposal for these super-ranks is a foolish, popinjay idea. It cheapens all the ranks now in existence, just as the somewhat indiscriminate distribution of decorations in this war tends to cheapen those awards for heroism.

The only portion of the proposal with a glimmer of sense to it is the suggested increase in salary for our more important commanders. Admirals and generals now draw $10,000 a year. The proposed salaries of $21,500 for the highest ranks are more nearly commensurate with the responsibilities war time commanders carry. For the chief of staff and chief of naval operations this salary might even be boosted by a thousand dollars or so, as a bonus for the vigilance to keep Secretaries Knox and Stimson from gumming up the war.

SHERIFFS AND JAIL BREAKERS.

The escape of three young criminals from the county jail at Jackson, Miss., differed from other recent jail and prison breaks only in the recklessness of the three criminals. They stabbed several people and kidnaped a girl, with the result that 1,000 residents of the area armed themselves within a few hours, tracked down the swiftly moving fugitives and captured them.

Modern prisons are ingeniously planned to foil escapes, yet have them frequently, a fact that can be traced in part to politico-criminal conspiracies and in part to the slight amount of brains that can be hired these days for $90 a month and board, a common rate of pay for a prison guard.

A good number of the county jails in the country present no obstacle to escape by any one who has ever torn down a football goal post, altho the one at Jackson seems to have been an exception. The men who escaped there had previously broken out of better prisons. But even when a community builds a modern jail, it rarely troubles itself to get itself a modern sheriff, or to keep one if it does get one by political accident.

What sheriffs may be like in Mississippi we do not know, but undoubtedly they differ little from those in Illinois. The average Illinois sheriff is an amiable, corn-fed gentleman, active in politics, who is prevented by law from succeeding himself. At the end of his term in office he may be a terror to chicken thieves, but he obviously has had little experience in dealing with big time criminals.

Modern transportation permits professional criminals to get out of the big cities and prey on the smaller communities. Modern criminology, unfortunately, has not kept pace by training local law enforcement officers to deal with these professionals. There may be social and political objections to entrusting rural and small town law enforcement to nonopolitical, professionally trained state police forces, but that is the only way that these communities can expect to meet the threats of modern criminals.

REPUBLICAN SENATORS ORGANIZE.

Expansion of their party organization by the Republican members of the senate is a natural consequence not only of the recent break between Mr. Roosevelt and the members of his party in congress but of the political situation in the nation.

The Republicans now have 37 seats in the senate. Of the 32 seats that become vacant this year the Democrats hold 21, of which only 7 are in the solid south and 3 others in the politically doubtful border states of Oklahoma, Kentucky, and Maryland. The Republicans, by winning the senatorial contests in the northern and western states now represented by Democrats, and in one of the border states, will obtain control of the senate. This is a fair prospect if the party has a successful Presidential candidate.

The setting up of an organization of the Republicans in the senate in preparation for the day when theirs will be the majority party shows commendable forethought. In the organization Sen. Wherry of Nebraska has been designated the whip, whose duty it is to see that members of the party are present to vote on important measures. This is an unusual honor for a member in the first two years of his first term, and testifies to the vigor and ability with which Sen. Wherry has represented not only the people of his own state but those of the nation as well.

His election over the veteran Sen. Norris, a nominal Republican at one time but a leading proponent of collectivization, was a signal repudiation of the New Deal and New Dealers in the Mississippi valley. Since taking his seat Sen. Wherry has been typical of those newer Republicans in the senate who, being closest to the people by reason of recent election, have also been the most vigorous nationalists.

AUSTRALIA AND THE ISLANDS.

Australia's foreign minister, Mr. Herbert V. Evatt, announced the other day that Australians "would not for one moment entertain suggestions that New Britain Island be handed over to the United States." Neither would Australia entertain similar suggestions regarding New Caledonia and the New Hebrides.

The people of the United States are generally well disposed toward the people of Australia, and it would seem that the Australians, in their own interests, ought to see that nothing interrupts the good relations. Mr. Evatt's remarks are not helpful in this respect. The fact is altogether obvious that the Japanese hold on New Britain would be unchallenged today save for the American navy, army, and air force. When MacArthur took command the Australians were scarcely trying to keep New Guinea. It was MacArthur who recovered it, and in doing so he answered the Japanese ultimatum to the Australians to get out of the war. There can be no doubt that without our efforts Australia would have been invaded by the Japanese and, in all probability, much of it would be in Japanese possession.

The United States is not likely to take permanent possession of New Britain, tho we may want the permanent right to use any naval and air installations that we have built there. At any rate, it is not for the Australians to tell us what territorial adjustments they will entertain and what they will not entertain. They had New Britain and couldn't protect it; if we recover it from the enemy, the subsequent disposition of the island becomes our business. That doesn't mean that Australian wishes in the matter are going to be wholly ignored, but it does mean that Australia can't claim the right to decide this matter.

The language used by Mr. Evatt was impertinent and disclosed a lack of confidence in American intentions that we can hardly believe is generally shared by his people. If it is, they deserve some kind of a prize for ingratitude toward the nation that saved them from the Japanese cutthroats.

As for New Caledonia, it was French before this war. If the Australians could tolerate the presence of the French there, we should think that the prospect of an American regime would not be too dreadful to contemplate. The New Hebrides were held under joint British and French control. Neither Britain nor France nor the two together were able to protect the islands. Neither can Australia if she gets them, unless Japan's naval and air power remain negligible after the war and only the United States can see to that.

What reason have the Australians to regard our occupation of any of these islands as in any sense menacing? How often must a man's life be saved from an assassin before the man will regard his protector as his friend? Incidentally, if Australia wants a sympathetic hearing at the peace table, the best way to get it is to remove all the existing restrictions on the use of Australian troops in the Pacific war. This the Australians have not done. The worst way is to express distrust of the United States. This the Australian government has just done.

PENALTY MAIL.

[New York Sun.]

Every time the annual appropriation for the post-office department comes before the house of representatives the issue of what is known as penalty mail comes along with it. Each year, with the growth in the volume of this mail—mail sent postage free by the various federal agencies—the issue grows more acute. A solution is made the more desirable to members of congress by reason of the fact that penalty mail is often confused with franked mail—sent postage free by members of congress. In the fiscal year 1943 there were 1,956,000,000 pieces of penalty mail; in the same year there were only 29,248,000 pieces of franked mail.

The latest proposal to be advanced is that each federal agency be required to submit an annual estimate of penalty mail requirements and that subcommittees of the house appropriations committee be authorized to scrutinize these estimates and reduce them. The war and navy departments would be exempted from this requirement. In previous years another and more drastic solution was proposed, to do away with penalty mail entirely, and to appropriate for each department a specific sum for postage. This proposal encountered determined opposition from the various federal agencies, even tho it promised to save the government some money. It is not within the probabilities that the modified plan to reduce the volume of penalty mail will win heartier cheers from the departments.

MEDALS FOR GENERALS.

When Gen. Eisenhower was awarded the insignia of the order of Suvorov, first class, Russia's highest military decoration, a certain degree of curiosity about the aforesaid Suvorov stirred this column. His name was familiar but his exploits were vague to us, except for a hazy idea that he had a hand in the Napoleonic wars when generals were as common as John Smiths in the telephone directory. So we spent an hour in sketchy research into the career of Field Marshal Alexander Vasilievitch Suvorov, also spelled Suvarov and Suwarow.

The Associated Press, in chronicling the Eisenhower award, stated that Suvorov led the Russians into Berlin in 1760 and never lost a battle. These claims are arguable. First, he did not become a colonel until 1762; the occupation of Berlin in the Seven Years' war was a raid by Russian and Austrian troops behind the Prussian lines, of brief duration; and if Suvorov figured in this incident he was not its mastermind. Second, he may have never lost a battle, but he lost a campaign, thru no fault of his own.

The lost campaign was against the French in Italy in 1800. He cleaned the French, led by small fry, out of northern Italy in a few months, but then Masséna, a first-class general, came in with new troops, and the Russian czar went haywire. Suvorov was ordered to bring his army into Germany and he chose to fight his way over the Alps by the shortest route, thru the St. Gotthard pass. The operation was successful but the patient never recovered. The army that he brought into Germany was almost a ghost. This, says the Britannica, was "a gloomy but grand climax to the career of the greatest soldier who ever wore the Russian uniform."

Suvorov's major campaigning was against the Poles and the Turks from 1768 to 1795. His ruthlessness was demonstrated at Ismail, a Turkish fortress, whose storming was followed by a massacre. See "Russian Cavalcade," by Albert Parry, recently published, for sidelights on Suvorov's character.

Snow lie soft against him,
Protecting and enfolding,
Whisper the truth eternal:
My heart is in his holding!

Moon now dim your light,
One gold star shall keep Vigil thru the long night . . .

while strolling on the avenue

how well, I thought, that would adorn that puts it squarely up to me spring suit or teeth, which shall it be?

Retort by a Leap Year Lady.

Where does A Looper get that stuff [Feb. 19] that the fair sex are nice to look at but not to own? Who said any one ever owns them? It's often said, "Why don't you wed
And make some woman happy?"
But my reply (or alibi)
Is short, and sweet, and snappy;

One maid would be contented;
But who'd weep for the thousands more
Who'd mourn the late lamented?

The 29th of February is the bissextile day, but don't get the idea that this curious word means anything about sex.

DIETARY ADJUSTMENTS FOR OLDSTERS.

To grow old gracefully is an art. Like a bit of old furniture, the character may take on polish and exhibit beauties hitherto unrecognized.

But much of the ability of those well past middle life to adapt themselves will depend upon the observance of the rules of good hygiene. The best way to ward off feebleness is to maintain nutrition and circulation at par. Foodstuffs will supply the needed ingredients to enable every organ of the body to function efficiently.

It will be helpful to know something about nutriments and their relative values. For example, one can't sustain health on a steady diet of macaroons and lady-fingers. Instead, an accurately balanced program, with every essential component, is required. It is not what we eat but what we assimilate that counts.

Our tissues demand not only energy but heat. As a rule, those in the seventh decade will feel cold more acutely. If a little more fat can be added to the menu, and if it is digested, this symptom will disappear. If itching is annoying and seems to be on the increase, many cases will respond to more calcium or better adjustment of the mineral intake.

Some of us fail to realize that such elements as phosphorus, calcium, iron, copper, etc., exert a profound influence on the elasticity of the muscles. In addition, they control the passage of fluids from cell to cell. Furthermore, they assist powerfully in the digestion and absorption of edibles and aid proteins and vitamins to resist the inroads of disease.

What about proteins? Just the other day the question was raised, "I don't work hard, why should I eat quite so much meat?" The fact remains that animal food, as well as the nitrogen containing vegetables, man the repair shops of the body. Every living cell must be supplied with this material. This great group of chemicals is more important than any other which supports life. It makes no difference whence the source but we must have 4 to 6 ounces of protein rich rations in every 24 hours.

The fluid intake should not be excessive. The average daily requirement is about 3½ pints, but this includes tea, coffee, and beverages of all sorts, as well as the drinking water. As the years roll by, the tissues are inclined to become dry. They lose liquids easily and a serviceable program is to take a glass more than you need rather than less. In the absence of disease, thirst is an excellent guide.

We must not forget that quiet and repose aid absorption and thus a half hour rest after the noon and evening meal will give the digestive apparatus a helpful respite.

When it comes to exercise, there is nothing quite equal to walking. Muscles will stretch, contract, and relax rhythmically; and fresh air will enter the lungs. If posture is erect, hitherto unused air sacs will be brought into play. Now and then the feet will need to receive attention. This means well fitting shoes with normal arches. If pain in the calves develops that is the signal to adopt a slower pace. After a stroll the legs may be massaged gently for 5 to 10 minutes, thus insuring elimination of muscle waste. Cocoabutter makes an excellent lubricant for the skin.

IT LOOSENS IT.

Mrs. R. T. writes: Does milk cause phlegm to form in the throat? Whenever I drink this fluid I have to expectorate.

REPLY.

Not cause and effect. The mucus is present. As it acquires a milky film you become aware that it should be dislodged.

CROUPY.

Mrs. C. M. writes: What makes some children more susceptible to croup than others?

REPLY.

The old notion still holds that these youngsters are nervous, likely to be allergic to many substances, and possess a tendency to the overdevelopment of lymph tissue.

EEEK!

B. B. writes: Why are women afraid of mice?

REPLY.

Most of us abhor contact with bugs, worms, snakes, mice, lizards, etc. It is not primarily the injury the critter may inflict but the sense of revulsion that comes thru touch or sight.

IT SHOULD.

L. K. writes: Should a pilonidal cyst be removed even tho it is not causing much trouble?

REPLY.

By all means. It is likely to kick up sooner or later.

TAPEWORM.

REPLY.

Two suburbanites were stranded in Chicago by the blizzard two weeks ago and decided to spend the night at a loop hotel. A bellboy showed them to a room and raced on his way. After he was gone, they noticed that one of the twin beds had not been made up after the last guest's departure. This disturbed one, but not the other. He disrobed down to his shorts and hopped into the clean bed. The first called the bell captain, who came right up. "O, I'm sorry, sir," he said. "I showed you to the wrong room. Your room is two doors down." So the bedded one, an enormous man, got up, hung his clothes over his arm, and both followed the boy down the hall. He opened the new door with a flourish, so that the enormous man, still clad only in his shorts, was silhouetted in the doorway by the light from the hall. At that a woman sat up in bed and screamed. And the bellboy, the dog, ran away, laughing.

Helpful hint to piano teacher trying to reconcile children to the tedium of five finger exercises:

The usual routine is to start at the tonic [C], run up to the dominant [G], and down again, which is just about as monotonous as it sounds. So tell the pupil to start at the tonic and run down to the dominant and back, using only four fingers, which is less work. ### FAVORS PLATONIC FRIENDSHIP.

Princeton, Ill., Feb. 21.—"So near and yet so far" from a workable solution might describe the proposal of Clarence Streit, Union Now promoter, in his Voice of the People letter of Feb. 13, when he suggested a convention representing the American and British peoples to draw up a constitution for an Anglo-American super-state.

His proposal has the same dangers that any alliance or association precipitates when it throws together peoples of varied and conflicting political and social ideologies and expects the signing of a piece of paper to solve everything. Streit's proposal of a people's convention of English and American representatives is a good one, so long as the people and not the professional diplomats control the convention.

An Anglo-American convention could meet periodically during the post-war years to consider trade agreements, military coöperation, and other foreign policy mutually affecting the nations concerned. When the convention plan has been tested over a period of years—not months—would it then be time to start signing documents? Treaties—yes, if it is necessary. Constitutions, to govern both nations as one, never—unless Great Britain junks its monarchy and other class delineations. Let's go courtin' a while before we consider marriage; and better still, let's keep it a platonic friendship.

ANTI-FOURTH TERM RESOLUTION.

Downey, Ill., Feb. 21.—When it was understood that President Grant would accept a third term, the house [with a Democratic majority] passed a resolution, 234 to 18, declaring that a third term would be "unpatriotic, unwise and fraught with peril to our free institutions." Why cannot the Republicans and some southern Democrats pass such a resolution in the house now in regard to the seemingly inevitable fourth term? G. EDWARD LIND.

HENRY'S REVOLUTION.

St. Charles, Ill., Feb. 22.—Our Vice President would like to have a bloodless revolution in America in order that we might have a Russian form of government. Why bloodless? Is he afraid to try the good old Russian custom of liquidating those who dare oppose him politically? Is it high time for our Democratic leaders in congress to challenge their Vice President on such radical, un-American policies?

THE TAXICAB MONOPOLY.

Chicago, Feb. 19.—Yesterday I went from Elmwood Park to the loop in an Elmwood Park cab, but I had considerable difficulty in persuading the driver to go to the loop. He explained that he was not permitted to take passengers on the return trip. He told me that he used to defy this ruling, but that one day he was arrested, thrown in jail, held from midafternoon until midnight without being permitted to call his employer, and then fined for having the temerity to pick up passengers in downtown Chicago.

We all know the shortage of cabs in Chicago. If you come in on the train, it sometimes takes 15 or 20 minutes to locate a cab that will take you to any outlying spot. The driver who took me down yesterday said that he had frequently been begged by starters at railroad stations to take a return load, but that he was afraid to do so. He also told me that this was the third trip for the day, and that his return mileage for the return trip would be empty. This meant that yesterday he wasted at least 30 miles that could have been profitably used.

Multiply this driver's experience by the number of suburban taxi drivers who have the same problem, and add to this the mileage of Chicago cabs returning empty from suburban cities. That total is an appalling figure of unnecessary waste of gasoline and oil.

LOUIS MANFREDI.

SENTIMENT IN LETTERS.

IN THE SOUTH PACIFIC, Feb. 17.—Way out here I've run across a statement made by the army's deputy surgeon general. He said, "A soldier's mail should not contain sentimental thoughts such as: 'I can't get along without you,' or 'When can you get home?' and so forth, but should rather encourage him to get out and get the job done."

Maybe he doesn't know that we live for those sentimental notes. He doesn't realize that the right to have those thoughts is what we are fighting for.

EXCESS INTEREST.

Chicago, Feb. 20.—[Legal Friend of the People].—In 1929 I borrowed $1,000 on a promissory note at 8 per cent interest and repaid sums on the principal leaving an unpaid balance of $130 in 1940, for which I secured a new promissory note. 1. I find that 8 per cent interest is 1 per cent over the legal rate on a loan of that type and have decided I must have paid back [in excess interest] an amount equal to $130 and stopped paying. 2. May I figure the 1 per cent excess interest as payment on the principal? 3. Can my employer force me to pay merely on presentation of the note? 4. Must the note holder obtain a judgment? 5. If he sues will the 1 per cent excess interest be figured as payment on the principal? 6. Isn't there a penalty for usury? C. W. G.

1. Under Illinois law this means that no interest can be recovered.
2. Yes.
3. No.
4. Yes.
5. Yes, if your defense is properly presented.
6. Yes. See 1.

SUPER-HIGHWAY PLANS OCCUPY CITY AND COUNTY

Preliminary Costs Top Million Dollars.

Planning for some of the most expensive super-highways ever built in the United States is being carried forward by Cook county and the city of Chicago. The intention is to construct these roads immediately after the war, but preliminary costs already have been paid exceeding one million dollars.

The two governmental bodies have made heavy investments in right of ways for three of the proposed highways—Edens Parkway, Calumet-Tri-state, and Congress street. Edens and Calumet are the county's projects and it is coöperating with the city in the Congress st. preliminaries.

Ends at County Line.

Edens parkway super-highway, fed from the loop via several routes, will start at Division st. and Clybourn av. It will follow Clybourn av. to Barry av., then run along the North Western tracks to Cicero and Devon avs., there leaving the city limits.

The highway will then bend northwest, according to the county's plans, and will cross Oakton st. on the line of Central av. extended. At Illinois rd., near the north boundry of Wilmette, it will merge a short distance with the present Skokie highway. A little south of Dundee rd., it is to bend northwest again to end at the Lake-Cook county line.

Over most of its length outside the city Edens will be almost parallel to Skokie highway. That four lane thorofare will be used, the planners contemplate, as a local road.

The proposal is to build four lanes at the start and later to add another lane in each direction. The highway, divided in the center, is to take up about half the 300 foot right of way that is being acquired at a total estimated cost of 3½ millions. Contracts for purchase of this strip of land have passed the $1,400,000 mark [Cook county highway department figures].

Appraisals made so far have been by county engineers. Where offers are not accepted it is planned to start condemnation proceedings. At a guess the 12 miles of roadway when completed will cost about 11 millions. There are to be no crossings at grade and there will be grade separations at about 20 points.

Plan for Calumet Project.

The Calumet project will be an express parkway into Chicago from the south side over the Stony Island av. route. At 175th st. it will intersect with the Tri-state highway which will be extended west from the Indiana line, and eventually Calumet will be pushed farther south to connect with the Lincoln highway.

To develop the Calumet project, Doty av., which is a comparatively new double lane from 95th st. and Stony Island av. around the west side of Lake Calumet to 130th st., will be extended south to 142d st. by the state, and from there to 175th and Stony Island av. by the county. Tri-state will enter Cook county from Indiana on Bernice street, in Lansing. Tri-state eventually will be developed along 175th and 171st sts. to about Cicero av., and into Du Page county.

Estimated Cost at $800,000.

Rights of way for these roads are to be taken by condemnation at a possible cost of $800,000.

The grandiose Congress st. project, which will buy up a great deal of profitless real estate, has been estimated to cost 32 millions. The city has acquired a number of these parcels and the county, altho it has expended no money yet, has $3,200,000 assigned to it by the county board to be used in buying up right of ways within the city, extending from Michigan av. to Austin blvd.

Another proposal is for the extension and widening of George Brennan highway from the vicinity of Lake Calumet to the Tri-State highway intersection.

County highway officials said there are no existing regulations to forbid heavy trucks using the new proposed speedways, but that such rules might be adopted by the county. The plans do not contemplate any use of railroad right of ways for highway use.

MANY PLAINTS GREET NEW OPA RATION TOKENS

Many storekeepers and customers complained about the new red and blue OPA tokens yesterday as they began using them to make ration change in sales of meats and groceries. The new one ration point tokens serve as small change for new style stamps worth 10 points each.

"They are too small and light, and are harder to handle than paper stamps," said Mrs. Lottie Lambert, who helps her husband, Nathan, operate a market at 339 E. 43d st. Ben L. Nevelsky, in business at 2505 W. Division st., said: "They are more nuisance than the stamps, and women say they clutter up their purses."

Merchants reported few tokens were exchanged because customers still used old style brown and green stamps which expire March 20. The new 10 point value stamps now valid are A8, B8, C8, and E8 in book 4, for processed foods, and red stamps A8, B8, and C8, for meats and fats.

DOCTOR LEAVES EFFECTS TO WIFE OF HIS SLAYER

Attorney Indicted on Murder Charge.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 28 [Special].—Four days before Dr. John E. Lind, 56, noted psychiatrist, was shot to death in his automobile in the downtown shopping district, he drew a will in which he left part of his household possessions to the wife of the man who killed him.

Mrs. Marguerite Miller.

This new disclosure came with the filing of the will in District court today shortly before the slayer, Robert I. Miller, 67, prominent attorney, was indicted by a District of Columbia grand jury for first degree murder.

Following the shooting a week ago at one of Washington's busiest intersections, Miller claimed self defense but declared he had warned the physician to stay away from his wife, Mrs. Marguerite Miller, 42. The woman was getting into Dr. Lind's automobile when her husband pushed a gun past her and killed her companion.

Recalls Kindnesses.

"I give, devise, and bequeath in return for many kindnesses, to my friend, Mrs. Marguerite Miller, my dining room furniture and two frame tapestries," read a portion of the psychiatrist's will.

The remainder of his estate, of undisclosed value, was left to two sons, John J. and William E. Lind, and a daughter, Mrs. Robert E. Dudley, whose mother died in 1937.

The grand jury indictment, returned to Chief Justice Edward C. Eicher in District court, charged Miller with shooting Dr. Lind, willfully, purposely, and with premiditated malice. Police said witnesses told of seeing the shooting.

Attorney on Bail.

Altho first degree murder usually is unbailable, Miller remained free on the $15,000 bond he posted following his arrest on a charge of homicide the day of the shooting. His attorneys, members of his own law firm, advanced the argument that there is no danger of his running away, that his health is precarious and his confinement might prove fatal.

Government attorneys said they would oppose any continuance of bail after his formal arraignment, tentatively set for Friday. They also said they would seek an early date for trial of the case.

OVERDOSE OF SEDATIVE FATAL.

Mrs. Ora Pappas, 39, of 30 S. St. Louis av., died yesterday in County hospital, apparently of an overdose of a sedative she had taken Feb. 19.

CATHOLIC GROUP RAISES GOAL FOR SALVAGED PAPER

More than 400,000 Catholic women, members of the Chicago Archdiocese Council of Catholic Women, have raised their waste paper salvage quota to 45 pounds per capita each month.

Mrs. Anne V. Zinser, state director of the women's salvage activities for the war production board, announced the quota increase yesterday. Clubwomen previously were assigned a monthly quota of 40 pounds each to help the Chicago area meet its quota of 205,000 tons monthly.

Plans for the Catholic women's role in the drive were mapped yesterday at a meeting at 31 E. Congress st., when the Rev. James Curry, council director, met with the women's representatives. Councils from Rockford, Peoria, and Springfield are expected to join the campaign.

OPA Demands Suspension of Barney's Market Club

A petition for business suspension against Barney Kessel, proprietor of Barney's Market club, 741 Randolph st., was filed by Paul A. H. Shults, acting Chicago area OPA director, yesterday with John F. Manierre, regional OPA hearing commissioner. The petition charged Kessel has overdrawn his ration banking account by 400,098 points.

FIVE ARRAIGNED AS GAS 'BLACK MARKET' CHIEFS

Five men were arraigned before United States Commissioner Walker yesterday on charges of illegally possessing and transferring gasoline ration coupons. Additional charges of forgery and counterfeiting are involved. Office of price administration enforcement authorities said the men were ringleaders in black market operations involving more than 100,000 gallons of gasoline.

The defendants were Sam Beer, owner of the Boul Mich tavern, 506 N. Michigan av.; Sam Brancato, 1952 Balmoral av.; Joe Leight, 114 N. Hamlin av.; Phillip Packard, 5240 Sheridan rd., north side poolroom owner, and Ralph Adanczyk, Cudahy, Wis. A sixth defendant, Paul Nielson, arrested with Adanczyk, is held in Milwaukee, Wis.

All but Adanczyk, who waived examination, pleaded not guilty. Bonds for Leight and Adanczyk were fixed at $1,000, and at $2,500 for the other three. March 10 was set for hearing.

JUDGE UPHOLDS ASSESSMENT ON 100% VALUATION

Judge Joseph S. Graber, of the Superior court, yesterday dismissed a suit for an injunction which sought to restrain John S. Clark, county assessor, from assessing property on a 100 per cent valuation.

The action was brought by James Novotny, 1600 S. Austin blvd., Cicero, a justice of the peace, in the name of the United Taxpayers of Chicago and Suburbs. His lawyer, Nicholas Berkos, asserted that the 100 per cent valuation was unfair, unreasonable and contrary to law, and that the former assessment valuation of 37 per cent be retained. Assistant State's Attorneys William J. Tuohy and Neal McAuliffe, opposed him.

Judge Graber in upholding Assessor Clark's procedure, said that the law is clear in that the assessment valuation should be on "the full, fair cash value, which is 100 per cent."

2 SUGAR STAMPS MADE VALID FOR INDEFINITE TIME

Expiration date of stamp No. 30 in ration book No. 4, good for five pounds of sugar, has been extended indefinitely, the regional office of price administration said yesterday. The stamp was scheduled to expire March 31. Similar extension of the expiration date was announced for stamp No. 31, also for five pounds of sugar, which becomes valid April 1. Currently valid is stamp No. 40, for five pounds of sugar for home canning. It expires Feb. 28, 1945.

Home fuel oil heating units in Chicago should not have burned more than 71 per cent of this winter's total supply, the office of price administration reported yesterday in an index based on weather conditions.

Retail consumers will pay approximately 2 cents more for each glass container of apple products than for those packed in tins of the same size when a maximum price increase granted by the OPA to processors becomes effective March 4.

TRAIN BEARING BODY OF McNARY GOES THRU CITY

The body of Charles L. McNary, minority leader in the United States senate who died Friday in Fort Lauderdale, Fla., passed thru Chicago yesterday en route to Oregon. Sen. McNary's widow, Cornelia, said the rites are set tentatively for Thursday in the state capitol in Salem, Ore. She is accompanying the body with her daughter, Charlotte, 8, and her sister, Miss Mary L. Morton, of Washington, D. C. They were met at the Dearborn street station by three of Mrs. McNary's cousins who reside in Oak Park, and by Mrs. Mae S. Jacobs, 79, of 6345 University av., a close friend of the family.

FUMES VICTIM REVIVED.

Leslie Hansen, 16, of 3322 Fullerton av., was revived by firemen yesterday after he had been overcome by cleaning fluid fumes in an electrical manufacturing plant at 3101 N. Pulaski rd., where he was employed.

EASTER BUNNY IS CHOCOLATE WAR CASUALTY

Chocolate Easter eggs and bunnies and the other chocolate novelties identified with the Easter season will not be on the market this year, E. O. Pollock, midwest regional director of the food distribution division of the war food administration said yesterday. Cocoa beans, from which cocoa and chocolate are made, must be imported, and shipping space has not warranted as big an import as the trade demands, he explained. He said that candy manufacturers could use up to 80 per cent of the amount of cocoa they used in their 1941 base period; the manufacturer of solid and hollow molded chocolate novelties is still under restrictions.

SARNOFF SEES WALKIE-TALKIE RADIOS FOR ALL

Pocket Transmitters Open New Field.

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

Tiny radio tubes, smaller than acorns, may be employed to introduce an era of "personalized" radio after the war, David Sarnoff, president of the Radio Corporation of America, has revealed in discussing what's ahead in the realm of radio and electronics. Small, compact receivers and transmitters that will slip into pockets may be built for personal communication, Sarnoff said.

"The uses to which such 'stations' may be put give the imagination much play," Sarnoff said. While he did not elaborate on the possibilities of person to person radio communications this system presumably would involve refinements of the "walkie-talkie" systems now employed for military purposes. These sets, however, as publicly demonstrated by the signal corps, do not appear compact enough yet to slip into civilian pockets.

Radio to Curb Crashes.

Because of spectacular development in war time, Sarnoff said, radio apparatus will be adapted for collision prevention by aircraft, ships, railroads, and possibly automobiles.

"The application of radio-thermics or radio heating is a war time development of no small achievement," Sarnoff asserted. It is employed in speeding war production of laminated airplane propellers, and other aircraft parts. It is used in drying textiles, tempering metal, annealing, and other industrial processes. After the war, it is expected, radio will be used thermally to make plastics, to cook, and to heat homes.

Available After War.

The electron microscope, produced under high war time priority rating, will be available for many uses after the war, Sarnoff said. It will be compact and portable. An electron micro-analyzer has been developed in conjunction with the electron microscope which enables atomic identification of the chemical elements comprising submicroscopic bits of matter.

"For example," he said, "if there is iron in the nucleus of bacteria the micro-analyzer detects it."

KIDNAPERS BACK IN PRISON; FACE DEATH PENALTY

Last of Trio Surrenders After Crime Spree.

Jackson, Miss., Feb. 28 [Special].—Three escaped convicts who broke out of the Hinds county jail here Saturday and staged a series of kidnapings, robberies, auto thefts, and gun battles in two days of liberty, were returned to the jail tonight and placed in solitary confinement.

Ralph Ward, 23, last of the three to be captured, surrendered to four officers near Tchula, Miss., when he wrecked his stolen car in attempting to avoid a road barricade. His companions, Lawrence Motari, 21, and Roy Drake, 20, were captured in Greenwood, Miss., early today.

Face Holdup Trial.

The men will be tried here for the $5,000 holdup of the Robert E. Lee hotel here Jan. 7. They are charged with robbery with firearms, which is punishable by death in Mississippi. They came to Mississippi after breaking out of San Quentin prison, Cal., by scaling a wall.

Their escape here Saturday was accomplished by tampering with the locking mechanism of their cell door and overpowering a jailer whom they attacked with daggers made from tin ripped from a window sill.

The desperadoes drove to Greenwood last night from the farm of Wooster Henry, near Belzoni, Miss., where they had spent most of the day in hiding and where they abandoned unharmed Arlene McKnight, 16, whom they kidnaped as a hostage yesterday morning.

Battle Thru Barricade.

Warned by Henry that the bandits had left his farm headed for Greenwood, police and armed citizens awaited them in the city's main street. The trio arrived with guns blazing and battled the local constabulary for several blocks until forced to abandon their car at a barricade. They separated and fled on foot.

Motari was found behind a filling station and surrendered meekly. Drake was located on the roof of a warehouse and gave up. Ward, however, commandeered a car belonging to Phillip Lee of Greenwood, which he abandoned in a near-by woods. He subsequently stole another car before his capture near Tchula. Eight stolen cars were used by the bandits in the course of their two day flight.

COLLECT FACTS FOR FRIDAY QUIZ IN DRAKE DEATH

Police yesterday were marshaling evidence for presentation Friday at the next session of the inquest into the mysterious murder of Mrs. Frank Starr Williams.

The inquest will be held in the county morgue, with Coroner Brodie presiding. Among the witnesses expected are Stanley A. Cook and Clyde P. Brewster, business men, who saw Mrs. Williams' slayer fleeing. Another scheduled witness is Mme. Marguerite Pick, a modiste, who had made gowns for Mrs. Williams and her daughters.

Mrs. Williams, wife of a Washington diplomatic aid, was shot in her room in the Drake hotel Jan. 19 by an unidentified woman. Mrs. Williams' daughter, Mrs. Patricia Goodbody, was also shot at. She said she never saw the gunwoman before.

HINT AFFLECK ESTATE'S VALUE IS ONLY $20,000

The will of Benjamin Franklin Affleck, former president of the Universal Atlas Cement company, was filed yesterday with Frank Lyman, clerk of the Probate court. Unofficial estimates placed the value of his estate at $20,000, altho for years Mr. Affleck had generally been considered a millionaire. Knapp, Cushing, Hershberger & Stevenson, lawyers, said an official estimate would be filed later in the week.

Mr. Affleck's will leaves the estate to his widow, Irene, and his daughters, Mrs. Mildred Spoehr of Winnetka, and Jane. He died Feb. 13 in his home at 800 Humboldt av., Winnetka. He would have been 75 tomorrow.

Suspect Held as Author of Threatening Letters

Guido Louis Franch, 35, of 105 N. 14th av., Melrose Park, was held in bond of $5,000 yesterday by United States Commissioner Walker on a charge of sending threatening letters thru the mails. He pleaded not guilty. His case was continued to March 8. The warrant against Franch was obtained by Assistant United States Atty. Richard G. Finn. Among those to whom Franch is accused of sending letters are Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, wife of the President; Col. Robert R. McCormick, publisher of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, and Doris Duke [Cromwell], the tobacco heiress.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN
Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills

BRIGHT PLACES ON DEATH WIRE TOLD AT TRIAL

Injuries on the Noxon Baby Described.

Pittsfield, Mass., Feb. 28 (AP).—Testimony that "bright, shiny wire" showed where insulation had been removed from an electric trouble cord found near the body of an electrocuted infant was offered by a physician today at the Superior court trial of Atty. John F. Noxon Jr., on a charge of murdering his 6 months old subnormal son.

"What did you say about the wire?" inquired District Atty. Charles R. Alberti as he questioned Dr. George P. Hunt, who had been summoned to the Noxon home after the child's death and who testified Medical Examiner Dr. Albert C. England had found two bare spots on the cord. The elderly physician, responding to the prosecutor's question, said:

"That it looked pretty bright."

"Smelled Something Burning."

Continuing his testimony before Judge Abraham Pinanski, and a jury, Dr. Hunt said at the time he discussed the bare spots on the wire with the medical examiner, the defendant was in the room.

He quoted Noxon as saying that he "smelled something burning," upon returning from his garage with tools to repair a radio in his bookroom.

Earlier, Dr. Hunt had testified to seeing injuries about the infant's eyes during an examination on Sept. 22, a few hours before the child was electrocuted.

Infant Was Injured.

Hunt said that when the mother, Margaret Noxon, brought the infant to him for a check-up and for diphtheria and whooping cough inoculations, she explained that the baby had bumped his head against his crib.

Dr. Hunt said that there was evidence of a slight hemorrhage near the external corner of the left eye and a discoloration on the inner corner of the right eye.

The child, previously designated as of the mongoloid type in court testimony was described by Dr. Hunt as "a relatively short baby with flabby rather than firm tissue." He said the arms and legs were shorter than normal.

The state contends that the baby's father deliberately caused a current of electricity to pass thru the child's body. Noxon has maintained it was an accident—that the baby had become entangled in a trouble light cord while the father was out of the room to get tools to fix a radio.

SOLDIER SLAYS FIANCEE, STABS TWO AT PARTY

Peoria, Ill., Feb. 28 [Special].—With their wedding date only a few days away, Miss Sarahbelle Turner, 22, daughter of a Chicagoan, died today of wounds inflicted with an army trench knife by her fiance, Staff Sgt. William Pettigrew, 23, at a house party where liquor flowed freely.

Pettigrew, who had returned home on a furlough from Camp Crowder, Mo., was formally charged with murder after the girl's death and was being held in the county jail. He also was accused of stabbing two others at the party Saturday night.

Police said the soldier attacked his sweetheart and also stabbed Mrs. Elsie Shaneberg, 37, and her husband, Calvin, 33, after he had engaged in an argument with Miss Turner. They said Pettigrew admitted drinking heavily during the party. They said they found three empty gin bottles in the home.

Miss Turner was the daughter of H. A. Turner of 4728 Kenmore av., Chicago. Her mother died four years ago today. She was graduated from Woodruff High school in 1939 and had been employed at the Underwriters Fire Insurance company. She stayed at the Kings Daughters Girls' club, a rooming house for employed girls.

Friend of the Yanks' Kin

BY SALLY JOY BROWN

[This department answers questions covering problems related to the social service of relatives of service men, both in the column and by mail, if stamped, addressed envelopes are sent with inquiries to Sally Joy Brown.]

Miss S. Writes: "My fiance is soon to be home on furlough, and we plan to be married at that time. His widowed mother is now receiving the family allowance. Since I understand it is mandatory for a private to provide an allowance for his wife, I am wondering if his mother will then be deprived of help."

ANSWER: If his mother continues to be dependent upon him, she will still be entitled to the allowance, even tho you, as a legal wife, must also receive one. Your future husband will be expected to contribute an additional $5 from his salary.

We are forwarding a bulletin on the family allowance which will be helpful to you. Any other interested reader may have one by sending in a stamped, addressed envelope.

Mrs. N. B. writes: "I understand that some time ago congress passed a bill to pay increased allowances to mothers of soldiers. My son has been overseas and I have been receiving $37 a month. Recently I received affidavits to be filled out, altho I have never received any extra money. Have they begun to pay the increased allowances?"

ANSWER: The forms you received were to supply information regarding reclassification of class "B" dependents. Those who are only partially dependent will continue to receive the previous allowances of $37 a month. Those who are totally dependent will receive an increase to $50 a month. However, because of the millions of accounts to be handled, the old amount has been paid in some cases, but if you have been reclassified and are entitled to $50, you eventually will receive a check covering the difference.

Mrs. C. B. writes: "My son is in the marine corps and is now serving overseas.. I have been wanting to send him a package for his coming birthday, but I have been told that I must have a written request from him. Isn't there any way in which I could send something to him?"

ANSWER: You have been misinformed. It is not necessary to provide a written request in order to send a package to a man in the marine corps. That regulation applies only to army men.

We have a bulletin which outlines postal regulations governing parcels to men in all branches of the service and the merchant marine. Interested readers may obtain one by sending in a stamped, addressed envelope.

Mrs. G. H. writes: "My son, who is in the air corps, told me that he had taken out government insurance and named his father, from whom I am divorced, and me as beneficiaries. Is there any way in which I could verify this?"

ANSWER: No. The names of beneficiaries on government insurance policies are considered a confidential matter, and no information concerning them is released unless the policy becomes payable.

COURT REVERSES ONE GOLD SALE PLOT CONVICTION

The United States Circuit Court of Appeals yesterday affirmed the conviction of Elbridge Gerry Bates, but reversed that of Frank S. Smith, the Chicagoan accused of conspiring to acquire and to sell gold to Nazi agents in violation of the trading with the enemy act. The Appeals court held that the evidence against Smith was insufficient to warrant conviction. Smith is a rare coin dealer.

Quiz Sweetheart Killer of 1900 in Woman's Death

Joseph Kruml, 61, who said he served six years in Joliet prison for killing his sweetheart in 1900, was being questioned by East Chicago avenue police last night in connection with the death of Mrs. Grace Kennedy McShirley, 53, of 16 W. Superior st., with whom he had lived for 17 years. Mrs. McShirley's body was found Sunday morning in a rubbish receptacle at the rear of 849 Franklin st.

NEGRO BAPTISTS JOIN MOVE TO OUST STIMSON

More Chicago Negroes joined yesterday in the movement seeking removal of Secretary of War Stimson when members of the Baptist Conference of Chicago voted unanimously to indorse a resolution adopted Sunday. This measure, sponsored by the National Negro council and the Chicago Citizens Committee of 1,000, termed Stimson's removal necessary to the country's morale.

The Baptist conference acted after considering a letter read into the Congressional Record in which Stimson said that "many of the Negro units have been unable to master efficiently the technique of modern weapons."

William McDowell, pastor of Vernon Avenue Baptist church and member of the conference policy committee, asserted that, if the President did not remove Stimson, 10,000 Negro ministers should travel to Washington, D. C., to emphasize the demand.

HYDE PARK HAD NO GAMING WITH HEALY, 8 ASSERT

Eight character witnesses came to the defense of Capt. Walter F. Healy in the hearing before the city civil service commission yesterday. The captain was under charges that amount to nonenforcement of the laws against gambling. The eight said he was a good and faithful public servant and there was no gambling in the Hyde Park district while Healy was its police boss.

The Healy trial thus entered its eighth week. The taking of testimony ended yesterday. Today the lawyers will make closing arguments—Atty. Michael F. Ryan for Healy, Asst. Corp. Counsel Earle Downs against him. The commission will decide, today or later, whether Healy is to be fired or restored to duty. There is no middle course.

The character witnesses who said Healy was a good captain were Andrew G. Nelson, 4130 Berkeley av., coal dealer; Mrs. Cora A. Graham, 4033 Ellis av., social worker; Lyman R. Flook, superintendent of maintenance and buildings for the University of Chicago; Guy R. Lyman, assistant to Mr. Flook; the Rev. George M. Gibson, pastor of the United Church of Hyde Park; Joseph I. McDonald, former manager of the Windermere hotels; Paul R. Wilkinson, president of the National Bank of Hyde Park, and Joseph Bietty, 4728 Greenwood av., a ration board chairman.

TRIBUNE PHOTOG GIVEN AWARD BY ANITA COLBY

Pretty Anita Colby, movie actress and cover girl, said yesterday that she knows a good picture when she sees one; then she selected a photograph by Ed Feeney, a Tribune cameraman, for honors at the second annual picture exhibit of the Chicago Press Photographers' association in the Stevens hotel. Feeney's entry, "Falling in First," shows the end of a track race. He was awarded a $25 war bond by the Columbia Pictures corporation, 1301 Wabash av., which also gave $75 more in war bond prizes. Miss Colby's selections were made in the sports pictures only.

Women in War Work

By Kate Massee

Women working the 9 a. m. to 3:30 p. m. shift at the Hallicrafters company, 2611 Indiana av., manufacturers of radar-radio equipment on war contracts, are an excellent example of the fact that there is virtually no age limit in war work.

Known as the "9 o'clock girls," the gray-haired mothers of men in service work a short shift, thereby enabling the company to make use of a source of woman power not otherwise available.

Most of these women workers perform operations in the production of radio transmitter coils, a type of labor for which women's agile fingers are especially suitable.

Some of the 9 o'clock girls have been working the shift for a long time. Among the "veterans" are Mrs. Margaret Kennedy, 58, of 8955 S. Ada st.; Mrs. Lillian Gagler, 49, of 5854 S. Fairfield av.; Mrs. Anna Rockett, 48, of 1909 W. 56th st., and Mrs. Lena Bollinger, 43, of 3518 W. 65th st.

The women war workers at the Illinois division of the Bendix Aviation corporation, 505 N. Sacramento blvd., will start a plant drive tomorrow in behalf of the Red Cross war fund. They are the same women who assisted both the campaign to combat infantile paralysis and the 4th war loan.

Under the joint chairmanship of Miss Mae Morrison, Miss Irene Steffens, and Miss Marie Sokit, more than 200 women will reach every worker at Bendix during the drive, which will continue thruout March.

Miss Morrison represents the office staff, Miss Steffens the day shift, and Miss Sokit the night workers. Miss Steffens is a relief operator on air box inspection, and Miss Sokit is a production worker.

Four SPARS from Chicago recently were graduated from the coast guard yeomen's school at Palm Beach, Fla., and have been assigned to active duty. They are:

Seaman 1st Class Florence Hook, whose home is at 4538 N. Clark st., assigned to duty in Boston, Mass., as a yeoman striker; Yeoman 3d Class Kathleen Granahan, daughter of Mrs. Annie Granahan, 3657 N. Hermitage av., who has gone to duty in Cleveland, O.; Yeoman 3d Class Minnie Kramer, whose home is at 3444 Grenshaw st., assigned to New York City, and Yeoman 3d Class Phyllis MacDonald, daughter of Mrs. Gladys MacDonald, 1909 Touhy av., assigned to Seattle, Wash.

The promotion of Alice Fraser MacDonald of the marine corps women's reserve to the rank of captain was announced yesterday in Washington, D. C., where she is stationed as a public relations officer.

Capt. MacDonald's graphic letters describing life as a member of the marines have appeared from time to time in this column. Before enlisting, she was a free lance writer whose stories and poetry have appeared in many magazines.

She attended the Northrob Collegiate school in Minneapolis, Minn., and Radcliffe college, Cambridge, Mass., obtained a B. A. degree from the University of Minnesota, and did graduate work at the University of Chicago.

Mrs. Walter B. Wolf, chairman of the women's division of the war finance committee of Chicago and Cook county, will be the speaker at a luncheon meeting of the La Salle Street Women at 12:20 p. m. tomorrow at the Central Y. M. C. A. Membership in the group is open to all women employed in investment banking, brokerage, investment trust, investment counsel, and affiliated firms.

[This department reports on women's war activities and answers questions regarding such activities.]

Movie Preview to Aid Recruitment of Women

With the stimulation of recruitment in the women's services as its purpose, the American Women's Voluntary services will give an invitation preview of the Russian film, "No Greater Love," Friday night at the World Playhouse. Alvin J. Steirkopf will be the guest speaker, with representatives of the SPARS, WACs, WAVES, and marine women on hand to give short talks. A part of the theater will be reserved for members of these services and of the AWVS.

Drive Leaders Told War Role of Red Cross

Six hundred Chicago business men who have volunteered to help the Red Cross recruit 12 million dollars — the Chicago chapter's quota of the 200 million dollar national goal—gathered yesterday in the Hotel Sherman for the first of two kick-off meetings. They head an army of 50,000 voluntary workers. The drive opens tomorrow and will end March 31.

James B. Forgan, chairman of the Chicago chapter; Joseph H. King, its vice chairman, and Marton H. Kennelly, chairman of the campaign, told the story of the Red Cross' service to the men at the front and their families at home.

The Chicago chapter, which serves Cook, Du Page, and part of Lake county, has grown from an organization with a paid staff of 40 workers and volunteers ranging from 2,000 to 5,000 until it now has 1,100 paid workers and more than 90,000 volunteers, Mr. Forgan said.

Besides contributing directly to the men at the front, the Red Cross is aiding those who are being discharged at the average rate of 30,000 monthly by advising them, filling out their papers for claims and benefits, and offering them other services.

A relatively unknown part of the organization's work has been the loan of money to service men for emergency or preëmbarkation furloughs.

The work of the Red Cross blood bank, one of the chapter's most important functions, was recounted by Mr. King. Chicagoans each week give a total of 6,000 pints of blood at the Chicago center. Nationally 36 blood banks collect a weekly total of 110,000 pints, all of which is earmarked for army and navy use.

The increased budget—it is 75 million dollars more than last year—results from service to fighting men and their families, the meeting's chairman, Edward K. Welles, said.

Here Are Recipes for Some Items on Current Menus

Following are recipes for some of the dishes included on Mary Meade's ration budget menus this week:

Jelly Roll—Sift together 1 cup sifted cake flour, 1¼ teaspoons baking powder, and ¼ teaspoon salt. Separate 4 eggs. Beat yolks well, add ½ cup sugar gradually, then add 3 tablespoons water and 1 teaspoon vanilla. Beat egg whites until stiff [but not dry] and gradually add ½ cup sugar, continuing to beat. Fold yolk mixture into whites with wire beater. Fold in dry ingredients. Pour into long shallow pan lined with greased brown paper or 2 thicknesses of greased wax paper. Fill only half full. Bake at 375 degrees 15 to 18 minutes. Quickly turn from pan onto damp towel. Remove paper from bottom of cake and cut off crisp edges. Spread quickly with beaten jelly [any flavor] and roll up. Wrap in towel for few minutes. To serve, sprinkle with confectioners' sugar. The secret of good jelly roll is to work fast!

Peach Betty — Buy No. 2½ can peaches; save four halves for Sunday salads and use rest with juice for the peach betty. Grease casserole, cover with half the peaches, chopped. Sprinkle lightly with brown [or white] sugar and cinnamon. Add a medium thick layer of stale bread crumbs. Dot with margarine. Add another layer of peaches, sugar, cinnamon, crumbs, and margarine. Pour in peach juice, about ½ cup or enough to moisten slightly. Bake covered for 45 minutes at 350 degrees.

Last week a reader, John Fahrner Jr., decided to test the powers of observation of the white collar girls. There are, he said, 18 states ending in the same letter. Secretaries, stenographers, etc., addressing letters every day should be able to name them.

Now, it's no secret that opening mail is a columnist's happiest diversion. This columnist has had occasion to be very happy. For, beginning with the first special delivery letter from "Two WCG's at I. A. M. D.," saying, "Grab your geography and count 'em again . . . there are 20 states ending with 'a'," the mail box has been filled to overflowing. What began as an innocent observation turned into a map reading contest, with answers from V. R. S. who says, "Thanks for the opportunity to do a little prowling thru my country"; from MCC of PPD, from Marcia Traer, Jean Malmborg, Corinne Humphrey, The Boss' Right Hand [who says she figured the answer in an 8 minute "L" ride], from Three from W. E., Anne Karel, and too many others to list. One white collar girl confounded this editor by announcing 21 states ending with the letter "a" but she sneaked in Ohio. Several male readers discovered the discrepancy and counted 20 states, tho one [loyal to his sex] counted only 19. Well, it's been a busy week, geographically, and any one who doubts the white collar girls' powers of observation is welcome to a fine and handsome assortment of indignant replies.

Bright Orange Is Dashing New Hue for Spring

BY REA SEEGER.

With something added to this, the shortest month of the year, there is also a new color on the spring color chart. It is a clear, bright orange, dashing, unusual, and dramatically different as a contrast for dark suits and dresses. It has been a long time since a true orange color was available in wool, silk, or rayon. Summer collections had it in suave linens and a few silk shantungs, but the woolen fabrics were seldom dyed in this effective color.

This spring you'll find extraordinarily smart short coats of vivid orange color wool, as well as full length and seven-eighth length models. They are ideal toppers to wear with black or navy blue suits and tailored dresses, the kind that are cut straight as a needle. The color is also good for women who wear brown as a basic wardrobe shade. As a slick contrast for dark and light gray shades or saved for spring prints and for dazzling summer whites and pale blue, an orange colored coat becomes the biggest excitement of the year.

Checked suits, dresses, stripes, and even the dotted effects of black against solid white or cream, sagegreen and carbon blue also look well with orange. Later you'll be able to find summer materials of the same shade to wear in fitted short jackets for simple white dresses or with sheer prints with a black background. Play clothes, sleeveless tube silhouette dresses and short sleeved jacket suit dresses can be planned now to wear with this new orange tint for effective summer clothes.

Women Hear How Crippled Learn to Live

Once having faced the limitations imposed by his disability, the physically handicapped child may develop a discipline of mind and spirit that will place soaring wings over his crutches and take him into a world of intellectual freedom and fullness of living, Miss Mary Courtenay, Gompers school principal, told 75 women yesterday afternoon at a meeting of the Conference of Jewish Women's organizations at 220 S. State st.

At the same meeting Mrs. Frances Karlsteen described job procedures and possibilities offered by the Illinois Association for the Crippled, 116 S. Michigan av. The symposium on the physically handicapped was led by Miss Thecla Doniat, a trustee of the International Society for the Welfare of Cripples. Mrs. Max Biesenthal presided.

"Books, art, music, poetry, and the crafts," said Miss Courtenay, "are important to all children but doubly important to the physically handicapped child. At our school we make the widest possible use of them along with the regular curriculum and the services of our clinic, because we bear in mind the long years of adulthood for these children, when they will not have the delightful companionship of schoolmates, the school bus transportation not only to their homes but to cultural centers, and when they will have to depend upon inner resources they have built up."

Miss Courtenay mentioned as an example of work which enables children to push their horizons outward the making of wool afghans by Gompers children for Russian children suffering from cold, for children in London air raid shelters, and for Chinese refugee children. Chicago, she said, was a pioneer in providing facilities and services for crippled children, altho Chicagoans have little idea how extensive is the work of the four public schools for those children.

Employers who phone her office seeking handicapped help, Mrs. Karlsteen explained, are questioned about the amount of physical labor involved and any unusual environmental conditions, such as temperature changes or dampness that are part of the job. Persons with asthma, arrested tuberculosis, and cardiac cases are especially sensitive to the latter conditions, said Mrs. Karlsteen, whose agency placed 1,600 physically handicapped individuals last year.

"We must also keep transportation under 45 minutes because our people become fatigued more quickly," she added.

FRANTIC APPEAL.

Mr. Jones showed his gleaming dentures in a slight pitying smile.

"There is no doubt of it at all, Mr. Paradine, that some of the stones are paste."

Silence descended on the room. Supt. Vyner's eyes turned towards Miss Silver. As plainly as if he had spoken, they said, "Well, there's your motive."

Vyner turned to Mr. Jones.

"The rest of the stones all right?"

Mr. Jones produced a pocket magnifying glass and brought it to bear upon each piece of jewelry in turn. The process appeared to be interminable. Mr. Jones lisped his assurances, and was encouraged to depart. The door shutting behind him sounded to Albert Pearson like the crack of doom. His heart beat with sickening heavy thumps. His hair was clammy on his brow. He was aware that everyone had turned in his direction. He heard Supt. Vyner addressing him by name.

"Will you come up to the table, Mr. Pearson. I should like to ask you one or two questions. At the same time it is my duty to warn you that what you say may be taken down and used in evidence against you."

He came forward, stumbled upon a chair, and finding himself seated began mechanically to polish his misted glasses. When he put them on again there was a smart young constable with a notebook almost at his elbow and everyone was looking at him—everyone except Phyllida, who looked as if she was going to cry. As he sat there he could feel the ring of circumstance closing in to damn him.

"I'm perfectly willing to answer any questions you like."

They were all looking at him. The superintendent and Mark standing together over the laid-out cases where the diamonds caught the light, Lydia Pennington on Mark's other side, moving closer, slipping her hand inside his elbow. Elliot Wray with an arm 'round Phyllida, who was shaking. Against the mantelpiece, Frank Ambrose staring gloomily, not so much at him as past him down the room. Across the corner from the superintendent, at the end of the table was Miss Silver. Across the other corner from her Mr. Harrison, grave and shocked. Beyond him Miss Paradine, Richard, and right at his elbow here, the young constable with the notebook.

Vyner said, "Mr. Pearson, there are certain obvious reasons why this discovery is compromising for you. A substitution of stones such as has taken place is not everybody's job. It could also only have been done by someone who had access to this room and to the late Mr. Paradine's keys. You happen to combine both these qualifications."

"Quite so. But I am afraid I can't help you. I know nothing at all about this."

"The diamonds are gone, Mr. Pearson, to the tune of something like 2,000 pounds. They didn't go of themselves."

"I suppose not, superintendent. It doesn't occur to you that Mr. Paradine himself may have had them replaced?"

"Are you going to say that you acted under his orders?"

"Certainly not. I am only saying you may find it difficult to prove that the work was not done by Mr. Paradine's orders. You will naturally examine the cases for fingerprints, but I am afraid that you will be disappointed. You see, Mr. Paradine handled them so constantly himself. He liked having the jewels out and looking at them—a fact which would have made it very difficult for anyone to tamper with them."

"You are very well informed, Mr. Pearson."

"What do you expect? I was his secretary."

"Very well. I said there were obvious reasons for suspecting you. There are others not so obvious. Was it in your capacity as secretary that you put up the clock in Mr. Wray's room by a quarter of an hour on Wednesday night?"

A dull, ugly color came up in patches under Albert's skin. He said in a rougher voice, "I don't know what you mean."

"I think you do. The underhousemaid, Polly Parsons, saw you come out of Mr. Wray's room when she came up to turn down the beds. She was surprised to find that the clock in that room put the time at 10 minutes past 10, whereas the clock in your own room made it 5 minutes short of the hour. Fifteen minutes difference, Mr. Pearson. You were careful indeed to have an alibi for the time that Mr. Paradine was to be waiting in his study. He was waiting there to receive a confession. When you went in to say good night to him just after 10 minutes to 10, Lane, who was immediately behind you heard Mr. Paradine say, "Hullo, Albert—have you come to confess?" You had no time to answer him because Lane came in with the tray. I suppose you were both there for a few minutes, which would bring the time right for you to run upstairs, alter the clock, and be down again to meet Mr. Wray and stay with him until that altered clock gave you your alibi by pointing to 8 minutes past 12. But it was then actually only 7 minutes to—there was still 7 minutes of the time which Mr. Paradine had set. You said good night to Mr. Wray. You knew that Mr. Paradine would still be in the study. If you had a confession to make you had time to make it. If you did not mean to make a confession you had time to reach the terrace by way of any of those ground floor windows. There is a print of yours upon the frame of the bathroom window. You were aware that Mr. Paradine invariably went out on to the terrace before he retired for the night. Someone waited there for him, Mr. Pearson. Someone pushed him over the parapet. It is my duty to tell you——"

Albert Pearson jerked back his chair so violently that it crashed. If ever a man showed the extreme of fear, he showed it. But there was something else—something which made Miss Silver lay a hand on the superintendent's sleeve. He was about to step back in order to pass behind Mark, but the hand checked him.

She said, "Wait! He has something to say."

Leaning there, sweating, shaking, Albert said it. He looked straight down the table over Miss Silver's head to Frank Ambrose.

"Mr. Ambrose—you can't let him do it! you can't go on holding your tongue, nor can I. I'm an innocent man, and you know it. If I was there, so were you, and we both saw what happened. You're not going to stand there and hold your tongue! I'd have held mine if it hadn't come to this, but I'm not holding it now—I couldn't be expected to. If you don't speak, I'm going to—and you may think it comes better from you."

Pianist Bardas Impresses in Chicago Debut

BY CLAUDIA CASSIDY.

An interesting new pianist came on the Chicago scene last night when Stefan Bardas made his début at Kimball hall. Of Austrian birth, pupil of Schnabel and Hindemith, and once a resident of Tokyo where his father headed the piano department at the conservatory, Mr. Bardas is now professor of piano at Illinois Wesleyan university. The musical grapevine carried such provocative rumors of his talent that a good many musicians turned out last night to test its reliability.

Undeniably, Mr. Bardas has a big talent. He has good hands that are at home on the piano. His tone is resonant and fluent, his technique flexible and strong, and he has imagination. He thinks of the piano as a singing instrument with something bold to say. His performance of the Bach-Busoni Chromatic Fantasy and Fugue was cast in the grand style, tho it did not always have the authority to make that style valid. The 12 preludes of Debussy's first book were cleanly played, not in the Gallic tradition that mesmerizes the ear, but with a clarity particularly effective in the brilliant "Hills of Anacapri" and the slashing periods of "Minstrels."

His Chopin was disappointing, despite unmistakable flair. The Scherzo in B minor suffered from exaggerations of style that amounted to audacity, but Casella's "Two Ricercari on the name B-A-C-H" were projected with a mature brilliance Mr. Bardas may have acquired in his years at Rome as Casella's pupil. It was playing that stirred curiosity as to what he would do with "Carnaval," curiosity I was unable to indulge because the Schumann came last on a long program that started late.

Stage Notes

F. Hugh Herbert, recently in town to take another look at his comedy, "Kiss and Tell," has completed a new one called "You'll Never Know." It is not a sequel in the saga of Corliss Archer, but its heroine is another bewildered adolescent. George Abbott may put it on his fall production list.

No use trying to go to "Oklahoma!" the night of March 10. The Erlanger was sold out long ago to the alumni association of the Illinois Institute of Technology.

THE STORY OF THE MAKING OF A GREAT MOTION PICTURE

April 1, 1942 the motion picture rights to Franz Werfel's novel, "THE SONG OF BERNADETTE," were purchased by 20th Century-Fox in advance of publication, over the bids by other film companies, and with William Perlberg as producer, Henry King as director, and George Seaton as script writer, the great adventure of making the motion picture began.

December 8, 1942 casting started. After one of the most extensive and exhaustive talent searches in screen history, Jennifer Jones, a girl unknown to the screen, was selected to play Bernadette. She alone, among all the young women tested, possessed that rare and indefinable quality which makes you feel . . . during every precious moment she is on the screen . . . the presence of something very great . . . very moving . . . very wonderful.

March 29, 1943 "THE SONG OF BERNADETTE" went before the cameras, after nearly a year of painstaking research, designing and construction of vast sets under war-time conditions, and the creation of costumes. Actual filming was a work of heroic proportions, for every last detail had to be perfectly attuned to the exalted mood and hauntingly beautiful atmosphere of the story.

June 24, 1943 the editing of the picture was started. Every foot of film, indeed every frame, was meticulously examined . . . so faithfully had this picture been wrought, so that every scene would capture the splendor and greatness of Franz Werfel's novel. No picture has ever received such precious care, such delicate polishing, in the process of final assembling.

October 1, 1943 the musical scoring was begun under the distinguished auspices of Alfred Newman. Much of the musical accompaniment of "THE SONG OF BERNADETTE" is enriched by stirring choral singing. City after city was visited, in each of which America's greatest choirs were auditioned, rehearsed and recorded. No finer score has ever been put on film than the inspired music of this picture.

AND NOW the task is done. Franz Werfel's great novel has been brought to the screen . . . living up to this, the finest tribute that could be paid to it: "the picture is all you had hoped it would be."

"THE WOMAN OF THE TOWN."

A United Artists picture. Directed by George Archainbaud, starring Claire Trevor and Albert Dekker, and presented at the Oriental.

By Mae Tinée.

Good Morning!

My knowledge of the life and works of William Barclay [Bat] Masterson is limited, but according to this movie he was quite a feller. And if there was a woman in his life named Dora Hand—which it seems there was—she was certainly some woman!

Before becoming a sports writer Mr. Masterson was a colorful figure of the great west, which in his day was wild with a capital "W." He was an Indian fighter and, in certain records, is mentioned as the hero of 'Dobe Walls—where, when only 16, he is said to have saved by his sure shooting a small party of white men and women from an attacking party of several hundred Indians.

Later he became marshal of Dodge City, Kas., and it is from here, in 1876, that this story follows his life. . . . It is told in "flashback" as Bat, at his newspaper desk, explains why his guns cannot be added to a certain collection.

And who was Dora? Well, a strange and lovely creature. . . . Dance hall entertainer and singer of sweet anthems in church. . . . Siren and philanthropist. . . . Heart's desire of Bat and King Kennedy, wealthiest and unruliest cattleman of the day. . . . The woman responsible for Bat's promise that he would give up killing. The woman thru whose influence—tho he didn't know it at the time—he was enabled to become what he had always yearned to be—a newspaper man.

This melodramatic border romance is tempestuous and engrossing. . . . It also is beautifully acted. The klieg lights never shone on anybody more alluring than Claire Trevor, more personable and all-around able than Albert Dekker. These two make a pair I'd like to see often in double harness. . . . Outstanding in the cast are Barry Sullivan as Kennedy, Porter Hall, Henry Hull, Percey Kilbride, and Clem Bevans.

Direction was smooth and the dialog you can believe.

See you tomorrow.

According to Culbertson

[Copyright: 1944: By Ely Culbertson.]

A declarer who has a vulnerable, redoubled contract on his hands, should, of course, try to bring it home—but not at any risk! Consider this case:

South, dealer.
North-South vulnerable.

♥ K Q 10 7 5
♦ 9 6 2

WEST.
♠ K Q 5 2
♥ A 8 6 4
♣ J 4

EAST.
♥ J 9 3 2
♦ K Q J 10 5 4

SOUTH.
♠ A J 9 8 3
♣ A K Q 7 5 3 2

| South | West | North | East |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1 club | Pass | 1 heart | 2 diams. |
| 2 spades | 3 diams. | Pass | Pass |
| 3 spades | Pass | 4 spades | Pass |
| Pass | Double | Pass | Pass |
| Redouble | Pass | Pass | Pass |

South's redouble was dangerous, but the fact remains that the contract was there for the taking. West opened the diamond ace and followed up with the seven. Declarer ruffed, cashed the trump ace, and then, obviously deciding to risk everything on a 3-2 division of trumps, led a second round. West grabbed the trick with the queen, cashed the trump king—thus leaving declarer with one trump—and then led his last diamond. Declarer ruffed and was able to cash two clubs, but after that he was almost thru. West ruffed the third lead of clubs and shrewdly returned a low heart. Dummy' queen was the last trick made by North-South. Down 2200!

Under the circumstances it was suicidal for South to base his play on a 3-2 break of trumps. The correct line was to lay down the spade ace at the third trick and then to start running the clubs. West would ruff the third round—but how? If he ruffed low, dummy could easily over-ruff. Then South could reenter his own hand with a ruff and resume his club leading. West would never get more than his king and queen of trumps. Nor would it do West any good to ruff the third club with an honor. Declarer would stay "one up" on West in trumps, and this would be quite sufficient to insure the contract.

The difference between the proper line of play and the line used by declarer was a little matter of 3430 points.

Shortage of Teachers Described as Leading Problem in Education

The teacher shortage was described last night as a paramount war time and post-war problem in education at a regional conference of the administrators' department of the National Education association in the Palmer House. B. I. Griffith of Springfield, representing the Illinois Education association, told educators of the central west attending the conference that 60 per cent of the state's one room schools now have married women as teachers, most of whom have returned to teaching for the duration of the shortage. Altho some branches of instruction have been dropped, he said, no child in the state is being deprived of elementary educational opportunities.

Looking at Hollywood

By Hedda Hopper

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Feb. 28.—When Cecil Kellaway received an offer of the part of Edward VII. as prince of Wales in "Mrs. Parkington," he was on the verge of signing up for "Out of This World" on Broadway. But he jumped at the chance, because he has had a terrific hero worship for Edward VII. ever since he first went to England as a boy, from South Africa, and saw the king there. After Cecil became an actor, his ambition was to play that part on the stage. Leon Gordon, who's producing the picture, knew of Cecil's eagerness for the part and thought of him immediately, proving that dreams sometimes do come true. . . . James H. Davis, who may be governor of Louisiana after all the votes are counted, is wanted in Hollywood for his life story. He's a composer, singer, actor, and quite an amusing gent. How the town laughed when I first printed that he was going to run for governor! You'd think that a member of our profession couldn't run for anything except a fashion show.

Here We Go Again.

Tony Moreno, with gray hair, looks better now than he did when all our silent stars were screaming for him. He's about to sign a contract to do pictures in Mexico. And what do you bet that when he's settled there, Hollywood will howl for him? . . . Mona Maris is being paged for "The Bells of Torchola," which Dudley Murphy will direct. . . . Mighty nice listening—Wilbur Hatch's music for "The Whistler," Columbia's screen version of the radio show. . . . It's encouraging, when you go all out for a thing, to see it break records, and that's just exactly what "Snow White" did in Cincinnati. Despite a driving rain, it did 20 per cent more business than when it was originally released. Yet in our town, where we're so eager to see it, there's no theater to put it in.

Coming and Going.

Home, Sweet Home.

Walter Lang, who has a vacation until the end of April, doesn't know where he can take the wife to spend it. So he has decided to stay home and get acquainted all over again with their friends. Walter's next will be "Where Do We Go from Here?" at Twentieth. . . . When Rosemary de Camp was coming home from visiting her husband, her train got stalled in high waters. A couple of navy officers, learning that she'd miss a broadcast if she didn't get down, dug up a car in Oxnard, carried her to it, and got her here in time. . . . John Hubbard says when he takes his three year old daughter, Lois, with him to visit army camps, she not only draws the biggest hand, but also gets requests for pin-up photos.

Turnabout for a Piccolo Player.

Thru the Looking Glass

These are the days that make life seem restless and incomplete. It isn't one season or another—one day it's balmy, the next blustery. A woman grows tired of her winter raiment and is tempted to jump into her lighter, gayer, spring wardrobe. Caution tells her it wouldn't be wise to risk a cold. So she looks around for something else to express the release she'd like to feel from winter's hold. For some that feeling's expressed by buying a silly, completely giddy hat. Others may go shopping for a new perfume.

If you're looking for a perfume to help release you from the doldrums, we know exactly what to recommend. We can assure you it won't be something you'll like for the moment and regret having spent money for later. This perfume made its debut earlier this winter and now ranks with the best.

It's one of those definitely romantic, dreamy fragrances. There's that richness about it that signifies a good perfume and a nice hint of sophistication. We can't detect any dominating scent—but it is rather more sweet than spice. It's to be used discreetly, for a little goes a long way and lasts for hours. Dab it over the temples, behind the ears or at the hollow of the throat and enjoy the sensation of being completely and beautifully perfumed.

The perfume is held in a beautifully designed bottle worthy of its contents, and while it is not being given away, we think it is priced modestly for its quality and beauty.

Child Should Learn Social Usage Slowly

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

[Copyright: 1944: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

How can you bring about the valuable, even charming result of good manners in your children?

First, manners must be gained gradually, like everything else a child learns, thru a mother's patient and understanding guidance.

Next, they must be begun early. And by that I don't mean a deliberate teaching process. When I say manners must be begun early, I mean that no time is too soon for a child, even a baby, to see and hear considerateness, pleasantness, and courtesy right in the heart of his family, day in, day out.

On thru the years how this power of example does count, and what different ways present themselves to show courtesy! If you've never snatched an object from your baby's hands; if you've never opened his first little letters or birthday cards until he's asked you; if you've never pushed his toys or belongings crudely around, or habitually ordered him about, you'll find him refraining from these acts, and notice that these and some other points of etiquet are observed by him instinctively.

So much for right feeling. Now for forms. Many of these are copied easily from others. Thank you's and please's and how-do-you-do's need only a little reminding. Forms, such as interrupting and not walking between two persons in a room take longer to learn, as do table manners. As your child grows, simply see how much he can take in the way of manners, and give them to him gradually and painlessly.

I say painlessly, because these things shouldn't be scolded or whipped in. The baby or small child who is struggling to learn to eat shouldn't be bothered constantly about manners. It's bad for his learning and digestion. Nor should the child be reproved who is so utterly absorbed in his play that he doesn't answer immediately, or jump to his feet when a visitor comes into the room. A parent's sympathy and good judgment and observation must govern her child's training in manners.

29 CIVILIANS BID ON ARMY'S USED TRAINING PLANES

6,000 Ships Scheduled for Private Market.

BY FRANK STURDY.

Bids were opened yesterday in the regional office of the civil aeronautics administration for the first group of government owned war training service airplanes now being sold publicly as the result of the army's curtailment of pilot training by private contractors. The planes were bought from private owners by the government after the United States entered the war and were turned over to the contractors for use in training pilots as part of the WTS program.

Flight operators and civilian pilots have been eagerly awaiting disposition of the planes, the only source of alleviation for the shortage which has driven the market to high levels since manufacture for private buyers was stopped after Pearl Harbor.

OPA Sets Ceiling Prices.

The WTS surplus planes, estimated at 6,000 in the United States, are owned by the Defense Plant corporation. Ceiling prices were fixed for them by the OPA, under a formula of age and use depreciation.

Twenty-nine bids for six planes were received by Frank G. Andrews, superintendent of WTS for the third region of the CAA at 608 S. Dearborn st. Plane types, DPC ceiling prices, and high bids follow:

Cessna C145, $6,167.94, ceiling price; Cessna C145, $6,895.00, ceiling price; Fairchild 24W40, $5,214.85, $3,080.00; Fairchild 24W40, $5,529.30, $3,260.00; Fairchild 24H, $4,357.61, $2,750.00; Fairchild 24J, $7,446.87, $3,510.00.

Announce Winners Today.

The bids will be sent to the DPC in Washington for consideration, and acceptances will be announced today, Andrews said. About 340 planes have been classed as surplus in Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Michigan, Indiana, North Dakota, and Kentucky, and will be placed on the market as quickly as CAA inspectors can complete valuations.

Bids on the next group of 14 planes, among them Stinson Voyageurs ranging in price from $3,500 to $4,200, about the current market span, will be opened March 7.

CORONER'S JURY FREES COP IN SOLDIER DEATH

A coroner's jury yesterday returned a verdict of justifiable homicide in the fatal shooting Saturday of Pvt. Steve Warren, 24, absent without leave from Camp McCoy, Wis., by a policeman who sought to question him.

The hearing was thrown into an uproar when one of Warren's sisters, Mrs. Loretta Bielawski, 6336 S. Racine av., leaped to her feet and shouted at Detective Louis Agnes:

"You killed my brother and never gave him a chance. You allow murderers and rapists to walk the streets but shoot down innocent men. I wish you would become paralyzed from the head down!"

The shooting occurred in the apartment of another sister, Mrs. Jean Schillaci, at 2626 Wallace st., when Warren grappled with Detective George Higgins and then drew a 22 caliber pistol. Agnes fired over Higgins' shoulder, the bullet striking Warren in the heart.

Rollin Roberson, 25, Grand Junction, Colo., who also was absent without leave from the Wisconsin camp, and who was with Warren in the apartment, testified that Warren had told him that "no policeman would ever take me alive." Roberson said that he believed the shooting had been justified.

STUDEBAKER CIO TO NAME HEADS IN VOTING TODAY

Charges that the Communist dominated slate of candidates which is seeking to retain control of local 998 of the CIO United Automobile Workers' union at the Chicago Studebaker corporation plant, has been allowed to electioneer thruout the huge war plant, while loyal workers were forced to stay at their benches, were made last night.

Two separate slates of right wing candidates are opposing the Communist dominated slate in the local election which will be held in a hall at Cicero and Archer avs., from 10 a. m. today to 3 a. m. tomorrow morning. Gertrude Selig, Carl Swanson, and Evelyn Fargo, whose records as Communists were revealed by THE TRIBUNE, are candidates for reëlection, even tho the CIO-UAW constitution bars Communists from holding office.

Lt. George Barnes, head of the police labor detail, will watch the election at the request of right wing candidates, because the regional and international officers of the CIO-UAW union have refused to oversee the election. They have refused, it was charged, because the "UAW has agreed with the rest of the CIO not to interfere with any Communists within their ranks, until after the November elections."

THE QUESTION.

What childhood incident still embarrasses you when people remind you of it?

WHERE ASKED.

Medical and Dental Arts building, 185 N. Wabash av.

THE ANSWERS.

Mary Clayton, salesgirl, 722 E. 89th st.—My mother had to leave me alone for a few minutes when I was quite young. She thought I'd keep myself entertained if she'd permit me to play with five or six of her new baby chicks. When she came back I had strangled all of them.

Mabel Dixon, waitress, 900 Dakin st.—When I was about 3 years old I thought I'd give myself a beauty treatment like my mother. I heated the iron curler in the fireplace until it was red hot, and then scorched most of my hair off. Every time I get my hair fixed now they talk about it.

Shirley Bryan, student, 3130 Union av.—Even as an infant I was pretty particular who kissed me. I was about 3 when my boy cousin of the same age kissed me. I slapped him in true southern fashion, and from then on my mother thought I'd always be able to select proper company for myself.

Jim Daly, student, 1749 E. 72d pl.—Sometimes I wish my parents would forget about the adorable little periwinkle bangs I used to have. They also recall that when I was a little more than 2 years old I started to smoke a cigaret. They said the girlish bangs and angelic face were such a contrast with that act!

Lorraine Musial, student, 304 S. Throop st.—My parents sometimes regret I'm not like I used to be when I was younger. I'd grab my mother's apron strings and hang onto them from morn till night. Now she says she never sees me any more and wishes I valued her apron strings as I used to.

Robert J. Muller, maintenance supervisor, 1614 E. 74th pl.—My whole family still talks about the time when I wouldn't do anything for any one but myself. If asked to do something, my answer would be, "Only for Bobby J." I've had to lean over backwards to prove I'm really not as selfish as I started out to be.

LAWYER FOUND FATALLY HURT IN HIS MANSION

Peoria, Ill., Feb. 28 [Special].—Authorities inclined to the opinion tonight that an accident rather than foul play caused the fatal injuries of Richard H. Radley, 72, well to do attorney and former Peoria corporation counsel. Radley died tonight several hours after he had been found in his disarranged and blood spattered mansion across the Illinois river from Peoria.

After a post-mortem examination, Coroner Harold F. Diller said the attorney had a basal skull fracture which he believed probably was caused by a fall down the basement stairs. The blood and upset furniture could have been caused by Radley's efforts to summon help, the doctor said. It also was pointed out that nothing was missing from the house and no other motive for an attack was apparent. Radley had gone to the house alone yesterday to prepare the furniture for moving into the city where he and his wife planned to live in a hotel.

MILLION DOLLAR WARD LIBEL SUIT GETS UNDER WAY

Trial of a libel suit for a million dollars brought by Montgomery Ward & Co. against the McGraw-Hill Publishing company, 520 N. Michigan av., publishers of Business Week magazine, was started yesterday before Judge Barnes in federal court. The plaintiffs charge an article published May 23, 1942, misrepresented a labor dispute. H. Templeton Brown, attorney for the publishers, said the article was written for a limited public, and was routine. The trial will continue today.

2 CHICAGOANS CONVICTED IN REALTY FRAUD

David Marmon, president of Westgate Homes corporation, 30 N. La Salle st., and his associate, Charles Weiss, real estate promotors accused of swindling war plant workers in the sale of lots on which they promised they also would build homes despite priorities, were found guilty of operating a confidence game yesterday.

Judge Harold G. Ward of Criminal court convicted them after a week long bench trial in which 14 men and women testified their losses as a result of lot buying transactions totaled approximately $15,000. Nick Charles, a salesman, also charged with participating in the swindles, was acquitted.

Weiss' Fifth Trial.

It was Weiss' fifth trial since 1938 for operating a confidence game as a result of his promotions. He had been acquitted in the past. If Judge Ward overrules a motion for a new trial next Friday, Weiss and Marmon face sentences of one to 10 years in prison.

The two were found guilty on an indictment predicated on the complaint of Harold J. Litz, 1538 Harvey st., Berwyn, and his wife, Evelyn. Litz, now a soldier, returned from Camp Edwards, Mass., to testify that he lost $1,650.

He related that he had purchased a lot for $1,150 on the representation that a home could be built for him because he then was a war plant worker. Later the promoters induced him to exchange it for one costing $500 more, he testified.

Charge Dearth of Building.

Litz and 14 other complainants testified also that no homes were built by the promoters, despite their representations, and the excuse they then offered was that war priorities were momentarily delaying construction. Most of the other complainants also told Judge Ward they were induced to switch their lots for higher priced properties.

Clement Cody, assistant state's attorney, said lots sold by Marmon and Weiss included property in the Westgate section, Broadview, Lombard Vista, McCullom Lake, and Golf View Gardens subdivisions. He said the promotors failed to deliver deeds to their customers until after they had been indicted for fraud.

Cody added their company has been certified by the secretary of state for dissolution because of failure to file reports of its operations in the last two years.

7 CULVER BOYS TAKE OATH AS NAVAL FLYERS

TAILOR DIES AT WORK.

Samuel Rudman, 58, of 3615 13th st., a tailor, suffered a fatal heart attack yesterday while at work in the plant of the Hart, Schaffner & Marx company at 2335 St. Paul av.

FIND MOTHER AND 2 UNCONSCIOUS IN SUBURB HOME

Mrs. Lester Borsom, 31, of 102 S. Quincy st., Hinsdale, and her children, Mary Ann, 8, and John Marshall, 7, found unconscious in their home Saturday noon, were still in a coma yesterday at the Hinsdale sanitarium. Chief of Police Domianus said his investigation had not disclosed the nature of their illness.

Chief Domianus said Mrs. Borsom's husband, employed in the office of a manufacturing company at 1001 Van Buren st., Chicago, told him he had not been home for 36 hours before the three were found by a relative.

At the hospital it was said the mother and children had shown steady improvement and they might be sufficiently recovered today to answer questions.

Rev. Brooks Appointed President of Marquette

Milwaukee, Wis., Feb. 28 (AP).—The Rev. Peter A. Brooks, S. J., 51, head of the Missouri province of the Jesuit order from 1937 until last December, tonight was named president of Marquette university to succeed the Rev. Raphael C. McCarthy, S. J. Father McCarthy has been president of Marquette since 1936.

FARMERS URGED TO CLEAN SEEDS FOR GOOD CROPS

Agricultural experts fear many farmers unwittingly will sabotage their efforts this spring when they plant their oats, wheat, barley, and rye. They will sow small grains that are heavily infested with disease. However, they can control the diseases by expending a little time and effort.

Warning comes from many agricultural colleges that the rate of infestation of smut, leaf spot, scab, and other diseases in last year's grain was unusually high; unless the seed is treated before using, the trouble will spread.

Grains Heavy Sufferers.

The Illinois natural history survey reports that oat smut caused a loss last year of 3½ million bushels, with destruction in individual fields amounting to as much as 14 per cent. The state's wheat yield was reduced by 450,000 bushels because of loose smut, and the barley output was reduced by 24,000 bushels. Scab destroyed 885,000 bushels of wheat, 569,000 bushels of oats, 288,000 bushels of barley, and 3,400 bushels of rye.

Losses in 1944 similar to those of last year, and perhaps greater, may be expected if the weather favors infection, the survey reports.

"Cheap" Seeds Condemned.

The New York state agricultural experiment station warns farmers and war gardeners of "bargain" seeds. Station seed testers report that many of the seeds advertised as "money savers," "free samples," and "bargain packages" often prove in the long run to be the most expensive. They assert it is impossible to save money by buying low priced, poorly cleaned, and unlabeled seed.

Farmers can control seed diseases if they clean all their seed by thoro fanning to remove light, shriveled and weak grain, foreign materials, and plant parts that may be infected.

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

Chicago boxing fans, thrilled by the work of the lighter lads in last evening's opening of the Golden Gloves Tournament of Champions, tonight will witness a four hour barrage from the four heavier divisions in the Chicago Stadium.

The 8,800 who watched the flyweights, bantamweights, featherweights, and lightweights struggle thru their crowded program now have the opportunity of seeing the bombardiers of the tournament level their guns at each other in the 147, 160, and 175 pound and heavyweight classes.

Last night's crowd could not keep up with the tempo of these young fellows who hailed from farms, war plants and service camps, as the big show opened in two rings. These boys came from the most widespread area in the 17 year career of boxing's biggest show. There were soldiers and sailors from Fort Worth, Tex.; Los Angeles, Cal.; Pensacola, Fla., and New Orleans, La. Joining them in the roster of 30 centers were such well remembered regulars as Cleveland, Nashville, Milwaukee, Minneapolis, St Louis, Fort Wayne, Terre Haute, Gary, Omaha, and Streator.

Northern Boys Make Debut.

Tonight will find the three boys from the air transport command, Alaskan wing, making their first appearance, a debut which extends the northern boundary of the Golden Gloves territory beyond its original outpost, Minneapolis. Capt. Bill Moulton and Lt. George Regitko last night issued warnings that their trio, for all that they will come into the ring draped in sheepskin lined jackets, will be as hot as it gets cold in their department, which is to say 72 degrees below zero.

This threesome consists of Middleweight Bill Petersen, a Montana cowboy; Light Heavyweight Johnny Hopkins, an Oklahoman, and Morton Goodstein, a heavyweight who used to play a good job of full back in Jay Berwanger's time at the University of Chicago.

Pvt. Gibson Wins.

Outstanding among the first night's marksmen was Pvt. Jackie Gibson, the bantamweight who distinguished himself on Coach Johnny Walsh's talented teams at the University of Wisconsin before going into the service at Truax field, Wis. Jackie started his campaign toward the biggest goal in amateur boxing by beating Trini Ortiz of Los Angeles, brother of Manuel, the world professional bantamweight champion. In his second assignment, Gibson came back to win a hard one from Joey Salcone, the Warren, O., 16 year old who was regarded by the Cleveland Plain Dealer folks as their best man.

The fans were regaled not only by the boys who battled their way to the quarter finals, but also by several of the losers. One of these was Louis Kick, the Libertyville herdsman who had won the 126 pound Chicago title after having served his apprenticeship in the novice ranks. Louie had the misfortune to draw the clever Augie Lapara of New Orleans, late of the A. A. U. championship lists.

Kick Makes a Fight of It.

The folks felt sorry for Louie when he ran into that powerful Lapara right. Four times it felled him in the first round. And four times Louie arose to gratify the

IT'S STARTED, AND THERE'S MORE TO COME!

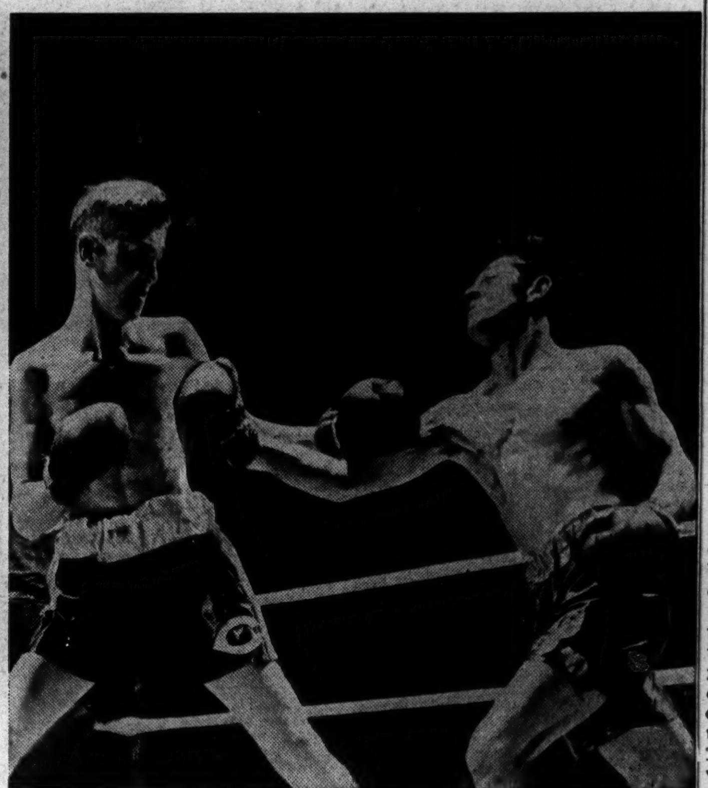
[TRIBUNE Photos.]

The army, as represented here by Pvt. Frank Tunstill, 118 pound champion of Columbus, O., established a beachhead in the Stadium last night as the 17th annual Golden Gloves Tournament of Champions got under way. Tunstill (right) gained a decision over James Lentsch of Minneapolis and then went on to win his second bout of the evening.



Louis Kick (left), Chicago's featherweight champion, took all that Augie Lapara of New Orleans had to offer and came back for more in their first round bout in the Stadium last night, but lost a three round decision. Kick, who hails from Libertyville, was knocked down four times in the first, but had Lapara groggy in the last round.

FIVE GLOVERS UNMASKED AS PROFESSIONALS

BY FRANK MASTRO.

Five boxers have been exposed as professionals masquerading as amateurs by officials of the Golden Gloves Tournament of Champions which opened in Chicago Stadium last night.

They are Pvt. Johnny Crane, middleweight of Las Vegas [Nev.] army air field; Ralph Balcom, Muskegon, Mich., bantamweight, and Sgt. Frank Bynum, lightweight; Pvt. William Beasley, middleweight, and Pvt. Louis Lebron, light heavyweight, all of Camp Atterbury, Ind.

Three From Indianapolis.

Crane came as a representative of the Los Angeles Times, Balcom as standard bearer for the Grand Rapids Press, and the last three as members of the Indianapolis Times.

The professionalism of Crane and Balcom was discovered after their arrival in Chicago, but the three from Indianapolis were uncovered by Eddie Ash, Indianapolis Times sports editor, and Eugene Driscoll, chairman of the National A. A. U. boxing committee, before the team entrained for this city.

As a result, Indianapolis was able to come with two replacements—Robert Beamon, 135 pounds, and Howard Hamlin, 160.

Requests Soldier's Recall.

Sports Editor Braven Dyer, in charge of the Los Angeles squad, yesterday wired Pvt. Crane's commanding officer, asking for the soldier's immediate recall to his base.

Capt. Fred Mally, former sports editor of the San Antonio [Texas] Evening News, was at ringside for the fights along with Elmer Layden, commissioner of the National Football league, and Jay Wyatt, who was a football official in the Western conference until about four years ago. Capt. Mally, special services officer in Washington, D. C., is on furlough prior to leaving soon to conduct the overseas tour of Sgt. Joe Louis, world's heavyweight champion.

Of more than 100 sectional champions to weigh in yesterday only two were overweight. These were Pvt. Frank Tunstill, Columbus [O.] Dispatch bantamweight, and Pvt. Tommy Thompson, Memphis Commercial Appeal featherweight. They were taken in tow by Lou Radzienda, Catholic Youth organization boxing director, who removed the surplus poundage without difficulty in the organization's competent sweat box. In addition to Radzienda, those looking after the welfare of the out of town boys included Dick Fitzpatrick, C. Y. O. boxing coach.

Two of tonight's contestants will be Charley Cullers and Harlan Hill, middleweight and heavyweight of the Oklahoma City Oklahoman and

GREAT LAKES' QUINTET BEATS GOPHERS, 73-43

Minneapolis, Minn., Feb. 28 [Special].—For 20 minutes Great Lakes' quintet toyed with Minnesota tonight to allow a 22 to 22 score at one juncture and a 33 to 25 margin at half time. Then the Bluejackets shelled the Gophers into a 73 to 43 retreat.

For the first eight minutes of the second half the Gophers didn't score from the field and were held to one free throw. The Bluejackets led, 53 to 29, at that juncture, and it was a question of how high the score would run.

Bill Wright, Minnesota's scoring leader, was held to one field goal while Don Smith, former Gopher, was in the game, so Bill Pepper, freshman center, paced the Gophers with 11. Herman Schaufer and Jack Coleman topped the Sailors with 12.

DE GROOT QUITS AT ROCHESTER FOR BETTER JOB

Rochester, N. Y., Feb. 28 (AP).—Dudley De Groot, University of Rochester football coach, today announced his resignation to consider offers of greater opportunity. Rochester lost only to Colgate last season.

De Groot would not comment on reports that he is under consideration as coach of the Washington Redskins of the National Football league. He also was silent on rumors coupling him with posts at Maryland and Western Maryland.

In the last two years De Groot has been a scout for the Redskins and in that capacity has been held in high regard by Owner George Preston Marshall.

Lt. Jim Christy Dies in Army Plane Crash

Lt. James P. [Jimmy] Christy, 28, former Catholic Youth organization boxing champion and later a contender for the world professional featherweight title, has been killed in an airplane crash, according to word received from the war department by his mother, Mrs. Mary Christy, 550 Surf st. She is his only survivor. The place of the accident was not identified.

Lt. Jimmy Christy.

He enlisted in the army air forces early in 1942 and was commissioned at Randolph field, Tex. For a time Lt. Christy was a flying instructor in this country.

Just before his featherweight championship fight with Fred Miller in November of 1935, Christy announced he was making his final ring appearance. He lost a close decision and became a student at the Chicago Academy of Fine Arts. Later he joined the C. Y. O. staff, but resigned in 1940 to begin training as a pilot in Tulsa, Okla.

Lt. Christy, who was born in Chicago, was a graduate of St. Patrick High school. He started boxing in 1932 under the C. Y. O. banner and soon won a wide following. He won the C. Y. O. featherweight title in 1932 and turned pro in 1934.

hopes of his home town faithful. He went on from there to make Lapara's victory a snug one by crowding Augie and causing him to become more than slightly groggy in the third round.

Kick was not the only loser to evoke yells from the crowd. There was Kayo Hidalgo of Streator, Ill., a stripling who looked as tho he shouldn't be out at such a late hour. Kayo had a bye in the first round, and then, in the second, drew, of all people, Tommy Nate, a member of the old South Bend Golden Gloves clan. Tommy had knocked out Kenneth Lilly of Peoria in the first round of his opening bout. The customers shuddered as Kayo bounced out of his corner, but Kayo himself thought otherwise, and for two rounds stood off the thrusts of Nate before the officials decided to call it an evening.

The Lieutenant Suffers.

The best boxer of the night proved to be Lt. Joseph Schoenberger, coach of the Chanute Field, Ill., team. The lieutenant went thru the gamut of emotions in the course of watching his man, John Mordus. John delighted Lt. Schoenberger by stopping John Mitchell of Terre Haute in the third round of their fight. The downstate officer was frustrated in the second round, however, when Perk Glenn of Muncie, outlasted Mordus to win a three round decision.

It was going on midnight when the evening's action reached a peak with the toe-to-toe joust between Johnny Bratton of the Savoy A. C., Chicago's hard punching lightweight, and Pvt. Gene Joyce of Peoria, brother of two of the most expert colored boxers in Golden Gloves annals, Willie and Jimmy of Gary, Ind. They threw everything in the book at each other and were still going strong at the finish, when the Chicagoan was awarded the decision. This gave Chicago an even split for the evening, Pvt. Herb Mashino having beaten Sgt. Joe Kiudo after getting a bye in the first round.

The vast field will be reduced to 32, four in each weight class, after the close of tomorrow night's fighting. These boys will return to the Stadium on March 10 to participate in the semi-finals and finals. From this group the Chicago Intercity squad will be selected to meet the New York champions March 27 in New York.

N. Y. CROWNS CHAMPIONS

Max Grothe of the Catholic Youth organization was the only defending champion to repeat. The 21 year old first class seaman, born in Kewanee, Ill., again took the 135 pound title with a decision over Milton Vogel.

Tonight's winners are survivors of more than 2,200 New York fighters who started in the eliminations. The open class winners will oppose champions of other eastern districts in New York starting March 13, and survivors in that competition meet Chicago's western titleholders March 27 in the Garden.

JOYCE KNOCKS OUT JIMENEZ IN 7TH AT MARIGOLD

Jimmy Joyce, 132, of Gary, scored a knockout in the seventh round over Alex Jimenez, 129½, Detroit, last night in Marigold Gardens. Jimenez was down for a six count in the third round and was then floored for the 10 count from a right hand to the chin in the seventh.

Two other knockouts were turned in on the card: Charley Parham of Milwaukee knocked out Roy Lewis of Muncie, Ind., in the fourth round of the semi-final bout and Jesse Jackson of Chicago gaining a similar decision over George Sapolick of Johnson, Pa. in the fourth. In other bouts, Red Le Vasseur of Bay City, Mich., beat Eddie [Kid] Carson of Chicago and Johnny Jones of Detroit defeated Don Callahan of Minneapolis.

Chamaco Wins First 2 Blocks with Schaefer

Joe Chamaco, the Mexican billiard star, won the first two blocks of his 12 block three cushion match with Jake Shaefer, which opened yesterday at Bensinger's Recreation, 131 S. Wabash. Chamaco won the afternoon block, 50 to 48, and took the night session, 50 to 38.

BYRD WINS IN NEW ORLEANS GOLF WITH 285

New Orleans, Feb. 28 (AP).—Sammy Byrd, former New York Yankee outfielder, today won the $5,000 war bond open golf tournament with a 72 hole total of 285, five less than his nearest competitor, Byron Nelson, Toledo, O., pro, who scored 290 in the four days of play.

Byrd, who expects to be in the navy in three or four weeks, fired a one over par 73 for the last 18 holes. Nelson came in with a 70, two under par, but a poor 78 in the second round prevented him from overtaking Byrd who took the lead from Jug McSpaden in the third round yesterday.

McSpaden, who led the field during the first two rounds, shot a 77 today, five over par and his worst round of the tournament. He finished, three strokes better than Pvt. Chick Harbert, Lincoln, Neb., who had 294.

The victory was worth $1,000 in bonds to Byrd, while Nelson won $750, McSpaden, $550; Harbert, $450.

The war bond tourney started with a big auction for the pros last Tuesday night and brought $3,161,000 in bond purchases at the last counting today.

After seconding Pvt. Jackie Gibson of the Milwaukee Journal to a decision over Trini Ortiz, brother of Manuel, the world bantamweight champion, Sgt. Savior Canadeo of Truax field, near Madison, Wis., was notified that his brother, Danny, former Steinmetz High school athlete, is seriously wounded in a hospital in Italy.

Fred Beck was at the Stadium pipe organ, pinch hitting for Al Melgard, who is ill in St. Luke's hospital.

Joey Sangor, famous professional featherweight of 15 years ago, will come from Milwaukee to second James Sherrer, his welterweight protege of the Milwaukee Journal team, in this evening's competition.

The diversity of Golden Gloves talent may be gleaned by a look at the Streator Times Press squad. Kayo Hidalgo, flyweight, and Bob Crichfield, middleweight, are students; Larry Pilon, bantamweight, and George Thomas, welterweight, are laborers; Jess Songer, featherweight, is a molder in a brass foundry; Steve Biroscik, lightweight, is a produce clerk in a chain store; Bob Decker, light heavyweight, an iceman, and Art Haedicke, heavyweight, is a farmer.

"Come on, Paul, let's go to New York!" Yip Owen, coach of the Columbus Dispatch, shouted to Paul Robinson, his featherweight color bearer, in a bout against Corp. Velmond White of the St. Louis Globe Democrat. Owen was referring to the annual intercity matches between Chicago and New York, scheduled in Madison Square Garden March 27. Robinson, however, was outpointed.

CITY LEAGUERS START PLAY-OFF BATTLES TODAY

Seven junior games and one in the senior division will open the City High School league basketball playoffs this afternoon in the first step toward determining the 1944 league champions. All games will begin at 3:30 p. m.

The feature game will be the Marshall juniors' encounter with Von Steuben. The Commandos, west section champions, will attempt to extend their lengthy victory streak to 97 in a row at the expense of the fourth place holders in the north section.

The pre-playoff favorite to meet Marshall in the finals is Parker of the south section which will open its bid against Tilden of the central section on the Parker floor.

The lone senior contest brings Gage Park of the central section to Morgan Park's south section gymnasium with the host team holding a league record of eight victories in nine games while Gage Park met defeat in three of eight contests. The other junior games, with the league records in parentheses, are:

Tuley, west [6-3] at Lane, north [9-1]; Waller, north [9-1] at Wells, west [7-2]; Lake View, north [8-2] at Crane, west [7-2]; South Shore, south [7-3] at Farragut, central [6-2], and Bowen, south [7-3] at Lindblom, central [8-0].

VINCE CASTINO SECOND SOX TO SIGN CONTRACT

Vince Castino, west side Chicagoan, who made a bid for the first string White Sox catching job last season, yesterday signed his 1944 contract. Castino is 25 years old and is 4-F in the draft, having been rejected for military duty because of a skull fracture suffered five years ago when hit by a pitched ball.

"My contract calls for a nice increase in pay," Castino said as he became the second member of the 1943 Sox to sign up for another season. Orval Grove, the team's leading pitcher last season, is the only other player known to have accepted the club's terms. Castino batted .228 in 33 games.

TAX LAW BRINGS OUT U. S., CANADA VIEWS ON PAPER

New York, Feb. 28 (AP).—Passage of the new tax bill over President Roosevelt's veto threw into sharp relief the differences between the United States and Canada over lightweight newsprint paper.

The new law carries a section sponsored by Rep. Boren [D., Okla.] permitting duty-free entry from Canada of 30 pound basis weight newsprint along with the standard 32 pound paper, which erases the barrier that has prevented receipt of such paper from Canada, source of 75 per cent of this country's newsprint.

Many American newspapers have been buying the lighter type from United States mills in order to offer their readers and advertisers more space and still remain within their tonnage restrictions. They even pay $5 a ton [8 per cent] more for the lighter paper in order to obtain about 6 to 7 per cent additional yardage.

Increase Lightweight Output.

American mills are turning out increased amount of 30 pound newsprint; one reports about 50 per cent of its machine capacity is making such paper and saving scarce pulpwood in the process.

At first publishers were uncertain what results would be from the reader's standpoint. If the light sheet were too weak, breaks might delay press runs and slow up service. Then, too, some thought the light paper might be so thin that printing on one side would show thru and make reading the other side of a page difficult. Now publishers report both fears unrealized.

As a result, many ordered light paper from Canada to be delivered after the duty was removed.

But Canadian newsprint makers predicted "bad" results from making such paper. They contended that instead of the mathematical saving of 6⅔ per cent in weight more wood will be required, and lack of wood is the key to the paper shortage and restrictions on newsprint.

Advocate Slower Method.

The Canadians said that since the sheet is thinner, it is necessary to use more wood consuming sulphite or long fiber pulp and less ground wood pulp, which comprises both the fibrous and soft parts of wood. The American makers reported the slower speed makes additional sulphite unnecessary, and that 5 to 6 per cent less wood is required for a given yardage.

The American Newspaper Publishers' association summed up the Canadian and United States findings with this comment:

"At the moment it is not clear to publishers generally how 30 pound newsprint made in Canada can be so uneconomical, hazardous, and short-sighted, and, at the same time, beneficial when made by United States mills."

BARRED TWO MONTHS

OTTAWA, Ont., Feb. 28 (AP).—Newsprint lighter than the standard 32 pound newsprint which Canadian factories have been making in recent years may not be manufactured or sold for delivery to North American consumers between now and next April 30, the prices board announced tonight.

The temporary prohibition was ordered by Guy E. Hoult, newsprint administrator, who said there "were numerous technical problems involved in any shift in production from 32 pound to 30 pound paper." He said the order has been approved by United States authorities.

STOCK BID.

I bid 20¼ for a certain stock listed on the New York Stock exchange and left a firm bid for 30 days. During that time the stock sold at 20¼ for a short time but none was sold to me. Why shouldn't the first bidder get the stock? I have heard that there is a sponsor for each stock. What are his duties? W. G.

On round lot bids, 100 shares, the first bidder is the first to get the stock when it sells at the bid price. Evidently there were others ahead of you with bids at the same price.

If your order was for an odd lot, however, your bid would not become effective until the stock sold at the established odd lot differential, usually ¼ or ⅛ below the bid price. Thus your odd lot order would not be filled until the stock sold under 20¼. Once the stock sells under the odd lot bid, the order must be filled even tho the price immediately rebounds to a higher level.

There are no longer any "sponsors" for stocks except when a distribution of a large block is being made. Sponsorship is permitted in this case, under strict rules, to maintain the price while the distribution is being effected. Perhaps you have in mind the fact that buying and selling orders in a particular issue are handled by the broker who is the "specialist" for that stock. The specialist acts merely as a broker.

We are interested in contacting manufacturers that had an established product before the war that still has good market possibilities that we could distribute.

We are making plans for post-war reconversion and are anxious to secure a good product that would fit in a well-equipped plant which is set up for handling metal products.

GROUPS GIVEN RIGHT OF WAY IN LABOR PACTS

Private Bargain 2d, High Court Rules.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 28 (AP).—Individual contracts between an employer and an employe cannot be used under any circumstance to forestall collective bargaining or limit the terms of a collective bargaining agreement, the Supreme court ruled today.

The court said, however, that this ruling does not prevent individual employes and employers from making employment contracts. But in no case, the court asserted, should the individual agreement subtract from the collective contract, be inconsistent with it or constitute an unfair labor practice under the national labor relations act.

Private Pacts Must Yield.

"Wherever private contracts conflict with the functions of the national labor relations act, they obviously must yield or the act would be reduced to a futility," said the 8 to 1 opinion written by Justice Jackson.

The decision upheld a national labor relations board order directing the J. I. Case company of Rock Island, Ill., to bargain with the CIO International Union of Automobile, Aircraft, and Agricultural Workers. Justice Roberts favored reversal, but did not write a dissenting opinion.

The court applied generally the same ruling in granting additional compensation which 344 express agents on the Seaboard Airline railroad sought from the Railway Express agency. The Order of Railway Telegraphers had sued to enforce an award for compensation under a 1917 collective bargaining contract.

Appeals Court Reversed.

In a 6 to 2 decision written by Justice Reed, the court also decided in effect in favor of milk producers who complained about a department of agriculture order permitting milk coöperatives to charge them for their marketing services. The high court set aside a District of Columbia Court of Appeals decision which had dismissed the producers' challenge of the department order. Justices Black and Frankfurter dissented. The order in question applied to the greater Boston marketing area. Delbert O. Stark and four other producers questioned its validity.

The court of appeals said the producers had no legal ground to institute proceedings but of this the Supreme court said the issue was one of statutory power to make the deduction required by order, under authority of the agricultural marketing agreement act. Thus a mere hearing or opportunity to vote could not protect minority producers against unlawful exactions which might be voted upon them by minorities.

OPA Request Not Mandatory.

In another decision affecting a government agency, the court ruled that an injunction prohibiting a merchant from future violations of OPA regulations need not be issued simply because the price administrator asked for it.

The unanimous opinion written by Justice Douglas set aside a decision of the District of Columbia Circuit Court of Appeals that the emergency price control act makes such an injunction mandatory when requested on the basis of past violations. Specifically, the decision applied to the Hecht company, a Washington, D. C., department store.

GRAINS ADVANCE, LED BY RYE GAIN UP TO 1½ CENTS

Grain prices strengthened yesterday on the Chicago Board of Trade. Rye led the advance and closed at gains of 1⅛ to 1½ cents a bushel. Wheat was ¼ to ¾ cent higher. Oats gained ⅜ to ⅝ cent, with May selling at 80⅜ cents at one time. Trading in barley was limited, but the close was ¾ to 1 cent higher.

Buying of rye was headed by professional traders and shorts, altho commission houses gave good support at times. The upturn in wheat was checked by profit taking sales of May at $1.71.

An advance of 2½ cents a bushel in the March subsidy on wheat, except on the Pacific coast, came as a surprise, little change having been expected. The subsidy increase, equal to about 11¼ cents a barrel on flour, failed to bring aggressive buying of flour.

Steel Output Estimated at Slightly Lower Level

New York, Feb. 28 (AP).—The American Iron and Steel institute estimated today steel mills would operate this week at 97.5 per cent of capacity. Last week operations were at 97.7 per cent.

4.7 BILLION TREASURY REFUNDING PLANNED; 7 ISSUES IN OFFERING

Washington, D. C., Feb. 28 (AP).—The treasury department announced plans today to refund 4 billion 730 million dollars of securities in an exchange offering to be made formally on March 2.

Three treasury and four corporate issues are involved in the refunding operation. The type of securities to be offered in exchange will not be announced until Thursday.

Three and one quarter per cent Federal Farm Mortgage corporation bonds of 1944-'64, 95 millions.

One per cent Reconstruction Finance notes of series W, April 15, 571 millions.

Three per cent Home Owners Loan corporation bonds, series A, 1944-'52, May 1, 779 millions.

TIGHTER RATION CONTROLS PUT ON NEW AUTOS

Washington, D. C., Feb. 28 (AP).—Tightened controls over the rationing of new passenger cars were announced by the OPA today, but the number alloted for sale to civilians in March, 10,000 vehicles, was the same as in February.

OPA directed that its district offices in each state, instead of the local rationing boards, issue all ration certificates for new cars hereafter. As in the past applications will be taken by the local boards, but they will forward them to the district office. There will be no county quotas.

OPA revised its rules covering sales of used 1942 passenger cars to provide for freer distribution. Any eligible person who has located a used 1942 automobile for sale automatically will get a certificate from his local ration board.

Trustees Sell 2 Story Loop Store Building

The Washington Dearborn corporation has acquired, thru Baird & Warner, the property at 36-44 N. Dearborn st., from the New England Trust company of Boston and Orrian G. Wood, trustees for the estate of Arthur C. Thomson, Percy Wilson, president of the corporation, announced yesterday. The property has a frontage of 90 feet on Dearborn and 40 feet on Washington. It contains a 2 story and basement store and office building.

Army Returns 10 Textile Mills to Managements

Fall River, Mass., Feb. 28 (AP).—Ten Fall River textile mills, which were taken over by the army on Presidential order Feb. 7 as a result of labor disturbances, were turned back to civilian management at noon today, Col. Curtis G. Pratt, war department representative, announced.

STOCK MARKET SWINGS HIGHER IN QUIET TRADE

New York, Feb. 28 (AP).—Buying remained selective in today's stock market and, with scattered rails, sugars, and specialties giving a good account of themselves, prices closed higher.

The congressional revolt still was a bullish influence and, with corporations now able to figure taxes for 1944, investment buying appeared for issues with good earnings and dividend prospects.

A membership in the New York Stock exchange sold for $50,000, an increase of $1,000 over the last sale, and equalling the highest price since May 14, 1940.

BONDS CLOSE MIXED.

New York, Feb. 28 (AP).—Rails and utilities advanced in today's bond market while other groups loafed in a narrow range with main trends cloudy. The Associated Press average of 20 rails edged into a new high since 1937 at 86.0, but had its share of small losers.

CHICAGO LIST HIGHER.

Prices on the Chicago Stock exchange yesterday were higher on total transactions of 27,000 shares. Four issues closed at new 1943-'44 peaks. These were A. M. Castle, up ¼; Elgin Watch, up ½; Gillette Safety Razor, up ⅛, and La Salle Extension university, up ⅛.

RELAX FEDERAL OIL WELL CURBS IN ILLINOIS FIELD

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 28 (AP).—Relaxation of federal restrictions on Illinois oil well spacing and a prediction it would jump the state's daily output more than 18,000 barrels were announced today by state officials after a conference with federal petroleum agencies.

Director Medill of the state department of mines and minerals said that under federal modifications effective March 15 four sand wells will be permitted on each quarter-quarter section to the Aux Vases sand strata base regardless of depth instead of two sand wells below 2,500 feet. The order also will allow two instead of one lime well on each quarter-quarter section, or 40 acres, to the McClosky lime base.

Vote to Force U. S. Agencies to Justify Cost

Washington, D. C., Feb. 28 (AP).—A bill to curb Presidential powers by putting executive agencies out of business unless congress specifically grants them funds was approved unanimously by a senate appropriations subcommittee today.

The measure would prevent the executive branch from transferring any federal funds to such agencies after they had been in existence one year or more.

Its effect would be to cut off the funds of year old executive agencies unless they came to congress and succeeded in getting a direct appropriation. It would be effective July 1.

FEPC Affested by Bill.

Sen. Russell [D., Ga.], sponsor of the legislation offered as an amendment to the pending 8½ billion dollar independent offices appropriation bill, said the President's fair employment practices committee is one agency that would be affected.

However, a statement issued at FEPC said that two months ago FEPC asked the bureau of the budget to approve its request for an appropriation — understood to exceed $500,000—which would go before congress for legislative action.

This appropriation would be for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1944. By that time FEPC will have used about $600,000 in special Presidential funds spread over the three years of its existence.

It was created by the President June 25, 1941, and charged with preventing racial discrimination in war jobs.

Now Being Investigated.

A special house committee now is investigating the committee's order to southern railroads forbidding discrimination against Negroes in the hiring and promotion of workers. The railroads challenged the FEPC order on the ground the agency was without any legal authority.

Russell, denying that his amendment was aimed entirely at the FEPC, said it was intended "to stop the executive department from legislating." He said he inserted the 12 month provision in order not to prevent the President from setting up war emergency agencies as they may be needed.

National Banks' Assets Show Drop Since Oct. 18

Washington, D. C., Feb 28 (AP).—Assets of national banks totalled 64 billion 532 million dollars at the year's end and were 9 billion 751 million higher than a year earlier, but 1 billion 625 million under the figure on Oct. 18, date of the last previous call, Preston Delano, controler of the currency, said tonight. Officials ascribed the decline since October to the fact that government deposits were being withdrawn faster than individuals were depositing money to their own accounts.

RAIL TAX LOAD TOO VAST, SAYS PENNSY CHIEF

Future Threatened, Clement Warns.

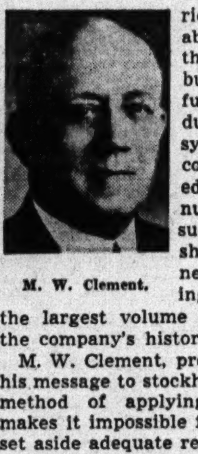
Excess profits taxes in the form levied against the railroads not only deprive the carriers of a reasonable return on their investment, but menace the future of the industry, the Pennsylvania Railroad company asserted in its 97th annual report issued yesterday. It showed reduced net income during 1943 despite the largest volume of business in the company's history.



M. W. Clement.

M. W. Clement, president, said in his message to stockholders that the method of applying these taxes makes it impossible for railroads to set aside adequate reserves to cover accumulating deferred maintenance and obsolescence and provide for post-war rehabilitation of their properties.

Drops to 85.4 Millions.

The company's profit during the year was the same as shown in a preliminary statement, $85,418,484, equal to $6.49 a share, compared with $101,468,792, or $7.71 a share, during 1942. Operating revenues totaled $979,773,155, an increase of $141,298,532 above 1942.

The Pennsylvania's taxes last year, $180,405,491, an increase of $55,826,689, amounted to 18.4 cents of each dollar of operating revenue and were equivalent to 27.4 per cent, or $13.72 a share, on $50 par value stock.

"The railroads have not been, like other industries, in a position to carry adequate charges for depreciation and obsolescence amortization, and income which should properly be charged off for these purposes is subject to the excess profits tax," Clement said.

Termed Only Reasonable Return.

"Thus the railroads find a large part of what is, in fact, no more than a reasonable return on their investment treated as excess profits and subjected to an enormous excess profits tax, where in fact no excess profits exist."

He said the effect was to prevent railroads "from laying aside out of current earnings the reserves needed for future expenditures which are being made inevitable by war time conditions and the pressure of war time traffic."

The report urged amendment of the tax laws to permit creation of reserves for post-war rehabilitation, with resulting larger employment.

Wage increases last year will increase Pennsy's expenses 45 million dollars annually, the report said.

Hibbard, Spencer Fiscal Year Earnings Dip as Sales Slump

Hibbard, Spencer, Bartlett & Co.'s profit during the fiscal year ended Jan. 31 decreased to $572,048, equal to $3.01 a share, from $713,818, or $3.63 a share, in the preceding year, the company disclosed yesterday in its annual report. A decrease of 14.4 per cent in sales was attributed by the company to shortages of merchandise and lack of man power.

Inventory amounting to $2,213,240 on Jan. 31 was more than a third less than a year earlier and 1 million dollars less than the normal amount, C. J. Whipple, president, said. He asserted the company's unwillingness to carry large stocks of goods made of substitute materials was the major cause of the decline, and said the company has experienced no easing in the shortage of civilian supplies.

U. S. Rental Leaves Profit.

The rent received from the company's main building, 211 E. North Water st., occupied by the army air forces, after taxes, depreciation, and rent paid for temporary quarters leaves "a substantial balance," the report said. Test retail stores established by the company, including a new one in Skokie, are supplying valuable information, particularly in connection with post-war plans, and are being operated at a profit, it said.

NEW HOTEL FIRM WILL TAKE OVER LOTT PROPERTY

Three north side hotels, the Belden-Stratford, the Webster, and the Parkway, after nearly 16 years of receivership, will pass into the ownership of a new company, the Lott Hotel company, 105 S. La Salle st., at the close of business today.

The Lott Hotel company is successor to Lott Hotels, Inc. Byron A. Cain, trustee, was directed to transfer the properties and assets in an order issued by Federal District Judge Sullivan yesterday.

The three hotels cost $8,313,312 to build and $900,000 to equip. They were appraised at 10½ million when a receiver was appointed in 1928. The value of the property was estimated last year at 1½ to 2 million.

STEEL INDUSTRY PAYS LION'S SHARE IN WAR EXPANSION PROGRAM

New York, Feb. 28 (AP).—The steel industry put up more money than the government did in financing the 2 billion dollar emergency war time steel expansion program started in 1940, the American Iron & Steel institute said today.

In the three year period steel companies have spent, or will spend, 1 billion 151 million dollars in developing new ore mines, building new blast and steel furnaces, and installing other new equipment. In the same months, the government spent 1 billion 63 million dollars for the same purposes.

Annenberg Publishing Group Sells Ohio Daily

Philadelphia, Pa., Feb. 28 (AP).—Walter H. Annenberg, president of Triangle Publications, Inc., announced today the sale of the Massillon [O.] Evening Independent to Earl J. Jones Enterprises, Inc., publisher of the Zanesville [O.] News. The purchase price was "approximately $400,000."

FORECAST NEW WPB UNIT FOR SHIFT TO PEACE

Nelson Is Expected to Head Group.

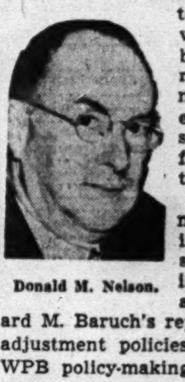
Washington, D. C., Feb. 28 (AP).—Chairman Nelson is expected shortly to set up in the war production board a new committee, which he may head, to govern the reconversion of industry from war to peace time production.



Donald M. Nelson.

This prediction, made tonight by informed WPB sources, followed issuance of an appendix to Bernard M. Baruch's report on post-war adjustment policies, recommending WPB policy-making authority over what war contracts should be canceled and what civilian goods should be restored as war needs taper off.

Clear Road for WPB.

The new appendix apparently clinched for WPB the guiding role in the industrial phase of the economic reallignment.

Nelson several months ago made it clear he would resign as WPB chief if some other agency were designated or set up over WPB to manage the reconversion job.

Production officials have observed that the Baruch report left many major issues unsettled. Presumably, the new committee would make the decisions.

Main Issues Listed.

Some of the most controversial issues include: Whether new firms should be allowed to enter immediate post-war competition with old ones in the field; which of the major consumer goods industries should be released first, and whether part of an industry should be allowed to reconvert, altho the rest of the industry is held to the completion of war contracts.

The appendix to the Baruch report specifically assigns to WPB the authority "to decide what civilian production and employment is to be resumed as war needs slacken"; to lay down the policies guiding the choices for canceling contracts for war goods no longer needed, and to "guide the shifting of contracts" to make use of plants and man power freed from war production.

You can forget

THE efficient management of securities not only requires a constant vigilance which few owners have the time to provide, but broad fact-finding facilities which are at the disposal of few individuals. For these reasons many people have turned to a Northern Trust Agency Arrangement.

This service permits you to retain full control of your investments. But it relieves you entirely of such troubles as the safekeeping and physical care of your securities, cutting coupons, collecting interest, dividends and other income, watching for expiring exchange and conversion privileges or rights.

An Agency Account at this bank can be made even more comprehensive, if you wish, to include investment analysis and advice.

Preparation of tax returns made easier

You may arrange to have us provide you with statements of income, properly classified, together with a record of all sales and purchases showing capital gains and losses. An especially helpful part of our Agency Service is this assistance to you in the preparation of your tax returns.

The cost of our Agency Service is very moderate and is a deductible expense item on your income tax return insofar as it applies to taxable income. We would be glad to explain how an Agency Account here can help you. Drop in—or write or phone for our descriptive booklet on Agency Service.

APPROVE USING OLD QUARRY AS GARBAGE DUMP

A committee of 26 aldermen, headed by James R. Quinn [50th], yesterday inspected the big abandoned quarry at the bridewell and approved its use by Lloyd M. Johnson, commissioner of streets and electricity, as a garbage dump.

Johnson started using the quarry 10 days ago and has now installed electric lights so it can be used by both day and night shifts. He said about 750 cubic yards of refuse a day from the 11th, 12th, 25th, 27th, and 28th wards were being dumped into the quarry and that eventually it would receive about 2,000 cubic yards daily. He estimated its use would save the city about 25 cents a yard at the average costs for disposal at private dumps and loading stations.

CHICAGOLAND BIRDS OF EARLY SPRING

Robins. Best known perhaps of all our early birds are the robins. They build their nests in trees, preferably in the proximity of human habitations. At left, adult male; center adult female; at right, bird in juvenal plumage.
